Elisa Must Go.
European Pants News.
Meden Agan.
Sore Labour's Bath.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

YOU can't fool with this powerful nation, and Elisa Valerie will soon know it.

Elisa is 15 months old. Her mother died in the hospital at Ellis Island, and the baby, "an indigent immigrant," will be shipped back to Portugal.

WHAT will become of her when she gets over there? Who will look after her on the big ship Presidente Wilson?

That's Elisa's business. She shouldn't have come here with her mother, who died in the shadow of the Statue of Liberty.

THE latest news from Europe is that Gen. Dawes, having startled Britain by saying "Only water in my embassy," startles the natives again with, "I won't wear knee pants" to court or anywhere else.

OUR sturdy American by "pants" means breeches, the kind that all ambassadors wear when they see the King.

Dawes says, "You will see me in my long pants, or not at all."

That's true democracy, and besides a corncob pipe and satin "knee pants" with silk stockings don't go well together.

THE American tobacco industry produced more than 11,000,000,000 cigarets in May.

Some were toasted, some hadn't a cough in a carload, some "satisfied," but all, as youth and old age should remember, can be overdone.

AHMED ZOGU, who recently made himself king of Albania, was proud of his ability to smoke 150 cigarets a day. Now he isn't smoking. Throat trouble has made him dumb; he can't speak. Doctors tell him he probably has cancer from smoke irritation.

MILD smoking, according to the medical profession, does no harm.

But remember the warning above the Greek temple, Meden Agan, "shun excess."

IF YOU have sound sleep, don't envy any man his millions.

An American, very rich, knighted by King George because of the American money he spent in London, was taken to a hospital, suffering from insomnia.

In the morning he was found dead, clutching a piece of paper on which he had written that, as sleep was impossible, he could endure life no longer. He had poisoned himself.

A MAJORITY of us go through life not appreciating our greatest blessings, especially the "Sleep that knits up the ravell'd sleave of care,

The death of each day's life, sore labour's bath,
Balm of hurt minds, great nature's second course,
Chief nourisher in life's feast."

Until sleep goes, you do not know life's greatest physical misfortune.

HAROLD F. M'CORMICK, rich Chicagoan, welcomes his daughter, returning from abroad with her Swiss husband and two fine children, and welcomes, warmly and wisely, his Swiss son-in-law.

THOSE half Swiss children, whose grandfather represents the harvester trust, and whose great-grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, knows something about oil, are to be congratulated on the acquisition of good Swiss blood.

It will mix well with their other inheritance and should be a considerable improvement on the blood of some native-born young gentlemen whose specialty is shaking up cocktails and smoking cigarets.

EVERY year two thousand million American eggs are confided to hens and incubators. Every year 800,000,000 of them don't hatch.

Much lost possible wealth, at least $200,000,000, at 25 cents per chick.

The Department of Agriculture owns one hen, laying eggs of which 90 per cent hatch, and she transmits her qualities to daughters and granddaughters.

This interests millions of women in the United States.

THE government has thrown open to settlement government lands formerly covered by the Mississippi River. Wonderful lands these are, low, level, deep, heavy black loam.

AS THE "wind bloweth where it listeth," so the Mississippi flows where it listeth, covering and uncovering land, washing millions of cubic yards of fertile soil into the Gulf of Mexico.

When will man's intelligence control "Old Man River" and make him an obedient part of the national machine?

President Hoover, whose business is engineering, will attend to that, was "cut out" for that job.

HAWKS PASSES AIRPORT AT ST. LOUIS

Coast-to-Coast Aviator Attempting to Break Record; Jensen and Wife Flying

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—(AP.)—George S. Manning, ground school instrutcor at Parks Airport, East St. Louis, reported he sighted an airplane of the type being flown by Capt. Frank M. Hawks on his attempted cross-country round trip flight, at an altitude of about 3,000 feet over St. Louis at 10 a. m.

Hawks took off at 5:12 a. m. today from Roosevelt Field, New York, and was expected to fly low over Parks Airport to obtain weather signals. Observers at the airport said he probably changed his mind about flying over the airport because wind conditions at the higher altitude were favorable for fast flying.

SEEKS NEW RECORD

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June 27.—(INS.)—Capt. Frank M. Hawks took off here at 5:12:51 a. m., daylight saving time, today in an effort to break the speed record from the East to the West Coast and also his own Weset to East record.

He hopes to make only one stop, in Los Angeles, and that only long enough to refuel.

His Lockheed air express, a cabin monoplane, ran about 2,000 feet down the runway before it took to the air. Then it climbed steadily to an altitude of about 1,500 feet, and headed dead west.

About 150 persons, including the flier's wife, were at the field.

At the last minute Hawks decided to dump some of his gasoline, fearing that the 615 gallons would make the plane tail-heavy. He took only 550 gallons. Even this is 75 gallons more than he used on his record-breaking trip from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast, which he made in 18 hours and 22 minutes.

JENSEN REFUELS TWICE

Two refuelings were accomplished without incident today for the endurance plane in which Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jensen and William Ulrich are attempting to establish a new record for sustained flight. They began their long grind at 7:32 o'clock last night.

In the first contact with the refuelling ship 96 gallons were poured through a dangling hose into the tanks of the Jensen ship but the endurance fliers dropped a note that they needed more to take them through the day.

Another 80 gallons was transferred shortly after noon, Jencen at that time time circling over the ocean off Freeport, Long Island. A day's supply of food was also lowered to the endurance fliers in a basket from the refuelling ship.

BOBBY JONES' 69 SETS PACE IN OPEN

Johnny Farrell Loses Chance Of Keeping Title Another Year by Registering 84

WINGED FOOT CLUB, MAMARONECK, N. Y., June 27.—(AP.)—Finishing the last nine holes with an amazing 31, three under par, Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, the tournament favorite, took a commanding lead today in the first 18 holes of the nationa lopen golf championship by scoring a 69, three under par, for the rugged Winged Foot course.

HAS SHAKY START

After a shaky start, in which he dropped four strokes to par on the first three holes, Bobby Jones rallied to finish the first nine holes of his opening venture in 38, two over par.

The collapse of Johnny Farrell, the defending champion, on his outgoing nine furnished a big sensation. The Quaker Ridge star, in trouble from the start, took a weird 46, exactly 10 strokes under par, as he virtually put an end to any hopes of repeating his victory of 1928 by coming home in 38, for an 84.

Charles Hilgendorf, of Grosse Pint, Shires, Mich., sprang a big surprise by finishing in par figures, 72. He went out in 35 and came home in 37. His card:

Par out .....443 454 345—36
Hilgendorf out 444 553 345—37
Par in .....345 344 544—36—72

MEINE TO FACE REDS TODAY

Revenge will be the objective of the Pittsburgh Pirates this afternoon when they meet the Cincinnati Reds in the second clash of their five-game series at Forbes Field.

Manager Donie Bush announced this morning that Heine Meine will hurl for the Pirates, while Ray Kolp is scheduled to work for the Reds.

The Pirates dropped the opening battle to the Reds yesterday, 6 to 4, the visitors rallying in the sixth to score five runs. Remy Kremer was driven from the mound in this frame, Swetonic and Hill finishing the game.

Burleigh Grimes, who was unable to pitch the opener due to an injured hip, will go after his twelfth victory of the season against the Reds tomorrow.

MOTHER'S TENDERNESS FOR RECOVERED SON, 4

Mrs. George Kretz, 209 Anderson street, North Side, lovingly caring for her son, Harry, 4, ill today in their home.

Lad Put Under Doctor's Care On Return Home, Ill Of Tonsilitis

Four-year-old Harry Kretz, kidnaped from his North Side home at 209 Anderson street on Monday and abandoned in West Virginia, was back in his home today under a doctor's care.

Harry was ill of tonsilitis and had a fever, his mother, Mrs. George Kretz, reported. It was felt that he suffered from exposure on the auto ride from Benwood, where he was abandoned, to Pittsburgh, which ended early today. He refused food, his mother said.

MOTHER JOYOUS

The child's illness tempered somewhat his mother's joy at his recovery, but there was obvious relief written in the tired lines of her face after three days of worry.

"My child wasn't able to make clear where the man kidnaped him," Mrs. Kretz said. "He did say he was taken away in an automobile. The man made him lie down in the auto so nobody would see him and every time Harry would try to get up the man pushed him back. My boy's legs are bruised from the pushing.

"Harry said he was taken to three or four places and left by the kidnaper, but he was too young to know what towns he was left in. When I saw him in Benwood I was never more relieved in my life.

"My brother drove us back from Benwood and Harry tried to sleep on the way back. This morning he

POLITICAL DINNERS, GIFTS LISTED IN ACCOUNTS, CONTROLLER CHARGES

City Controller Henry Oliver Evans informed Council today that he had made an audit of transactions between the city and the American Reduction Company, and claimed that the city had been overcharged about $1,000,000 during the years 1921 to 1928, inclusive, for the collection and disposa lof garbage under the cost-plus system.

Evans explained he had tried without success to reach a settlement with the company on the items he believed were not properly charged to operating costs.

ITEMS UNDER FIRE

Items that Evans considered not properly charged to operating costs were:

Donations, $12,000, including cost of tickets for dinners to politicians, a box for baseball games at Forbes Field, a box for football games at Pitt Stadium, tickets for police benefits and picnics, and Christmas cigars.

Advertising in programs and publications of numerous organizations, $11,000.

Radio set for an officer of the company, $135.

Initiation fee, dues and tax for the membership of a company executive in the Duquesne Club.

Plant replacements, $276,456.

Rent, $148,999.

The club membership was that of William F. Hill, president of the company.

Other of the larger items to be arbitrated are factory incidental experiment, $52,691; investigations, $27,217; salary of an executive for four years, $93,000; equipment, $44,143.

The Controller said he had agreed with the company, subject to Council's concurrence, to submit the entire account for the period in which the cost-plus contract was in effect to arbitration.

Later today Council adopted R. J. Alderdice's motion asking Controller Evans to present legislation at a special meeting at 10 a. m. Saturday that will authorize him to continue the audit and to select a judge of Common Pleas Court to arbitrate the $1,000,000 claim.

CLAIMS CONTRACT EVADED

The city contract with the company provided for the payment of a unit price per ton for the collection and disposal of garbage and stipulated that the company was

DREW PROPOSES TRIAL SPEED

Two additional judges for work in Criminal Court of Allegheny county, and an anti-pigeonholing law making it mandatory to list all cases for trial within six months after indictments have been returned, are advocated by Judge James B. Drew in a report today on how more than a year's back work has been caught up in Criminal Court during the past 10 months.

District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner answered both propositions with the statement that because of the court work being brought up to date, they will be unnecessary.

OPINIONS DIFFER

Four local judges can handle the court work after the first fall rush is over, and the jail cases piling up during the summer recess disposed of, he says. Two visiting judges might be used to help out during the fall months.

As to the delay in listing cases for trial, he says if the court continues to keep caught up this will not be necessary.

Judge Drew issued his statement in a report to President Judge John A. Evans, who had assigned him to

Texas Politician Faces Senate Quiz

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 27.—(INS.)—Eugene Nolte, Republican state chairman, was under subpena to appear before the Senate Patronage Committee, headed by Senator Smith W. Brookhart, when it opens its Texas investigation here today. Chief interest centers in the possible appearance before the committee of R. B. Creager, Texas Republican leader, with whom Brookhart engaged in many heated clashes at the patronage hearing in Washington.

Steam Shovel Scoop Falls, Hurting Man

When a steam shovel cable he was repairing snapped, Patrick Walsh, 46, of 806 Galveston avenue, was caught under the shovel as it fell at Davis and Harbison avenues today. Pedestrians ran to his aid and lifted the heavy scoop. He was taken to St. John's Hospital, where it was said he was suffering from a broken left leg and body bruises.

Roundup of Aliens Continued in Ohio

MARTINS FERRY, O., June 27.—(AP.)—Three federal immigration inspectors today continued their roundup here of aliens, said to have been smuggled into the country. They arrived last night. During the night they examined more than 50 persons, and three were found without papers. More than 100 were to be investigated today.

50 MERCHANTS IN FOOD NET

Approximately 50 merchants in the Pittsburgh district have been arrested and many more face prosecution, according to officials of the State Department of Food, for failing to comply with regulations having to do with the use of artificial coloring, it was revealed here today.

A dozen or more, it was disclosed, paid fines ranging from $50 to $100 and costs upon being served with summons for hearings before Alderman C. B. Quailey, of Forbes street.

Some of the merchants, according to officials of the state department, were found selling meats containing artificial coloring. Such meats consisted mainly, it is said, of sausages, ground meat and bologna.

In many other instances, it was pointed out, bakers were found using artificially colored jelly in baking goods such as jelly rolls, etc., without designating the use of the coloring matter on labels.

2 Americans Hurt In Mexican Wreck

MEXICO CITY, June 27.—(AP.)—A dispatch to El Universal from Tampico said 19 persons, including two Americans, were injured yesterday when the Tampico-Mexico City passenger train collided with a freight train six miles from Tampico. Meyer Katz, of St. Louis, general manager of La Imperial Oil Company, and Arthur McHall, address not given, were the Americans.

Columbia University Head Calls on Briand

PARIS, June 27.—(AP.)—Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and widely known for his advocacy of international understanding, called on Foreign Minister Briand this morning. He explained that it was just a "friendly visit."

Liquor Secreted In Wrecked Sedan

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 27.—(AP.)—Ten quarts of bonded Canadian liquor were found by state police in the false bottom of an expensive sedan which was wrecked near Liverpool on the Susquehanna trail. The machine bore a New Jersey license and the seats and sides had been torn away, indicating that liquor had been hidden behind them also, the state police said. The officers estimated that the car was equipped to carry 200 quarts of liquor in this manner.

"Southern Cross" Off On 1,600-Mile Hop

SYDNEY, N. S. W., June 27.—(AP.)—Capt. Charles Kingsford Smith and his three companions, took off in the Southern Cross from Derby, Western Australia, today for Singapore, Straits Settlement, enroute to England. The distance is about 1,650 miles, over the Indian Ocean, Java, and the Java Sea.

Atwater Kent's Yacht Destroyed by Fire

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 27.—(INS.)—The $20,000 auxiliary yacht, Areletha, property of A. Atwater Kent, Jr., son of the millionaire radio manufacturer, was a mass of wreckage today following a fire that burned the craft to the water's edge. Young Kent, with two members of his crew, were rescued by coast guardsmen.

Peggy O'Neill Loses $10,000 in Gem Theft

LONDON, June 27.—(INS.)—Scotland Yard operatives were called in today to investigate the theft of $10,000 worth of jewels from the London apartment of Peggy O'Neill, actress.

Extra! Dry Agents Nab Horse and Feed It Mash

What to do with "Dora," a horse confiscated in the Hill district last night, is puzzling prohibition authorities.

George Lowe, a Negro, of 1604 Clark street, owner of "Dora," was held for Federal Court today on a charge of violating the liquor laws, after a hearing before a United States commissioner. He was arrested while removing two five-gallon cans of moonshine from a wagon, it was testified.

Prohibition regulations make no provision for disposing of seized horses, it was pointed out. The only provender at the Allen warehouse, where the horse is being kept, is mash.

Trotsky Barred From England, Paper Says

LONDON, June 27.—(INS.)—The Labor cabinet has decided not to permit Leon Trotsky, exiled Russian Bolshevist leader, to enter England, the Daily Herald, semi-official Labor organ, stated today. The cabinet's refusal, it was said, was based upon the fear that Trotsky's admission might prejudice negotiations for resumption of diplomatic relations between the British and Soviet governments.

Search for Dole Race Plane Futile

HONOLULU, June 27.—(AP.)—All 11 Army planes returned here yesterday after a 10-day search of the Island of Hawaii in the vicinity of the volcanic peak Mauna Loa for wreckage of Jack Frost's plane, the Golden Eagle, which disappeared during the Dole flight in 1927, without a definite clue. Ezra Frost, who came here several weeks ago from his home at Pelham Manor, N. Y., and enlisted the Army's aid in the search, reiterated his belief that his brother and Gordon Scott, navigator of the Golden Eagle, were lost at sea.

Religious Services In Mexico Resumed

MEXICO CITY, June 27.—(INS.)—Religious services were resumed in the Roman Catholic churches of Mexico City today, marking the first such services held in two years and 11 months. The resumption completed the closing of the breach between church and state which occurred in July, 1926.

Fordham Registers Far-Off Earthquake

NEW YORK, June 27.—(INS.)—Scientists at Fordham University reported today a severe earthquake, 6,300 miles from New York in an undetermined direction, had been registered by their seismographs. The quake began at 9:01 a. m., and reached its maximum intensity at 9:43.

Romance With Prince All Off, Says Mrs. Corey

PARIS, June 27.—(AP.)—A formal statement today by Mrs. Mabelle Gilman Corey, divorced wife of the Pittsburgh steel magnate, said her engagement to Prince Luis de Bourbon, cousin of the King of Spain, was "absolutely finished."

Her statement said:

"The entire press will unanimously agree that I never have sought publicity. As it is in the past, so it is today. People know more about my private affairs than I do myself.

"I wish to state that my engagement with His Royal Highness Don Luis Ferdinand Marie Sacarias Bourbon is absolutely finished and I have nothing more to say on this subject and I wish people would cease speaking and writing to me on this subject."

The Prince's dissatisfaction with the details of the marriage settlement which the former Broadway beauty was willing to make with him were understood to be behind the rupture in their romance.

Walker's Daughter Gets $4,000,000 Estate

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—Mrs. Lillian Ingham Walker Baker, daughter of the late William Walker, of Pittsburgh, receives the $4,000,000 estate of her husband, Dr. George Fales Baker, financier, by his will which was probated today.

Dr. Baker suggests in his will that his wife make contributions to University of Pennsylvania, College of Physicians, and Pennsylvania Hospital.

Mrs. Lillian Ingham Walker Baker was a daughter of the late William Walker, one of the founders of the W. & H. Walker Co., manufacturers of soap products here.

She was born in old Allegheny and has been living in the East more than 30 years since her marriage to Dr. George Fales Baker.

BAR ASSOCIATION JOINS JURISTS IN WAR AGAINST CRIME

DRIVE AIMS AT QUICK JUSTICE

Campaign Against Law Delays Spurred—Bar Honors Von Moschzisker

By HOWARD CASSIDY, Staff Correspondent.

BEDFORD SPRINGS, Pa., June 27.—The Pennsylvania Bar Association is marshaling its forces throughout the state under leadership of Pennsylvania judges in a relentless warfare on crime and to remove the "law's delays."

Midway through the thirty-fifth annual bar conference, its greatest, the outstanding occupation of leaders of the bar from the 67 counties of the state is a pledge of solid support of the important movement initiated in April, 1928, by the judiciary, aroused by the spread of lawlessness.

Attorney General Cyrus E. Woods, former ambassador to Japan, paying high tribute to Chief Justice Robert Von Moschzisker, of the State Supreme Court at a dinner last night to honor the jurist's 25 years on the bench, sounded the keynote of the endeavor of the bar. He said:

HELD HIGHEST DUTY

"Our whole land in the past decade has reeked with crime. Whatever the cause, the fact remains. Thus it is now the highest duty of the bar and bench to exert every possible resource to banish the criminals and to restore our country to its normal condition. And no judge here, or elsewhere, has more courageously met this most serious of all legal problems than our own distinguished chief justice. He has stepped forward boldly with a double proposition. It is his aim to make it easier and speedier to get crooks out of courts and into prisons and at the same time harder for crooked lawyers to appear in any court of justice. This is a vital program.

"The trouble is to put a halter upon wrong and to prevent right from being bullied and bludgeoned. The chief justice wisely and courageously set the seal of our highest court's approval upon this plan for speedier trials and surer justice. Legal loopholes are ever the game for which smart lawyers go gunning. So it is highly fitting and proper for the Pennsylvania bar to honor the judge who is willing to stand against the maze of flimsy technicalities in our courts. Speaking for the bar of Pennsylvaniaa, with all its vast tradition and its great history, I urge that we heartily join in that adventure and strive to sweep those crooks at the dock into prisons and sweep those crooks at the bar out of our court rooms."

PEPPER JOINS DRIVE

Former United States Senator George Wharton Pepper, former Attorney-General Francis Shunk Brown, Judge Frank M. Trexler, of the Superior Court, and Judge William H. Kirkpatrick, of the United States Court, at Philadelphia, speaking at the dinner, joined in the ardent tribute and the call to arms.

The design of the judiciary, perfecting a permanent organization at its second annual conference earlier in the week, is the preparation of necessary legislation to curb crime and promote justice in the civil courts for the 1931 Legislature, about the time when President Hoover's commission completes its work.

Study of substantial changes required and pressure of public opinion on the lawmakers are the plans of procedure. The light of publicity for the education of the public was sought in an appeal yesterday by George J. Campbell, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the publicity committee. Appealing for the aid of the press, he declared, "if this movement is to succeed the newspapers must earnestly support these reforms."

Strength is lent to the State Bar Association in its support of the judiciary by the impending affiliation with the association of 49 local bar associations of the state.

COMB 2 CITIES FOR RACKETEER MURDERERS

Sleuths in Boston Seeking Man Who May Be Able to Tell Who Slew Marlow

By DAVID P. SENTNER, International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Apprehension of two 'friends' of Frank Marlow who lured the Broadway racketeer to his death on a lonely Long Island road on Monday evening appeared imminent today as detectives here and in Boston threaded their way through a maze of clues.

While Police Commissioner Grover Whalen announced here that he knew the identity of the two men, New York detectives were in Boston seeking the man or men believed to hold the key to the slaying.

Detectives sent to Boston with a warrant charging "John Doe" with the murder were on the trail of several persons.

ONE ACQUITTED OF MURDER

One is Michael Rocco, Boston gangster, known as "Mickey the Wise Guy," who last year was acquitted of a murder in South Boston as a result of an alcohol war there.

Police believe Marlow was slain because he attempted to horn in on either the alcohol or prize fight racket in Boston, and they think that "Mickey the Wise Guy" may be able to tell them what enemies Marlow made by his intrusion into Massachusetts territory.

Johnnie Wilson, whose real name is John Panica, former middleweight boxing champion, once under the management of Marlow, Bronx and Harlem "slot machine" mogul, owner of "a piece" of the Silver Slipper, when taken into custody denied to Commissioner Whalen that he ever had been arrested before.

A detective brought up and showed him his picture from the rogues' gallery, and Wilson then admitted he had been convicted of burglary 17 years ago.

DANCER INVOLVED

Others held for questioning were:

Mary (Mickey of the Rendezvous") Seiden, gay little dancer and night club butterfly, who waved a last goodby to Marlow an instant before he entered the death car.

Al Siegel, sheiklike Coney Island dancer, with long raven "sideburns" on his pallid cheeks, a former dance director for Ziegfeld.

Ignatius Coppa, erstwhile bodyguard of Marlow and proprietor of La Tavernette, the West Fifty-second street "hideout," where Marlow had his last meal.

Last evening and early today, the 60 detectives working on the case here, conducted a general round-up of Broadwayites who had known Marlow.

His wife, Minnie Cutro, with whom he hasn't lived for eight years, grieves most of all. She has seen to the preparations for her husband's funeral.

$1,000 TO NURSE IN THAW CODICIL

The Mary Copley Thaw will, devising millions to charity, will be reopened to permit filing a codicil making a bequest of $1,000 to Miss Carrie McLean, a nurse.

A petition for reopening the will was filed in Orphans Court today by Attorney Miles R. England in behalf of P. S. Space and Howard Irish, executors of Mrs. Thaw's will. Judge Thomas P. Trimble referred the request to Register of Wills Joseph N. Mackrell. Mackrell said he would allow the codicil to be filed.

The bequest to Miss McLean was found in the files of Attorney James G. Marks, counsel for Mrs. Thaw, after her death, the petition sets forth.

NAVAL ARMS MEETING MAY BE ADVANCED

Present London Parley Likely to Lead to Early Decision by Sea Powers

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP.)—Informal conversations on naval disarmament now in progress in London may lead to a conference of the five leading sea powers well in advance of the meeting which is to be held in Washington early in 1931 under the terms of the Washington arms conference treaty.

While representatives of the British and American governments are taking the lead in these conversations, the other three nations—Japan, France and Italy—are being kept fully informed of the situation and their diplomatic representatives are participating to an extent.

While there is much ground to be covered before a disarmament conference can be held, President Hoover and other administration officials appear to be encouraged by the outlook.

MANY FACTORS

Many factors enter into the negotiations with the one foremost in the discussions now that of whether the reduction in naval armaments which is sought shall apply to cruisers alone, or to cruisers and battleships or to all classes of fighting ships, including destroyers and submarines.

It may be that in advance of a general conference in which the naval experts of the various governments would participate there will be a meeting of the diplomatic representatives at which an agreement would be sought on the precise classes of ships which would be affected and perhaps the tonnage limitations in each category.

Another important factor in the problem is that of determining a method for evaluating the relative fighting strength of ships within a given class.

SEVERAL PROPOSALS

There is also to be considered the proposal of the French government under which there could be an exchange of tonnage as between the different categories up to 20 per cent of the total tonnage in each category. That is, a signatory nation could use 20 per cent of its battleship tonnage for cruisers or submarines or destroyers or 20 per cent of the tonnage allotment for any one of these classes for another class which might better fit the peculiar needs of the nation.

Great Britain, t' United States and Japan have comparatively little interest in the question of land armaments.

TALK DISARMAMENT

LONDON, June 27.—(AP.)—Ambassador Charles G. Dawes and Ambassador Hugh Gibson discussed methods of approach on the naval disarmament problem with Premier Ramsay MacDonald on Tuesday, but reached no definite form, Ambassador Dawes announced this afternoon at a press conference.

Announcement regarding matters of procedure in attacking the naval problem must be made by those in authority in the countries concerned and not by ambassadors, who are merely agents, he said.

Brothers Preach Trial Sermons

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 27.—Two brothers, of Hickory, Charles C. Berryhill, Western Theological Seminary, and Marshall D. Berryhill, Chicago Theological Seminary, preached trial sermons before the Chartiers Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church at its regular summer meeting.

Charles is acting as assistant to the Rev. Hugh Thompson Kerr, of the Shadyside Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh.

Chicago Lauds Mrs. Hoover's De Priest Tea

CHICAGO, June 27.—(INS.)—The Chicago city council had on record here today a resolution, passed unanimously, which commended Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the President, for "true Americanism" in entertaining Mrs. Oscar De Priest, wife of the Negro representative of Congress.

"True Americanism makes no distinction among citizens because of their race, religion or color," the resolution, introduced by Alderman John Toman, read.

HURTLING OVER NATION

CAPT. FRANK HAWKS

Mrs. Hawks as she bid her husband, west-to-east transcontinental record-holder, farewell at Roosevelt Field. Today he is speeding across the nation in an attempt to set a new east-to-west record.

Two Families Each Have Four in Navy

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(A.P.)—William F. Speares, of Arkansas, has four sons in the Navy. So has Mrs. E. Woods, of Vallejo, Cal. Secretary Adams has noted the patriotic records in correspondence.

Capt. Hawks Own Story Flights for Records

By CAPT. FRANK HAWKS, Present Holder of West to East Airplane Speed Record.

(Copyright, 1929, by New York American, Inc., and Universal Service, Inc.)

NEW YORK, June 27.—My plan to establish a speed record from coast to coast and return has been a pet idea of mine ever since I set the present record from Los Angeles to Roosevelt Field last February.

When I started from the Metropolitan airport in Los Angeles that day I had no intention whatever of breaking the record that Art Goebel had previously set up for the coast-to-coast trip. I was at the time working for the Texas Oil Company, and business affairs necessitated my presence in New York City. I dreaded the ordeal of the long train trip, it being a matter of something like four days and five nights on the road.

Being a pilot, the idea occurred to me that I might make an arrangement with an airplane company and be delegated to deliver a ship to New York City for them. Luck was with me and I obtained a ship.

Before taking off it was decided that I try to make Roosevelt Field in New York City in one hop if possible, although a speed record was the thing farthest from my mind.

SETS NEW RECORD

I picked up Oscar Gurgg, a mechanic, on the field, and we started. We had a good strong tail wind all the way and did make a remarkable speed record. We managed to clip 39 minutes off the existing record.

This record of 18 hours and 18 minutes is a good one to shoot at, I feel, but being in an optimistic frame of mind just now, I am going to make a prediction. With my machine working as smoothly as it did on the recent flight from Los Angeles, and with favorable tail winds, I will skyrocket that record to where no one will touch it. I am not boasting, but I do know that old machine of mine, and it is the fastest commercial ship in the air. I made St. Louis, where I stopped over on Monday night, in 13 hours, bucking heavy head winds all the way. And I arrived at Roosevelt Field in 6½ hours after leaving St. Louis, and I had a leaky gas tank to complicate things.

I hope to make this round-trip coast-to-coast flight in 34 hours. I expect to get to Los Angeles in 18 hours. I am allowing two hours there for refueling and a check of the ship. It may take less time, or it may be a little longer. I hope to be able to make the return half of the trip from the coast to New York in 14 hours. This may appear to be a somewhat ambitious program, but that is exactly what I am going to attempt.

HAS ROUTE MAPPED

Now when the layman has it demonstrated to him that a man can start in a plane at daybreak one morning, go to the west coast and return by 2 o'clock the next afternoon, it is going to make him think that there is something to this airplane travel after all. His enthusiasm will increase by leaps and bounds. America will be the greatest air-minded nation in the world.

I have my route all mapped out. I accomplished that on my way East last Monday. I plan to follow the "Great Circle" route, which will take me over some of the principal cities of the United States.

I will cover exactly 2,503 miles one way, passing over Pittsburgh, Columbus, Indianapolis, Terre Haute, St. Louis, Wichita, Albuquerque, Flagstaff and then into Los Angeles and back by the same route. It probably will be my last attempt to establish a record. I have to settle down now and go to work. My plane is in good shape and I am having a radio installed to keep me informed of the weather conditions. All I want now is good flying weather.

MOVE BEGUN FOR FREEDOM OF THOUGHT

Denial of Citizenship to Yale Professor Arouses Liberals in Congress

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON, International News Service.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The denial of citizenship to Dr. Douglas C. MacIntosh, former Army chaplain and a professor at Yale Divinity School, coming on the heels of the Rosika Schwimmer case, today provoked a movement among Liberals in Congress to provide a guarantee for "freedom of thought" in the naturalization laws.

Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr. (Rep.), of Wisconsin, and Senator T. H. Caraway (Dem), of Arkansas, both declared the barring of Dr. MacIntosh would lead to a revision of the naturalization laws. They decried the exclusion from citizenship of persons opposed to war after Congress set an example by providing for "conscientious objectors" during the World War.

WOULD BAR SENATORS

LaFollette proposed that citizenship rights be taken from all Senators who ratified the Kellogg-Briand treaty renouncing war as a method of settling international disputes. Caraway suggested that Senators and Representatives, who voted against the war with Germany, could have their citizenship taken away if the ruling against Madame Schwimmer and Prof. MacIntosh were carried to its conclusion.

"The provision of the Constitution guaranteeing religious liberty and freedom of thought has been violated in this decision against Prof. MacIntosh," said LaFollette. "Even during the war, when this country was in the throes of hysteria, we provided that those whose teaching or religious affiliations forbade them to bear arms were given noncombatant status under the draft act.

"It certainly is a violation of the theories upon which this government was founded when an able man of learning can be excluded from citizenship because he resented the settlement of international disputes through the medium of war. As a matter of fact, this government already has renounced war by ratifying the Kellogg-Briand treaty. Perhaps efforts will now be made to rescind the citizenship of the senators who voted to ratify that pact."

Both La Follette and Caraway commented on the peculiar facts in Prof. MacIntosh's case. The Yale divine, a former Baptist preacher, served most of the World War as an army chaplain.

DECISION CALLED FOLLY

"The Supreme Court," said Caraway, referring to the Schwimmer case, "Can never make the American people believe it a crime to prefer peace to war. There is no question but that the moral worth of a citizen should be the deciding factor in granting him citizenship rather than the degree of his bloodthirstiness or the degree of his pacifism.

"To bar an old woman, because at 45 she doesn't want to go to war, was silly. To bar an able college professor because he wants to decide between right and wrong is folly."

Car Foundry Net Shows Sharp Drop

American Car & Foundry Co. reports for the year ended April 30, 1929, consolidated net income of $2,715,174 after charges and federal taxes, equal, after preferred dividends, to $1.63 a share on 600,000 common shares against $3,754,555, or $2.75 on the common the previous year.

Not Guilty Plea Advised by Judge

At the suggestion of Judge Nelson McVicar, Spagnolo Antonino, of Croyle Township, changed his plea from guilty to not guilty of violating the liquor laws, in Federal Court today. After pleading guilty Antonino explained through an interpreter that the still which agents seized in Cambria County was on his farm but was not his property.

Air Stowaway, Home From Abroad, in Seclusion

PORTLAND, Me., June 27.—Arthur Schreiber, the shy 22-year-old youth who stowed away aboard the French monoplane Yellow Bird on its flight from Old Orchard Beach to Spain, awoke at his parents home here today eager to escape the acclamations of his fellow townsmen.

Schreiber, whose anxiety to see his mother prompted him to take an airplane from Roosevelt Field shortly after he arrived in New York yesterday, declared last night when he landed here that he intended keeping out of the spotlight.

Throughout the voyage on the Leviathan, members of the crew reported, he kept to himself.

In his cabin on the way up the bay, he told newspapermen:

"I do not wish to say anything. I'm no hero."

He talked for a few minutes with his father, Morris R. Schreiber, who had come down from Portland, to greet him.

The stowaway was asked what he had to say to the reports the French aviators had arranged for him to accompany them. He declared:

"Not a single man knew I was on board."

He was pressed for a statement as to his plans. His reply was:

"All I want to do it to get home to my mother. I am sorry I have grieved her."

As the Leviathan neared its dock Schreiber grew a little more communicative. He said the three French fliers bore no animosity toward him. He remarked:

"Soon after we landed in Spain Armeno Lotti, the radioman, said to me in the presence of his cofliers: Everything is forgiven. All's well that ends well.'

"I do not hope to meet three finer men than Lotti, Assolant and Le Fevre. They are not only wonderful aviators, but real sports."

MELLON FORECASTS $160,000,000 SURPLUS JUNE 30

STOCK DEALS SWELL TAX INCOME

Treasury Head Ready to Make Report as Fiscal Year Approaches Close

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP.)—Secretary Mellon said today that the latest estimates indicated that the government would conclude the fiscal year on June 30 with a surplus of $160,000,000 or $170,000,000.

This balance would be on hand, he said, after the $50,000,000 allowed railroads for the retroactive mail rate increase had been paid.

TAX PAYMENTS JUMP

Income tax returns for the month up to June 24, including the second quarter's payment of the 1928 tax, have totaled $545,725,098, an increase of $90,000,000 over the similar period of last year.

Income taxes for the fiscal year on the same date totaled $2,321,180,412, as compared with $2,166,600,373 in the same period of the previous year.

CUSTOMS PAYMENTS UP

Customs receipts also have shown an increase this year aggregating on June 24 a total of $592,974,151, an increase of approximately $35,000,000 over the same period of 1928.

The government's total receipts to date in the fiscal year 1929 have amounted to $3,998,694,187, leaving a surplus on June 24 of $237,896,316, but expenditures that must come out before the end of the month are expected to cut this amount by approximately $60,000,000 or $70,000,000.

The increase in the surplus which last February for a time appeared to have been wiped out was due, Treasury officials said, to the huge income tax payments chiefly because of large transactions in trading in stocks.

SUGAR TARIFF ARGUMENTS HEARD

Beet Sugar Association Head Asks Duty Increase Before Senate Committee

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—A bitter-sweet battle was fought out before the Senate Finance Committee today with the opposing forces on the sugar schedules flooding the committee with arguments for and against raising the rates.

An appeal for a tariff of $2.40 per 100 pounds on Cuban imports and $3 on world imports was made by Stephen H. Love, president of the United States Beet Sugar Association.

G. R. Parker, representing the American Exporters' and Importers' Association, took just the opposite view. He opposed all increases and urged reduction of the present rates of $1.76 and $2.20. He said an increase would seriously jeopardize the $128,000,000 volume of exports from this country to Cuba.

Love, in urging higher sugar tariff, declared the increase was supported by the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange and all beet, cane and corn sugar organizations.

"Foreign sugars are being dumped on the American market below cost of production," said Love. "Raw Cuban sugars are selling in New York at the lowest price in history. Cuba is producing too much sugar for her own good and is attempting to market too large a percentage of its output in the United States to the detriment of the American sugar industry. The American sugar producer has a right to expect fair and just protection in sugar tariff from this Congress."

CONSIDERING SCALE

Chairman Smoot, of the Senate Finance Committee, disclosed today that he was considering a sliding scale sugar tariff plan, but that it was only tentative and he was not certain whether it could be worked out satisfactorily.

U. S. FIRM ON REPARATIONS POLICY

Limited Participation in Treaty Negotiations Seen; Citizen Rights Recognized

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—American support of the Young reparations plan will be moral rather than concrete, and the participation of this government will be limited to negotiating a treaty with Germany for a reduction of no more than 10 per cent of claims against the Berlin government for Rhine army costs, it was apparent in official circles today.

Speculation over the possibility that American financial interests would participate in the international bank for handling reparations bonds and fiscal transactions, was said to be based on an European hope rather than a probability.

Secretary of State Stimson declared that members of the Federal Reserve Board would not be permitted to serve nor would this government propose or endorse unofficial representatives.

RECOGNIZES RIGHTS

Recognizing the right of private individuals to transact their business without government interference with reference to reparations bonds that might be put on the American market, or even accept membership on the international bank if they were asked, officials believe that the fact that the government frowns on the latter would be sufficient to make them hesitate.

The White House and State Department stood pat on Stimson's statement, declaring that it was "perfectly clear as to meaning."

That meaning is interpreted in official and diplomatic circles as being in effect a hint for private banks and bankers to remain aloof.

LITTLE INDUCEMENT

Economic experts of the government declare that the condition of the American bond market would of itself be sufficient to offer little inducement to financial interests here to attempt to float reparations bonds in the United States in any great quantity.

The underlying objection to the United States going any further than agreeing to accept a reduction in what Germany is paying on Rhine occupation costs, officials say, is a fear that we would be left "holding the bag." If the Young plan should break down, the debtor nations would have received payment through the bonds, and if Germany should default, the American bond holders would have to bear the burden as a straight business proposition.

CONTRIBUTION SMALL

America's contribution to the Paris settlement is relatively small, being only a probable 10 per cent of a total claim of $250,00,000.

But officials point out that the Allies have already received all but about 10 per cent of their occupation costs, while we have been paid approximately 30 per cent. Priority probably will continue to go to the Allies on the straight reparations payments before the United States begins to collect.

SEIZED AS FAKE SOLICITOR

Mrs. Viola Palmer, of Hays, testified in Morals Court today that when John Bratton, 51, wearing a Salvation Army cap, solicited her for funds yesterday, she remembered that he was not the Army solicitor to whom she previously had contributed.

Mrs. Palmer had Bratton arrested. In court he admitted having solicited $1.07 from three Hays women. He said the funds were for missions in Ohio, it was charged. He is being held until police establish whether he is a fake collector wanted in other cities.

P.R.R. Trains Held Up By Freight Wreck

Pennsylvania Railroad passenger trains from Philadelphia and New York were arriving in Pittsburgh today from two to three hours late, due to a freight wreck at Leaman Place, near Lancaster, shortly after midnight. At the offices of the company here it was said that both east-bound and west-bound tracks were blocked by the wreckage. Reports indicated that no one was injured.

Two Men Killed When Oil Explodes

DULUTH, Minn., June 27.—(AP.)—Two men were fatally injured and five others less seriously hurt in an explosion and fire at the Diamond Calk and Horseshoe Company late yesterday. The dead were Richard Johnson, 33, and Helge Liljegren, 26.

The explosion is believed to have been caused when fumes from fuel oil, being transferred from a railroad tank car, ignited.

King's Son, Injured In Game, Sails Soon

Hungry Ape Loads Up on 72 Bananas

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP.)—Seventy-two bananas for breakfast; 15 apples and 22 oranges for supper, such are typical meals for Azwas, a giant ape brought from Sumatra, who can be purchased for a pet or other purposes for around $25,000. He's 5 feet 10, weighs 390 pounds, and is 12 feet across with arms outstretched.

Co-Ed Weds Officer Who Arrested Her

CHICAGO, June 27.—(INS.)—Four years ago, when Traffic Policeman Raymond J. But hate, the poets say, is akin to love and today she is Mrs. Raymond J. Mullaney.

Chicagoan May Be Farm Board Head

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(INS.)—Reports were current here today that the chairmanship of the new federal farm board is to be offered to Alexander Legg, of Chicago, president of the International Harvester Company. Legg called at the White House today at President Hoover's invitation.

Chicago Doctors To Take Pay in Instalments

CHICAGO, June 27.—(AP.)—The instalment plan has been invoked by the Chicago Medical Society for the benefit of those who are sick and unable to make prompt payment.

The new financial arrangement is called "The Modern Medical Budget Plan," and its purpose is to finance worthy sick persons on a cost basis, the patient to make repayment in weekly or monthly instalments over a period commensurate with his ability to pay.

Dr. James H. Hutton, president-elect of the society, said the plan "simply adapts to the sick the modern method of financing employed by the automobile, the radio and other industries, and enables the family of moderate means to arrange for medical or hospital care on a time-payment plan."

TRIO ACCUSED BY WIFE HELD

Mrs. W. B. Smith, of 1003 Franklin street, Wilkinsburg, whose complaint in behalf of her husband, resulted in a raid on an alleged dive, was rewarded by seeing two men held for the grand jury and a third fined in Frankstown Avenue Police Court today.

Mrs. Smith was at the hearing conducted by Magistrate William J. Soost, in the case of three men charged with keeping a disorderly house at 6486 Frankstown avenue.

Her complaint that her husband had been robbed of $38 in the place Tuesday night prompted police to arrest Patsy Fitzgerald, Angelo Natopitano and Ralph Santillo, of 627 Sterrett street, alleged proprietors.

Fitzgerald and Santillo were held for court, charged with violating the Snyder act. Napolitano was fined $25 or 30 days to the workhouse.

RECORD FLIERS UP 100 HOURS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 27.—(INS.)—After more than 100 hours continuous flying, Pilots Owen Haugland and Charles Johnson still were in the air today.

The plane took off at 5:03 a. m. Sunday.

The flyers are past the half-way mark in their attempt to better the endurance flight record of 172 hours and 30 minutes. They must remain in the air until Sunday to better the record.

As the plane passed the 100-hour total this morning, officials observing the progress of the flight at Wold-Chamberlin airport here, reported the single motor appeared to be functioning perfectly.

Haughland and Johnson, it was indicated, decided to take advantage of all precautions against termination of the flight as the opportunity neared to beat the record of 172 hours 32 minutes and one second, set recently at Fort Worth, Tex.

PATHFINDER LANDS

PORTLAND, Me., June 27.—(AP.)—The monoplane Pathfinder, in which Roger Q. Williams and Lewis A. Yancey hope to fly to Rome, landed at the airport here last night after a flight from Roosevelt Field, N. Y. Rough condition of the beach at Old Orchard, starting point of the proposed hop, prevented a landing there.

SWEDES MAKE FALSE START

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, June 27.—(INS.)—The fifth attempt within three weeks of Capt. Albin Ahrenberg and two companions, of Sweden, to fly from Reykjavik to Ivigtut, Greenland, on the third leg of a trans-Atlantic flight ended in failure today when the airmen returned here after 45 minutes in the air.

After arriving at Reykjavik from Stockholm by way of Bergen, Norway, Capt. Ahrenberg and his two companions were detained for several weeks by unfavorable weather and engine trouble.

Their ultimate destination is New York. A stop is planned at Anticosti, in the St Lawrence River.

2 More Film Actors Held on Tax Charge

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—(AP.)—Raymond Griffith and Raymond McKee, film actors, were under indictment by the Federal grand jury today charged with defrauding the government in their tax returns for 1925 and 1926. Edward H. Hayden, a tax counsellor, also was under indictment in connection with the preparation of McKee's tax return for 1927.

In a tax lien filed in Federal court by Galen Welch, internal revenue collector, Norman Kerry, another screen player, is required to pay $1,116.97 on his 1928 income, which the collector asserted he had "forgotten."

Caddy, 16, Testifies To Attack, Robbery

"I glanced around and saw a golf club swinging at my head, that's the last I remembered," testified Andrew Bobda, 16, of 431 Forward avenue, a caddy at the Schenley Park links, in Morals Court today, describing an attack on him a week ago.

Bobda testified he was robbed of 75 cents. He identified George Jopchak, 17, of 58 Acorn street, a formed caddy, as his assailant. Jopchak was held for court by Magistrate A. D. Brandon.

Pope Sets Secret Consistory July 15

VATICAN CITY, June 27.—(AP.)—The Pope will hold a secret consistory for the creation of new cardinals on July 15 and a public consistory on July 18, it was learned today. The only elevation known definitely in advance is that of Monsignor Schuster, of German-Swiss parentage, to be Cardinal Archbishop of Milan.

FOES OF SMITH IN VA. UNITE

RICHMOND, Va., June 27.—(AP.)—Virginia Republicans have joined forces with the anti-Smith Democrats in an effort to take control of the state government out of the hands of the Democratic party.

Dr. William Moseley Brown, a 35-year-old professor of psychology, a Democrat until the 1928 presidential campaign who asserted he was an "independent" in politics, in accepting nominations for governor offered him by two political conventions within eight days heads the coalition ticket.

Running with Dr. Brown are Walter Dickinson, Southwest Virginia farmer and a Republican, seeking the lieutenant governorship, and C. C. Berkeley, a Newport News lawyer and anti-Smith Democrat, candidate for attorney general.

C. Bascom Slemp, national committeeman and for a number of years a leader of Republicanism in Virginia, in his address to the convention preceding his nomination of Dr. Brown, said, "The Democratic party has its Smith and its Raskob, but no longer has the Southern democracy."

The coalition ticket will oppose Democratic nominees to be chosen in the Democratic primary August 6. Three Democrats seek the nomination for governor—John Garland Pollard, G. Walter Mapp and Rosewell Page.

New Kensington Club Is Padlocked

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 27.—An order handed down by Judge W. T. Dom, the barroom and social room of the Polish National Alliance Club, 1101 Second avenue, New Kensington, is padlocked for one year.

He Beat Wife to Police Court; Freed

When his wife threatened to have him arrested, Joseph McElldowney, of 1604 Island avenue, testified in Morals Court today, he hurried to a nearby patrol box, summoned the police and was lodged in the North Side Station charged with disorderly conduct, before his wife could file her complaint.

He was discharged by Magistrate A. D. Brandon.

McElldowney testified that he tried to enter the house while under the influence of liquor.

Munhall Man Hurt In Auto Collision

Thomas O'Toole, 22, of 316 Seventeenth avenue, Munhall, is in the Homestead Hospital with a probable fracture of the skull and a dislocated left shoulder suffered in an automobile crash early today in West Run road, near Lincoln Place, police reported. O'Toole was in a car driven by Martin Coyne, of 320 Eleventh avenue, Homestead, when it collided with a machine driven by John Harding, of Seventh avenue, Homestead.

Mercer Rotary Tries Meeting in Evening

MERCER, Pa., June 27.—Beginning next Monday, the Mercer Rotary Club will meet at 6:15 p. m. instead of at noon. The new time will be tried for a month, and if satisfactory will be adopted permanently.

New officers of the club will be installed next Monday evening. They are: E. S. Ingraham, president; the Rev. Leslie Mountford, vice president; Tom P. Junkin, secretary, and E. B. Reed, treasurer.

LINDY'S FRIEND DIES IN CRASH

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 27.—(INS.)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's pause here was saddened today by the death of his intimate friend, James A. Perry, 34, millionaire aviation and baseball magnate. Perry ascended to "meet Lindy as he comes in" and died a minute later when his Curtiss Robin crashed from a height of about 100 feet.

Arriving from Columbus, O., shortly afterward, Col. Lindbergh was deeply affected when he was told Perry had been killed while on the way to welcome him and Mrs. Lindbergh. Neither of the Lindberghs would grant an interview and went at once to a hotel.

Today the Lindberghs were to fly to St. Louis, Mo.

Perry was owner of the Indianapolis baseball club of the American Association and of the Quincy, (Ill.) club from which the Cleveland Indians draw most of their recruits. He also headed the Curtiss Flying Service of Indiana. His widow is in Europe.

He is survived also by his mother, Mrs. O. O. Perry, of Culver, Ind.; a brother, Norman, president of the Indianapolis Power and Light Company, and a sister, Mrs. William Griffith, of Chicago. Mrs. Griffith was at a railroad station awaiting a train to return to Chicago when she was told of her brother's death.

On Col. Lindbergh's last visit to Indianapolis, last winter, it was recalled, Perry was his companion on a flight when the colonel experienced difficulty in bringing his plane to a safe landing on this side of St. Louis during a blinding snowstorm.

Auto Theft Suspects Brought from Ohio

Dudley Liddell, 31, an actor, of Ridge avenue, and James Lynn, 23, of Nashville, Tenn., arrested in Fremont, O., Tuesday afternoon accused of stealing an automobile in Pittsburgh, were brought back by City Detective Harry Stubenrauch today. The automobile was the property of Nicholas Rachish, of 3029 Preble avenue, and was taken on Reedsdale street.

Married, Ordained Just 40 Years Ago

SHARPSVILLE, Pa., June 27.—The Rev. G. P. Fisher, pastor of Grace Reformed Church, and Mrs. Fisher are celebrating their fortieth wedding anniversary. The Rev. Dr. Fisher on Sunday celebrated the fortieth anniversary of his ordination to the ministry.

Irene Castle Loses Fight Over "Dumbest" Dog

EVANSTON, Ill., June 27.—(AP.)—The dog fight in Magistrate Franklin's court between Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin and 17-year-old Irving Hopkins was called a draw yesterday, although in a way it was a victory for Hopkins.

The magistrate decided that each party should pay $3.30 to recompense the court for its time in listening to the argument over a dog Hopkins had bought for $5 from Mrs. McLaughlin's dog orphanage.

Irving, after buying the dog, sold it to a pet store and bought another. Mrs. McLaughlin contended the boy had no right to take the dog unless he intended keeping it.

Irving said it was the dumbest dog he ever saw, so he traded it for a good one.

Prospect Street Paving Is Urged

Property owners have petitioned Council to authorize the paving of Prospect street between the public school and Southern avenue.

Home Fatalities Greater Than Auto Deaths

WHEELING, W. Va., June 27.—In these days of whizzing automobiles and furtive pedestrians, it is generally believed that the public streets are full of danger and that the home is the safest place. Yet, according to statistics prepared by J. E. Sidel, manager of the Wheeling Safety Council, the exact opposite is true here.

During the first five months of this year, six persons were killed by motor vehicles, while eight were killed by accidents in their homes. For the same period of last year the number of fatalities in each classification was the same.

NEW SIAMESE TWINS, 10 WEEKS OLD

KIDNAPED BOY, BACK HOME, ILL

SUSPECT FREED

While Harry slept today, Mrs. Kretz appeared in Morals Court and told Magistrate A. D. Brandon that she did not believe William Valentine, 50, of Anderson street, was implicated in the kidnaping. Valentine, under arrest since Tuesday, was discharged.

Late last night Chief of Police Harry Roseberry, of Benwood, communicated with Detective Sergeant John P. McCullough, that a boy, whose description tallied with that of Harry Kretz, had been left in a store at Eighth and Main streets, Benwood Tuesday. A stranger who left him asked Mrs. Mary Bennett, the proprietor to care for him for several hours until he went to Wheeling for his wife. The man failed to return.

Mrs. Bennett reported the case to Chief Roseberry, who yesterday read newspaper accounts of the boy's disapparance.

PARENTS INFORMED

Harry, crying continuously and unable to eat, told the police his name. Chief Roseberry then telephoned to Pittsburgh detectives, who informed the boy's parents. They motored to Benwood and claimed their son. Chief Roseberry said the child was unharmed.

Investigation by Benwood police revealed that the stranger, who was described as 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighing about 180 pounds, with sandy, curly hair and gray eyes, and the boy had stopped at the rooming house of Mrs. Edward Beecher, in Ninth street, Monday night. After the man's departure the following morning it was discovered that a watch, silverware and clothing were missing.

preside over the criminal court from the September term to the June term. He goes exhaustively into the amount of work accomplished and the changes in the system of running the court, which he inaugurated to speed up trials.

ASKS PERMANENT CHANGE

He suggests that these changes be made permanent, asserting that they have proven efficient.

District Attorney Gardner, in his statement, besides giving figures on the large total of cases disposed of, says:

"Included in the dispositions are many cases arising out of violations of the election laws. Eighty-six indictments have been brought against 315 defendants charged with violation of the election laws. All of these cases have been finally disposed of except two individuals. There have been convictions or pleas in 80 indictments; one straight verdict of not guilty and three verdicts of not guilty, defendants pay costs.

Regarding the pigeonholing of cases and the need for more judges, Judge Drew says:

"The most serious thing of all in our Criminal Court was the delay in bringing many cases to trial. There should be a law making it mandatory on a district attorney to list cases for trial within six months after the indictment. Such a law would do away with the pigeonholing of cases.

"While we are indebted to visiting judges for assistance rendered us, my experience has convinced me that we would do much better if we had a sufficient number of our own judges to try all our cases."

Overcoats or Jail Rule on Sun Bath Suit Wearers

EVANSTON, Ill., June 27.—(AP.)—Is there a ballad writer in the audience who can compose an appropriate medley on the theme: "Hang Your Clothes on a Hickory Limb, But Button Up Your Overcoat?"

The city fathers have cogitated long and profoundly the length to which sun-back bathing suits and modesty consistently can walk together. The verdict was that there's no limit on Evanston's beaches.

In the wake of the decision came Police Chief William O. Freeman in a crusade to safeguard public morals on the sidewalks of Evanston if not on its beaches. He gave the bathers just one week to learn that those wearing bathings suits en route to the beach must be shrouded in overcoats.

"And the coat must be buttoned," he added.

Mellon to Accept French Debt Delay

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP.)—Secretary Mellon said today the congressional resolution proposing postponement of payment of the $400,000,000 French war supplies debt would be accepted as authority for the postponement in the event France ratified the $4,025,000,000 war debt agreement, despite the fact that the resolution was not signed by the Speaker of the House.

If France does not ratify the war debt agreement the Secretary said it would be presumed that the Paris government expected to pay the war supplies obligation when it falls due August 1.

CITY MULCTED, EVANS SAYS

to be allowed a profit of no more than $1.50 a ton, any excess to go to the city.

The terms of the contract were evaded, Evans declared the audit disclosed, by charging to operating costs numerous items not, in his opinion, properly allowable.

The audit was made by direction of Council. Eight yearly contracts were scrutinized by accountants. It was found, Evans said, that the total net cost to the city of the removal of the garbage during the eight years was $9,600,000. There was returned to the city during the period under investigation about $960,000.

Evans proposed either Judge Ambrose B. Reid or Judge Elder W. Marshall, the one chosen to be sole arbitrator. The agreement provides that the determination of the arbitrator shall be final and conclusive on both principals.

Previous to Council's action authorizing Evans to request a judge of Common Pleas Court to arbitrate the question of refunds to the city, the controller issued this statement:

"By direction of Council, this office has been conducting an audit, among other things, of the eight yearly contracts for the collection and disposal of rubbish and garbage between the American Reduction Company and the city.

AUDIT EXPOSE

"When this audit disclosed the existence of numerous sums charged to the cost of the work which the auditors believe were not properly items of cost, the controller tried unsuccessfully to effect a settlement with the company.

"In view of that fact and since those items were subject to argument, that is, dependent upon the construction of the terms of the contracts, the controller has agreed, subject to the approval of council, to the submission of the entire accounts between the city and the American Reduction company for the years 1921 to 1928, inclusive, to a judge of the court of common pleas to be agreed upon by the two parties as sole arbitrator.

"The controller will submit to the council his recommendation that this submission to arbitration be concurred in by it.

"The agreement contains a provision that the determination of the arbitrator shall be final and conclusive on both parties."

COUNCIL ORDERED AUDIT

The audit, being conducted by McLean & Co. and Collins & Co., was authorized by Council on motion of President James F. Malone when Controller Evans assumed office last January.

The garbage and rubbish appropriation has increased from $1,157,000 in 1921 to $1,420,00 in 1928. The peak of $1,580,000 was reached in 1927.

Malone and other members of Council held repeated hearings on the subject at each budget-making session with a view to cutting the appropriation to the minimum.

A special committee of Council was appointed by President Malone early this year to make a thorough study of the garbage and rubbish activity and its recommendations were incorporated in the present contract.

Commenting on the results of the uncompleted audit, Evans said:

"I want to make it clear that the disclosures in no way cast any reflection on my predecessor in the controller's office.

"It is obvious, however, that the employe of this office whose duty it was to make the annual audit of the company's books failed in that duty."

Evans said he was not prepared to state what the course would be in regards to the employe in question.

$9,600,000 PAID

The city paid to the company during the period between 1921 and 1928 a total net of $9,600,000 exclusive of about $960,000 refunded under the profit sharing provision.

The controller's original claim against the company was $1,740,000, but subsequent explanations reduced that amount to about $1,000,000.

FLINN PROPERTY

The American Reduction Company was the property of the late George Flinn. His heirs recently arranged for the sale of the property to John Gillespie, of Detroit, who has been associated with George Flinn in similar business enterprises in Detroit and New York.

Mr. Gillespie said he was invited shortly after Mr. Flinn's death to assume the management of the American Reduction Company. On becoming acquainted with the property he offered to buy all of the capital stock, consisting of 5,000 shares, and held in its entirety by the George Flinn estate, of which the Colonial Trust Company is executor.

Gillespie was informed on June 13, last, he said, that the city had claims against the company amounting to about $100,000. At his request the Flinn heirs signed a contract containing a clause to the effect that they would assume responsibility for all such claims, relieving him of all liability.

Subsequently, he said, he learned that the audit made by Controller Evans' office under the direction of council disclosed items totaling $1,700,000 which Evans contended should be refunded to the city. A letter subsequently written by Evans, according to Gillespie, reduced the amount claimed to $1,250,000.

URGES CITY OPERATION

That $627,900 to $1,277,900 profit a year is possible for the city by operating its own garbage disposal system is the claim of George P. Kountz, president of the Allied Boards of Trade.

Long a foe of the present contract system of disposal on garbage and rubbish, Mr. Kountz has repeated to Council the impossibility of changing what he terms the present excessive high cost without the city's offering long term contracts to encourage new bidders or building its own plants. Pointing out the basis of his figures showing a profit, he said:

"It is possible that a profit of $9.83 a ton can be made in the salvaging of garbage. These figures are taken from what present contractors are earning. At this figure, there would be a yearly profit of $1,277,900 on the basis of the average tonnage of 130,000 tons. Yet, we can give the city the leeway of extra costs for handling garbage in its own plants, even to the extent of $5 extra per ton. On that basis, the profit to be gained on $4.83 a ton would be $627,900 a year.

DISTRIBUTE PLANTS

"There is no reason why the city cannot place its plants even in residential districts. It has been done in other cities. In Philadelphia, one such incinerator is located near a fashionable apartment building without giving offense through odors or noise. For the proper handling of garbage, I suggest the placing of two plants on the North Side, one on the South Side, one in West End, and one in East End. Builders specializing in incinerator plants inform me the cost would be approximately $2,000,000.

"There is not the slightest question but that the city is paying too much. Since 1914 the cost has increased 10 per cent while the population gain has been 22½ per cent."

Farrell Driver Is Held After Crash

SHARON, Pa., June 27.—George Popa, of Farrell, has been held under $2,500 bail on charges of aggravated assault and battery in connection with an automobile accident. Eight people were hurt when Popa's machine collided with an auto driven by Lee Campbell, of Sharon.

Two Girl Tourists Sans License, Stopped

WORCESTER, Mass., June 27.—(AP.)—Two school teachers from Miles City, Mont., left that city five weeks ago to tour the East in an automobile. They didn't have time to get registration plates, and for 2,000 miles they didn't need them. State Trooper Everett J. Hill halted the unlicensed car in Shrewsbury and held the driver, Miss Loretta Ulmer, 26, for operating an unregistered and uninsured automobile. Her companion, Miss Ina Brayton, 27, went to police headquarters with Miss Ulmer. This was the first time they had been stopped, Miss Ulmer said.

Mercer Has Benefit For Children's Home

RIVER AIRPORT HEARING SET

Considering a pending lease for an airport for amphibian planes on the north shore of the Monongahela River, west of the Wabash Bridge, Council has invited all interested persons to discuss the project at a hearing at 10 a. m. next Monday in Council Chamber.

Discussion of the proposed airport at yesterday's Council meeting indicated that a majority of members feared that a landing place for planes so near the congested downtown district would constitute a menace to life and property.

FLOAT LEASE GIVEN

The airport proposal was first presented to Council in an ordinance permitting the Pittsburgh Aviation Industries Corporation to build driveways, derricks and other airport structures on the wharf.

The law department, upon request submitted an opinion to Council that the wharf could not be leased by the city for structures of any kind.

Meanwhile Director Edward G. Lang, of the Department of Public Works, who had been asked to advise Council as to the feasibility of the project and the availability of the land on the wharf, issued a lease to the corporation for a float in the river to be used as a landing place for amphibian planes.

OBJECTIONS DROPPED

Lang issued the lease under authority of an existing ordinance that empowered him to grant permission for the "mooring, loading and unloading of boats."

However, Lang later recalled the lease, explaining he was prompted to do so when he learned that some of the councilmen had questioned his action.

Council was advised yesterday that the Pittsburgh Coal Exchange had withdrawn implied objections to the airport as it was restricted to the use of a float moored in the river.

SEVEN JAILED AS VAGRANTS

Seven men arrested in Beechview early today, on charges of vagrancy, were all sentenced to serve five days in the county jail by Magistrate John J. Sweeney in South Side Police Court today.

After receiving complaints from residents of Crane avenue and Quay street, that the men were loafing around an old coal mine in that section, Lieut. James McDonough and Patrolman Joseph Bauer, of the Mt. Washington Police Station, made the raid.

The men arrested were: William Pierce, 53; Alexander Pitmus, 38; Mike Bittner; John Kawalski, 41; Frank Vurant, 42; John Powalski, 72; and Steve Billon, 55. Police said the men did not have homes.

Woman Files Suit Over Crash of Autos

Alleging that she was injured when the automobile in which she was riding collided with the machine of George Blessing, of 980 Greenfield avenue, Mrs. Anna M. Shaffer has brought suit against Blessing, asking $10,000. Her husband, H. Frank Shaffer also asks $2,500 damages. The accident occurred last June 23 at Franklin and Pitt streets, Wilkinsburg. It is alleged that Blessing did not have his machine under proper control.

Shot by Policeman, Files Damage Claim

Attorney Crawford Scott has presented to Council a claim for injuries suffered by his client, William E. Gross, of 813 Whiteside street, who was accidentally shot when a policeman tried to kill a dog believed to be mad at Bedford avenue and Whiteside road last April 24, it is said.

North Side Home Damaged by Fire

Fire which started in the front of the second floor of a three-story dwelling occupied by Philip Kaiser, 812 Pressley street, North Side, late last night, swept through the room and did damage estimated by firemen at $1,500.

AUTO, 5 HOMES, IN DRY NET

Prohibition agents yesterday seized a liquor-laden automobile and raided five homes. Caught, it was alleged, transporting five gallons of moonshine in an automobile in Frankstown avenue, John Lapolina, 29, of Taylor street, was arrested and the automobile and liquor seized, agents said. He was held under bond of $1,000.

Liquor law violations were discovered in the homes of Joe Reno, 822 Ohio street; Anton Karnash, 841 Indiana avenue, both of Glassport; Frank Millstein, Verona boulevard, Penn Township; Frank Szymanski, 189 Thirty-seventh street, and in the rear of 607 Waddell avenue, Clairton, according to reports of the agents. The prisoners were released on their own recognizance.

Sport Fans to Welcome Artist "RIP"

Cartoonist Made First Hit by Striking Drawings of Athletic Stars

Sport fans will be particularly interested in the announcement that Robert L. Ripley, famous author of "Believe It or Not!" becomes a member of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph on July 8th.

Believe it or not, Ripley was a member of the New York Giants—a first baseman, and a good one. And, believe it or not—in his very first game as a major leaguer he broke his right arm and was forced to give up a career that John J. McGraw often has stated would have been one of the most brilliant in the national pastime.

It was a bad break for Ripley in one way—but a good break in another, because with his diamond career ended, he was forced to look about for another means of livelihood and took up cartooning.

It was as a sports cartoonist with a new and delightful style that Ripley crept into the major leagues of art. It is a well-known fact that Ripley has more sport data in his head than any other man in the business. He instituted a new technique in cartooning that has been so successful and so popular that it has attracted a swarm of imitators—most of them very poor imitators at that.

But no one can imitate Ripley—nobody can come within a mile of him in the field of his activities that has brought him more friends and more readers than any star who ever appeared before a newspaper public. As the creator of "Believe It or Not!" Robert L. Ripley has won for himself a place in the sun—a place that never can be disputed or shared by anyone else.

"Believe It or Not!" plus the distinctive sport cartoons which daily entertain the most tremendous audience on record, will appear in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph starting July 8th.

RUM FINE GIVEN VET IN CANADA

WINDSOR, Ont., June 27.—(AP.)—County Judge J. J. Coughlin reversed the decision of a police magistrate and ruled that Harry J. Bohme, East Windsor, host at a recent Windsor American Legion dinner at the Prince Edward Hotel Hotel, must pay a $100 fine for illegal possession of liquor.

Judge Coughlin declared the fact that tickets were sold to the party removed it from the class of private parties at which liquor may be served.

He said, however, that he believed Bohme's offense was committed through a misunderstanding of the law, and gave him the minimum fine.

Police Magistrate D. M. Brodie, of Windsor, previously had acquitted Bohme.

Feng, Given Pardon, Will Leave China

PEKIN, June 27. — (INS.) — Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang, long a thorn in the side of the Nationalist Chinese government, has given his promise that he will leave China within a week, President Chiang Kai Shek declared today. In exchange for his accession to the government's request that he leave China, Feng will be granted full pardon for his alleged disloyalty to the Nanking regime.

Corns

Lift OFF!

NO PAIN

Ah! What glorious relief when you apply Freezone to a corn! The aching and throbbing stops at once, and the corn soon becomes so loosened in its bed that you can lift it right out with your fingers. Really, its so easy, you'll laugh. Hard corns and soft ones—corns on the toes and between the toes—all yield to marvelous Freezone. Get a bottle at any drug store and say, "Good-by Corns!"

Builder Pictured In Bread Ad, Files Suit

TORONTO, Ont., June 27.—Frank Jones, husky, sun-tanned member of a local building construction outfit, has no yearning for inclusion in the constantly growing circle of "indorsers."

Frank filed suit, alleging libel, against a bread company and the photoengravers who prepared an advertisement depicting him in the midst of his noon lunch, the piece de resistance of which was represented to be a sandwich.

Plaintiff did not state whether it was the lack of artistic merit in the picture or the attributed menu to which he took most exception.

LUTHERANS IN WORLD MEET

COPENHAGEN, June 27.—(AP.)—Thousands of Lutherans from all parts of the world, in the presence of King Christian of Denmark, began the first session of a nine-day Lutheran world convention.

Archbishop Nathan Soderblom of Upsala, Sweden, in an interview emphasized the importance of America initiative in bringing about the convention. He said the Lutheran churches in North America were among the first to aid Europe in the post-war years and from this naturally had sprung the idea of an international convention working for the co-operation of Lutherans all over the world.

Archbishop Soderblom considered the movement especially indebted to John Morehead, of New York City and Virginia, who is president of the convention.

One hundred and seventeen American divines arrived aboard the liner President Roosevelt to attend the sessions.

Dr. J. M. Reu, theological seminary professor, Dubuque, Ia., called attention to the quadricentennial jubilee of Martin Luther's small catechism, which for four centuries has been the basis of the religious instruction of youth in Lutheran churches throughout the world.

The convention disclosed the significance of this book in the present day and generation.

"The gospel of Christ is the only remedy for a sin-sick world, and we Lutherans of America are not ashamed of it," said the Rev. N. C. Carlsen, of Royal, Ia., president of the United Danish Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. "We are present here to assure the brethren of Denmark and other nations that the Lutheran Church of America is a Christ-centered church, which we feel must be characteristic of the Church of the Reformation."

Bessemer Girl Faces Jury Trial

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 27.—Keen public interest is being shown in the trial of Ruth Livermore, 22-year-old schoolteacher, formerly of Bessemer, Pa., charged with burglarizing an inhabited dwelling.

The case got under way this week. Ruth was originally given a life sentence in the Marysville Reformatory, when she plead guilty. Later she asked for trial by jury, which was first denied.

FLAG WINNERS READY TO SAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—(INS.)—Children of Old Glory—champions of the flag, here today on the threshold of their tour around the world.

What a reception San Francisco gave them.

Into a city fired with patriotism—bands playing, flags unfurled entered the quartet of young Americans who were victorious over a field of 250,000 contenders in the national flag contest.

GIVEN BIG WELCOME

Sirens shrieked as they set foot Tuesday night in San Francisco.

Flowers fell upon them from an admiring populace.

The arches of the ferry building rang with the stirring, marching lilt of the "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Khaki-clad ranks of the Sixth Coast Artillery Band fell into step and out Market street like a triumphant procession of old, swept the escort to these victors of a modern day crusaders for the banner that waved over Brandywine and Bunker Hill and Santiago and Chateau-Thierry.

Two smiling, charming American girls, Alma Groves, of Bryonville, Ga., Mary McGonigle, of Troy, N. Y.—unspoiled by the plaudits that have been showered upon them in every city and hamlet in their trip across the continent.

QUARTET IS HAPPY

Two high school boys—regular guys—laughing and teasing the girls a bit, a little bothered about the hang of their hair and the set of their neckties—Merle Clark, of Detroit, Mich., and Robert L. Sullivan, of Syracuse, N. Y.

Accompanied by their chaperon, Mrs. Edwin C. Greggory, Floyd Williamson, representative of the Hearst newspapers, and Col. James A. Moss, president of the United States Flag Association, the four flag champions were greeted over a barrier of baggage even before they alighted from the train.

Motion picture machines and flashlight cameras marked every step of their progress aboard the ferry boat—interviewers and passengers pressed upon them. Capt. W. J. Susan waved aside regulations and allowed Alma and Mary to climb the ladder to his cabin, perched high on the top deck—and to steer the boat in open waters, after Yerba Bueno Island lay well astern.

THEIR FIRST TRIP

It was such a night as is made to leave a lasting impression upon the traveler who first crosses San Francisco Bay and sees the vague, towering silhouette of the city etched against an evening sky.

Mary McGonigle, her arms filled with American Beauty roses, stood at the rail and drank in the scene as only a youthful enthusiast can.

Alma Groves spoke in soft, Southern tones of the beauty of it all.

It was the first trip for all of them, of course, and it is only the beginning, the threshold of their tour around the world.

Montour Man Gets Contract for School

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 27.—The contract for the construction of a new eight-room high school building and gymnasium at McMurray, Peters Township, Washington County, has been awarded to Alva Watters, of Uniontown. The building will cost $60,000. It is to be occupied by December 15.

Greensburg Elks Will Hold Carnival

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 27.—Greensburg Lodge B. P. O. E. will hold a field day and carnival the proceeds of which are to be given to local charities here Saturday. Bicycle races, a ball game and other entertainment are to be provided.

3 IN RUM CASE LOSE PLEAS

The petitions of John F. Brennan, former chief of police of McKeesport, and Sam Crown and Louis Davidson, three of the 32 defendants in the McKeesport liquor conspiracy indictment, for bills of particulars as to more specific accusations against them, were denied by Judge Nelson McVicar.

Counsel for the three defendants contended the charges were so general that it was impossible to prepare a proper defense.

The granting of the bills was opposed by Assistant United States Attorney Ralph H. Smith.

Golfers Scatter As Bear Struts Over Links

CONNEAUT LAKE PARK, Pa., June 27.—(AP).—A large black bear yesterday sent golfers on the Hotel Oakland course scurrying for cover when it put in an appearance on the course.

The animal walked erect across the course and disappeared in the woods.

Teutonic Students To Fight 'War Lie'

BAD-KOSEN, Prussia, June 27.—(AP.)—A meeting of 123 German and Austrian student fraternal "corps" unanimously voted today to urge the youth of the nation to write in opposition to the "war guilt lie."

The resolution said: "All who have a spark of honor will demand on June 28 that article 231 of the treaty of Versailles be set aside until an international arbitration court of historians shall have fixed the true blame for the world war."

HOPE GIVEN UP FOR FLIERS

MADRID, June 27.—(INS.)—Although naval and aircraft of five nations continued to scour the ocean between Portugal and the Azores today for traces of Maj. Ramon Franco and his three companions, small hope was felt that the missing fliers would be found.

Not a ray of hope came from the Spanish destroyers and seaplanes, the British aircraft-carrier, Eagle, and the planes operating from it, the Portugese gunboats and Italian hydroplanes co-operating in the search. Two French destroyers have also been ordered to look for the fliers.

Maj. Franco and his companions left Cartagena, Spain, last Friday evening, hoping to reach the Azores the next morning on the first leg of a projected round trip flight to the United States and back. Nothing has been heard of them since they were reported passing over Tarifa, on the Straits of Gibraltar, only a few hours after the start.

DAVIDSON GOES ON LONG TOUR

Dr. William M. Davidson, superintendent of city schools, is en route to Atlanta, Ga., today, the start of a three months' trip which will take him to educational centers of the United States, Italy, France, Holland, Belgium, Spain, Scotland, Ireland and England. He will compare European educational methods with those of this country, particularly Pittsburgh.

Accompanied by his wife and daughter, the educator will go directly to Atlanta to attend the National Education Association convention, which opens there next week. He will go to New York and sail July 5 on his tour abroad. He plans to attend the world convention of National Educational Associations in Geneva, Switzerland, July 26 to August 3.

Wins High Honors At Phillips Exeter

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 27.—John P. Howard, of Pittsburgh, graduated with highest honors from Phillips Exeter Academy as the school closed its one hundred and forty-eighth year today. He also won honorable mention for his work in algebra, English and chemistry.

Two other Pittsburghers, William H. Oliver and Nicholas P. Veeder, were awarded classical diplomas with honors.

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern

A POPULAR DRESS STYLE FOR THE GROWING GIRL.

Cravat silk was used in this instance in a blue pattern on a beige ground. Pique, plain or printed, and soft cotton prints are also suggested. The long waist portions close at the left side of the front above plaited skirt portions. The shoulder line is lengthened to form a short sleeve over the top of the arm.

The pattern for this design is cut in four sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. To make the dress for a 10-year size will require 2⅛ yards of 39-inch material. To finish with binding or bias tape as pictured in the large view will require 2¼ yards 1½ inches wide.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Greensburg Mayor Bars Noise Makers

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 27.—Annoyed by reports of pre-Fourth-of-July celebrations here, Mayor Harry N. Yont has issued an order forbidding the use of giant crackers and other noisemaking devices before that date. The mayor, however, said it would be lawful insofar as Greensburg is concerned, for the celebrants to make plenty of whoopee on July 4.

MUST REACH 50 TO BE HEIRS

His daughter, Helen Bush, and his son, William, must reach the half century age mark before they can share in the $15,000 estate of Josiah Hartill, of the North Side, according to his will, probated today.

When the daughter reaches 50, she is to get 55 per cent of the estate, and when the son reaches 55, he is to get 45 per cent. They are named executors and instructed to give the income from designated North Side properties to the testators' other sons, Arthur and Samuel, in the meantime.

Safety Campaign On B. & O. Outlined

W. H. Wood, safety and welfare superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, outlined the general safety campaign being conducted by the various departments of the railroad in this district at a meeting of campaign chairmen yesterday in the Keystone Athletic Club. E. A. Peck, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania division, also spoke. W. F. Booth, superintendent of the Pittsburgh terminal, presided.

Weather Conditions.

Scattered light showers occurred over the Ohio Valley states and the Atlantic Coast states north of Virginia, while south of Virginia over the Coast states and the East Gulf states, and over the northern and central plains and upper Mississippi Valley states showers were more general. The temperature changes were slight.

A well defined low pressure area is centered over Manitoba and extends southward over the northern plains to Iowa, thence southwestward to Southern Arizona. High barometer covers the Northwest and the Appalachian Mountain section.

River Conditions.

The rivers are stationary or falling slowly. Stage at Pittsburgh is 11.0 feet; Dam No. 2, 8.1; Dam No. 6, 7.5; Dam No. 9, 8.7, and Dam No. 12, 5.2. The dams are up.

DELAY DECISION ON CHURCH BAN

RIVER FOREST, Ill., June 27.—(A.P.)—Deadlocked after two hours' argument over interpreting the rule which bars members of secret fraternal lodges from being communicant members of the Lutheran churches in the Missouri Synod, the thirty-fourth triennial convention of the Evangelical Lutheran Missouri Synod, postponed final action until today.

A resolution and an amendment are pending before the convention. The resolution, drawn by the synod lodge committee, recommends that individual pastors be allowed to receive lodge men into communicant membership temporarily when, in the pastor's opinion, he is dealing with a parishioner who is open to conviction. This follows the traditional policy of the synod, it was pointed out.

An amendment was offered by the Rev. W. J. R. Single, Bay Village, O., and Carl M. Zorn, Cleveland, which says it shall be the practice of the synod to refuse holy communion to lodge members.

New Perry Highway Section to Be Built

MERCER, Pa., June 26.—Another section of the Perry Highway, between Mercer and the Clarks Mills road, probably will be under construction within the next few months, state highway officials said here today. Plans will be completed and bids will be asked by July 5.

You never tasted MUSTARD like this

SO MANY mustards have a harsh, biting tang. In Gulden's the choicest, sun-ripened mustard seeds are tempered by a blending of rare, delicate spices from the Far East. It's delightfully smooth and mellow. Buy a bottle and enjoy a more delicious appetizing flavor!

GULDEN'S
ABSOLUTELY PURE

It is better—taste it and see

Good? Oh, that's a very, very mild word indeed!

You've had good breakfasts before. But never one that could compare with a Heinz Rice Flakes breakfast.

Try to imagine this: Curly, crispy golden-brown flakes of rice with a captivating flavor like toasty nut-meats. Crunch, crunch. Another spoonful, another and another—oh, what a royal breakfast!

Morning after morning, you'll enjoy Heinz Rice Flakes and never tire of their taste. And day by day you'll begin to feel better. Yes, indeed, for Heinz Rice Flakes have a particular health quality different from any other cereal food. By an entirely new, patented Heinz process, the natural roughage element of the rice is transformed into a pure cellulose which gives the healthful effect of a gentle, natural laxative.

Good to eat. Good for you to eat. What an ideal combination!

Red October had come! The population rubbed its frightened eyes . . . was it possible that the Bolsheviks had seized the power?

TROTZKY

. . . . the man who helped to rock Russia with revolution tells the story of his life!

Czarism! Bolshevism! Trotzkyism! Isms of cause and effect that led a young lad from the peace of rural Russia through the prisons of the Czar . . . to Siberia . . . exile, escape, victory . . . and once again, exile! ¶ From his place of banishment in Turkey, Leon Trotzky, the outcast and the feared, has written in his virile fashion the chronology and the drama of thirty-one years of terror, triumph, and defeat. . . . ¶ What does he reveal about Lenin and his personal relationship with the deceased revolutionist? Why is Trotzky now in exile? What does he think of present-day Europe? Of America? ¶ "Will not the world's economic and cultural center of gravity shift to America?" he asks. . . . the old world forced to look westward to a renaissance in the new!

Do not fail to reserve your paper so that you can read the opening chapters of Trotzky's autobiography—a vivid, personal tale, revealing many untold secrets of Russia in revolution.

PITTSBURGHERS SAIL ON LINER

NEW YORK, June 27.—William C. Bracken, son of Charles H. Bracken, Pittsburgh attorney, was among a group of 30 members who sailed last midnight on the S. S. Berengaria for a Y. M. C. A. tour of Europe and a visit to the international boys camp in Germany the week of July 22 to 29. A farewell dinner for parents of the boys was held here several hours before the ship sailed. The Pittsburgh boy will return to the United States the first week in September.

The Berengaria also took out Frank L. Polk, head of the American delegation to the peace conference in Paris; Pierre S. Dupont, multi-millionaire manufacturer of explosives; P. E. Crowley, president of the New York Central Railroad, and the Rt. Rev. James de Wolf Perry, bishop of Rhode Island.

The largest group of Pittsburgh travelers that has figured in one sailing for Europe also left in the Berengaria bound for Cherbourg and Southampton. In the capacity passenger list were the following from Pittsburgh: Mr. and Mrs. William M. Wherry, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lockhart, James H. Lockhart, Jr., Charles Lockhart, George D. Lockhart, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kaufman, Jay Kaufman, Miss Ellen Kaufman and Mrs. Lily H. Stevenson.

Our 58th Anniversary in
"Sidewalks of Pittsburgh"

The story comes to mind of the up-state business man who once a year traveled to Philadelphia, engaged rooms at a hotel, for three days locked himself in, and revealed in his overwhelming weakness. (The weakness was oatmeal).

I can understand this man. My ties are perennially the same—weak blue polka dots—it seems that everybody buys them for me. But my real weakness is for those bright-hued four-in-hands that I saw in the Kaufmann Anniversary; and I had my way, I'd sail away to Somaliland and in the silence of the jungle luxuriate my soul with a new tie every hour.

REGAINS HEALTH; ILL 35 YEARS!

Local Lady Says New Medicine, Ten Herbs, Gave Amazing Results.

More and more men and women of this section report that the famous new herbal compound, Ten Herbs, gave them amazing relief from such health troubles as chronic stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders. Thousands of local residents have found Ten Herbs to be the proper medicine when these organs are not working as Nature intended, and for rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. No wonder so many words of praise for Ten Herbs are heard at May's Main Store, Fifth and Liberty, Pittsburgh, where this popular preparation with the ten wonderful ingredients is being introduced.

MRS. H. C. EDMISTON

"It was a fortunate day for me when I started using Ten Herbs, for it proved a godsend," said Mrs. H. C. Edmiston, 232 Isabella Street, North Side, Pittsburgh. "I had been unable to do my housework. I would be in bed one day and out of bed the next. This condition existed for 35 years. I suffered from neuralgia, indigestion and nervousness, and was also bothered with constipation. My stomach was so badly disordered that I had heartburn and a terrible bloated feeling. At times gas formed around my heart, causing pains and palpitation, and this caused awful weak spells and nervousness, and could not sleep well. The pains across my back felt like the thrust of a knife. I had to take physics about every other day because of constipation. I tried about every kind of medicine I had ever heard of, but got no results.

"After taking four bottles of Ten Herbs, I felt better than I had for 35 years. My digestion was greatly improved, and I became free of that bloated feeling, pains around my heart, palpitation and shortness of breath. I was relieved of the terrible bilious attacks, dizzy spells and nervousness. The awful pains across my back disappeared, and constipation was corrected. I was no longer troubled with sleeplessness. I gladly recommend Ten Herbs to others—it is the most wonderful medicine I have ever used."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at May's Main Store, Fifth and Liberty and is sold at all May's Drug Stores.

YOU are promised, tomorrow, the most amazing outpouring of sincerely fine First Floor Day values since the last First Floor Day, last year! Hundreds of items besides those shown—all fresh and fine, many offered for the first time tomorrow! WHAT an opportunity! Doors open at 9. And Tomorrow and Saturday are the last two days of the 58th Anniversary. Make the most of them!

"WONDERFUL IS KONJOLA," SAYS PITTSBURGH MAN

Stubborn Ailment Ended By New Medicine After Vain Search for Relief.

Many express amazement over the speed with which Konjola, the new medicine, accomplishes results. Others wonder at the thoroughness of Konjola's work. All who have given this new and different remedy a chance to prove its powers, express amazement at the way in which it meets the fondest hopes placed in it, even after all medicines and treatments tried have proven dismal failures. There is a reason for Konjola's stupendous triumphs, and this is being explained by the Konjola Man, who is at the Dow Drug Company, (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, daily, meeting all who come to ask about this master of medicines and what it means to them in their search for escape from pain and suffering. Fix this in your mind: Meet the Konjola Man—for your health's sake—but don't expect to hear promises. He will give you only the facts of Konjola's victories in its warfare on disease. That is what all who are ill want—facts, results, health, instead of mere hope. And Konjola brings health; let the experience of Mr. Alfred M. Isenberg, 357 Stratford Avenue, East Liberty, Pittsburgh, bear witness:

"Wonderful is Konjola—I know what I am talking about—for this was the first and only medicine that brought me relief from kidney trouble that had been the bane of my life for a long, long time. Throughout my back there was a dull, achy pain and soreness. Many times I was unable to stoop over. This stubborn and painful ailment affected my nerves and prevented me from sleeping at night. Daily I continued my search for the right medicine for my case. However, the medicines I tried had no more effect than so much water.

"A friend of mine had wonderful results from Konjola, and I thought I would give it a trial, but foolishly kept putting it off. However, about two weeks ago I felt so bad that I decided then and there to start on Konjola. The first two bottles indicated clearly that I had made a wise decision, for the improvement was wonderful. Steadily, Konjola corrected my kidneys. It was not long before the soreness and pains vanished. Today there isn't a trace of that dreadful ailment. My nerves are quiet and I sleep soundly. I have back my old-time vitality and vigor, and I find genuine pleasure in making this statement about Konjola, the medicine that should be in every home."

One does not have to wait long when Konjola seeks out and combats the causes of disease. Konjola may be given to the infant or taken for the ills of the aged, with every hope of splendid dividends in new, abundant and glorious health.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

Gossip About Our Amusements and Those Who Help to Entertain Us

THIS IS THE STORY OF A YOUNG FELLOW WHO HAS ADOPTED AN OLD PROFESSION

By GEORGE SEIBEL

ONCE upon a time—this begins like a fairy tale—there were theatrical publicity men, commonly called press agents, who felt they had a mission. Their profession, in their eyes, was a branch of literature. There was one family, the Wilstachs, who really produced literature. Paul, who was Richard Mansfield's representative, had the erudition and style with which every Hoosier is born. Much of Mansfield's success was due to the educational work Paul Wilstach did to inform the public about Mansfield and his plays. Since Mansfield's death Paul has written a number of books, which take high rank in the world of letters.

George Seibel.

Paul's brother, Frank Wilstach, was for many years the chief scribe of the Shubert interests. He is the author or compiler of a "Dictionary of Similes" which is a most entertaining volume and a most useful one for the writer. The third brother, Claxton Wilstach, dead many years, was also a fine writer full of theater lore.

Since the theater has entered on a more commercial phase, these old-timers have left few worthy successors. There are some. Wallace Munro belongs to the old school, writes well, knows what he is writing about. Women are also entering this field. Alta Mae Coleman may take credit for much of the good luck that followed "The Command to Love" during the past season. She writes well and knows what she is writing about.

Pittsburgh Also Boasts One Such

These reflections arise through seeing Donn Wermuth, a Pittsburgh boy, around the Pitt Theater during the past few weeks, where he has been looking after publicity for George Sharp's Players. Wermuth has had a varied experience for so young a man, and he has that love of his profession which is the essential thing to success in any calling.

In hailing him as a Pittsburgh boy, a somewhat liberal geographical definition of Pittsburgh is necessary, as he was born in New Matamoras, Ohio—a village of about 400 persons at that time, about the year 1905. He went to Oklahoma with his family when the oil boom was on, came back to Ohio about 10 years later, then migrated again—this time to Pittsburgh.

He went into the newspaper game—Associated Press and the Tri-State News Bureau. He acted as correspondent for the International News Service at an important miner trial in Parkersburg when he was only 17 years old. He came back, reviewed books, and worked on the copy desk of the Chronicle Telegraph, also the old Dispatch. He even worked as an usher for Louis K. Sydney, of the Loew Theaters, like Earl Carroll, and later wrote publicity for the Aldine Theater.

Then New York lured him, and he left for Gotham one Sunday night about two years ago. He wore the clothes he had on—they were all he had. He managed to get a Broadway "beat" on one newspaper, and was fired when he sold a story to another. He starved for a while, then did some publicity for the Shuberts, Hammerstein and Ziegfeld.

Now He's Landed With a Big Show

Finally he landed a position on "Variety," Broadway's only Bible. It was there he made sufficient contacts to leap into the theater proper. He was picked by Stuart Walker to guide the destinies of his repertory company in Indianapolis last summer. He returned to New York after that season, and last winter was publicity director for John B. Reynolds, general manager for the Shuberts in Pittsburgh.

And now Donn Wermuth has landed with a big show. He is to be company manager of "Follow Thru," a musical comedy about golf, which opens July 15 in Atlantic City and goes into Chicago July 29 for a run. It is sponsored by Schwab and Mandel, who also sponsor "The Desert Song," "The New Moon," "Good News," and who put out "Captain Jinks," "No, No, Nanette," "Queen High," "The Firebrand," "The Gingham Girl," and many others. Both these producers are young college graduates, and so far they haven't had a failure. They write as well as produce their own shows.

It will be well to watch this young man Donn Wermuth. He has started out as inconspicuously and with as many discouragements as Earl Carroll. And he is likely to go just as far.

Doubles

Dolores Del Rio, who is to appear on the screen of the Penn in "Evangeline" next week, also will be seen on the stage in person.

Warbles

Dolores Costello is announced to sing in "The Madonna Of Avenue A," coming next to the Enright screen.

STOCK MIRTH AND FILMS BILLS

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," which will be the comedy attraction presented by the George Sharp Players in the Pitt next week, is a stage version of the popular story by Alice Hegan Rice which began to amuse the country in 1901 and has been at it ever since. It is a play for children as well as grown-ups, and Manager Sharp has arranged for a kiddies party on the stage at the close of the Saturday matinee of "Mrs. Wiggs."

Dolores Del Rio will be seen on both stage and screen of the Penn next week, when she will make a personal appearance and be starred in the photoplay, "Evangeline."

"The Gamblers," a Warner Brothers Vitaphone talking production, comes to the Stanley next week. It features H. B. Warner and Lois Wilson.

TALKIE IN ALDINE

A comedy melodrama, "The Dummy," featuring Ruth Chatterton, will be on the screen in Loew's Aldine next week. It is a talkie. The story deals with a group of kidnapers and a smart office boy.

The Four Marx Brothers, in "The Cocoanuts," talking version of the musical comedy of the same name, which comes to the Grand Saturday, portray roles that they depicted on the stage.

William Boyd in "High Voltage," a talkie, will be the feature all next week in the Harris.

EAST END PROGRAMS

Jack Holt, in "Father and Son," with Mickey McBan as the son, will be the talking feature at the Sheridan Square the last half of this week.

Jack Holt is heard on the screen for the first time in "The Donovan Affair," talking mystery thriller which comes to the Regent Saturday.

"The Desert Song," Vitaphone operetta, will be the attraction in the Liberty next week.

Dolores Costello, star of "Madonna of Avenue A" talking feature in the Enright, beginning Saturday, sings in it.

T. P. A. Will Picnic At Carrick Park

The fifteenth annual outing of Post N, Pennsylvania Division, Travelers' Protective Association of America, will be held in Carrick Park, South Hills, Saturday. Joseph H. Donnelly is general chairman of the outing, assisted by Max Henly.

Walter Winchell
On Broadway

NEW YORK, June 27.

ALL RIGHT

AND if we do go for a drive
You'll only laugh too loud.
I know, as sure as I'm alive,
The moon will seek a cloud.

The car will be too small and hot,
You'll want a deal of kissing,
While, stubborn I, as like as not,
Will muse on what I'm missing.

There will be gnats and midgets, too,
And thunder up the river,
But I will come along with you . . .
God loves a cheerful giver.

—Elspeth.

Newspaperman Stuff

IT appears that the New York Times has threatened to go to court to stop unscrupulous show producers from misquoting their critics. Recently, two of their sourest dramatic reports were altered by advertisers and the Times got hot and bothered. But what we started out to chuckle about was that the "Follow Thru" advertisement appearing in the Times and other New York papers quotes this passage: "Final Syllable in Song-and-Dance Entertainment—Times."

What the ad might have stated clearly was that the above quotation was from Rowland Field of the Brooklyn Times, and not the New York Times, which is a good paper, too.

In Fewer Words

The height of being friendless is to be broke on Broadway—and look like it.

This Is News!

NORMAN KERRY, the movie star, had what is commonly known as "the shakes" while ankling to his studio the other day. His nerves were plenty panicky when a Pekingese pup ran out and bit him in the leg. With a shout, Kerry leaped into the air, turned and grabbed what Irene Castle wouldn't call a mutt, and bit it all in one movement.

Then he needlessly shook a threatening finger and scolded:

"Now you know what it feels like to be bitten by a stranger!"

Sounds Like Him

They were discussing George Bernard Shaw again last night and one of the chatterers asserted that the Irish playwright was a supersensitive person, as well as a savagely vindictive man. Once, they were gabbing, he sent a play to a London manager, who returned it with his regrets, adding: "I'm sorry, but I'm afraid I cannot produce your play."

"That's fine," answered Shaw, "I was afraid you would!"

Merciless Truth

'Tis hard to part with those we love,
When our hearts are full of hope;
But 'tis harder still to find a towel
When our eyes are full of soap!

—C. T. P.

Then He Hung Up

ONE of the more contagious-looking Ziegfeldians had chilled a Harvard stage door Jonathan for several weeks. When she tilted her nose at him again the other midnight, the fiend proceeded to get plastered, and annoy her no end. He disturbed her slumbers by telephoning at 4 a. m. and hiccoughed: "I just want you to know that you have driven me to drink, and my doctor warned me only yesterday that if I took three more drinks it would kill me. So this is to let you know you are talking to a ghost—Boo!!!"

Enterprise

Several years ago before the New York Globe was merged with the Evening Sun and then scrapped, one of its shrewd advertising men made a young fortune for it with an idea. He went to the straw hat manufacturers and said: "Gentlemen, I have a suggestion that will revolutionize your business. If you accept it, promise me that you will advertise extensively with my paper throughout the season." They agreed.

The interested executives followed the fellow to a nearby bank, where he slowly opened a safety deposit box. Breathlessly they watched him remove a slip of paper from it, which he gave to one of them, who read this line: "Make Straw Hat Day May 15th instead of June 15th!"

The man was A. J. Kobler, now publisher of the New York Mirror, who brought the Globe $100,000 with one idea.

Speaking of Ideas

THERE'S the Boston racketeer, who annoyed the swanky Copley-Plaza Hotel there by naming his dollar-per-day shack "The Plaza." The similarity in names brought discomfort to the snooty contingent who innocently enough instructed cab drivers to take them to "The Plahzah." The Copley-Plaza group subsequently handed him a huge hunk of coin to take another name.

So he called his obscure place "The Ritz!" And, later, when the Ritz-Carlton people erected a tony place there they were embarrassed no little, also, but their litigation failed. The sitch-ee-ay-shun, however, so burned them up, they absolutely refused to bargain with the name-pirate, who merely shrugs his shoulder at their lawyers and says: "Do me someting!"

In Other Words

SPEAKING of the Ritz recalls the time Burton Rascoe was discussing the fellow who whimsically wrote about seeing a cockroach trying to horn into the Ritz, here. The doorman, reported the writer, had many times discouraged the pest with his proud boots and finally the roach was seen discouragedly trekking down Madison avenue towards the Biltmore.

It was a gentle bit of nonsense and one that the snooty hotel could not object to on legal grounds. There might have been a great law tilt, however, had the writer stated that he had seen the cockroach coming out of the Ritz!

Sotto Voice

Norma Gould (Pittsburgh): But it doesn't rhyme, ma'am.

F. J. Brooks (Toledo). Too long.

Jack Norton (San Francisco): By air.

H. Myers (Scranton): Please take that knife out of my back?

If I Were King

IF I were king, truck drivers who never slow down at crossings would be forced to drink highballs without cracked ice. . . . There would be a law or something against girls who Go Home Early. . . . Men who point their pinkys when drinking anything would have to go without mustard on their sandwiches. . . . Actors who force the second bow and then insist upon telling the bored audience "You've made us so happy!" would be made to give up their trolley seats to women. . . . People who offer a damp hand to shake, would be forced to do a column like this (except without help from contributors). . . . Yaps who wear tight collars (and then wonder why they get the headache) would have to wear button shoes (and stock ties) and stowaways on airplanes would be tormented by cutting remarks for three hours and not be allowed to think up a snappy comeback until they got home—If I Were King!

Jealousy

Lois Wilson comes to the Stanley screen next week in "The Gamblers," in which a jealous husband is a factor.

Starred

Ruth Chatterton is starred in "The Dummy," which will be seen next week on the Aldine screen.

There will be a fireworks display in the National Amusement Park tonight. Another feature on the program will be dancing, with music by the Black Cat Orchestra.

FAIL TO FIND BRIDEGROOM

The whereabouts of John R. Stacer, 23, disappeared Tuesday night on the eve of his marriage to Miss Mary Jane Creeden, 26, of 501 Heisel street, Homestead, still was unknown today, it was said.

He left his Homestead home at 5 o'clock for Pittsburgh for a dress suit. He took along a suitcase of clothes in order to frustrate a joke by friends, Mrs. Dennis Creedon, mother of the girl, said.

They were to wed in St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church in Homestead. Mrs. John Stacer, the youth's mother, and Miss Creeden, were in a state of hysteria over his absence. Parents of both expressed belief that he had met with foul play, or an accident.

Asks City Clean Up In Market Houses

ACCUSE LEADER IN VOTE FRAUD

J. B. Duerr, former commissioner of Stowe Township, is at liberty on $1,000 bond today pending a hearing Tuesday before Alderman George Anderson on charges of election fraud. He was arrested yesterday by county detectives on information sworn out by Chief County Detective George W. Murren, on orders of District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner.

Duerr was involved as the "higher-up" in the alleged election frauds of September 20, 1927, for which members of the Eighth District, Stowe Township, recently were tried in Criminal Court. It was during the trial that Duerr's name was mentioned, and after studying records District Attorney Gardner decided to arrest the former commissioner.

The charge against Duerr was that of having ballots outside the voting place, according to V. D. Edwards, special assistant district attorney who drew up the information.

Buc Stars to Broadcast At Swetonic Feast

By DARREL V. MARTIN,
Sun-Telegraph Radio Editor.

WHAT is your pleasure?

The dials tonight will bring you most anything the heart desires, whether you be a sport fan, a music lover or a financier.

Of greatest local interest will be the KQV broadcast of the testimonial dinner for Steve Swetonic, Pirate pitcher, at 8:30 o'clock. "Pie" Traynor, Donie Bush, President of Council James F. Malone and others will speak.

Continuing its wonderful policy of presenting the best in operatic and popular music, Atwater Kent will bring Goldkette's Orchestra to the American public in a musicale over KDKA at 10 p. m.

It's been done many times before but Lehn and Fink boys promise something different over KDKA at 8 o'clock when they serenade the moon. One thing entrancing will be the playing of "Beautiful Lady" throughout announcements.

LIGHT OPERA GEMS"

Prelude to the third act of Wagner's "Lohengrin" will be offered at 8:30 o'clock from WJAS by the United States Marine Band. At the same hour Ben Bernie's Orchestra will play dance melodies through KDKA.

"Light Opera Gems," a new Columbia sustaining program, will offer Lincke's "Glow Worm" and Herbert's "For I'm Falling in Love With Someone," over WJAS at 8:30.

Selections from "Countess Maritza" will be found in the Veedol Hour, KDKA at 9 p. m.

With the Sun-Telegraph presenting the best and most complete financial pages in Pittsburgh, fans may be interested to learn from a reliable source "How to Read the Financial Pages," the subject of a talk by Hugh Bancroft over WCAE at 10 o'clock.

We feel that most music lovers will be tuned for WCAE at 10:30 when Beatrice Belkin, soprano, sings Strauss' "Blue Danube." She will vie for an audience against Richard Crooks, tenor, who will be heard over KDKA at the same time.

'Screen Grid Revue' Staged for Dealers

Under the auspices of the Esenbe Company, Western Pennsylvania distributors for Atwater Kent radio, the "Screen Grid Revue" will be held for dealers in the Blue Room of the William Penn Hotel today. The guest speaker, L. H. Sullivan, from the Atwater Kent factory, has chosen for his subject radio's latest development, the most discussed phase of the industry today, the "Screen Grid."

A year and a half of research and experiment, and over 1,500 hours test of the perfected screen grid set places Mr. Sullivan as an outstanding authority on his subject. Other speakers include A. R. Gasslein, of Philadelphia; A. A. Buehn, H. M. Swartz and H. B Dygert.

Over 250 Western Pennsylvania Atwater Kent dealers or their representatives will be present.

Mifflin Annexation Ordinance Presented

An ordinance granting the city's consent to the annexation of a section of Mifflin township erroneously omitted in the annexation proceedings of last February has been presented to Council. The territory contains 10 taxables all of whom have petitioned to join the city.

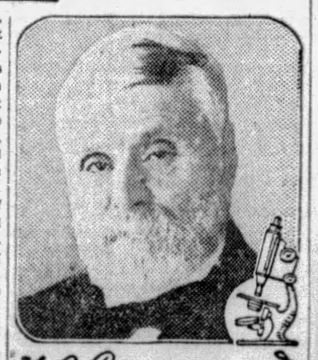
Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men



As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice, he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and placed it on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a public success as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have many hundreds of letters [illegible] helped when everything else failed.

While women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, its mild, gentle action is promptly effective on the most robust constitution and in the most obstinate cases. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it willingly. Every drug store

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Debutante Group Taking Active Part in Dog Show At Sewickley

THE young folks down Sewickley way are enjoying what is certainly the busiest week of the entire summer. With all the coming-out parties of the "little season" concentrated within a seven-day period, and all the entertaining for these debutantes and one or two of next fall's, it is really hard for the girls to find time for their regular golf and tennis and dips in the pool.

I mentioned Sewickley specifically because most of the parties are being held down there, although one of the week's buds is a Pittsburgh girl—Frances Johnston—and several of the debutante affairs have been held in the city.

This gay week will be closed Saturday with the dog show and members of the debutante group are taking an active interest in arrangements for this exhibition of the aristocrats of the canine world. The show is being held at the Allegheny Country Club horse show ring, you know, under the auspices of the Sewickley Kennel Club. Mrs. William C. Robinson, who is president of the club, has placed her daughter, Mary, who will come out next fall, in charge of the police dog exhibit, which will be held at 4 o'clock. Mary is being assisted by Margaret and Anne Rose, who are being introduced to society tomorrow, and Margaret Holdship and Virginia Willock, who came out last winter. There will be a candy table, too, I understand, and in charge of that will be Mary Elizabeth Floyd, another of this year's buds. She will be helped by two of her sister debutantes, Dorothy Jarvis and Margaret Thompson.

Mrs. Robinson, by the way, hasn't selected a definite date for Mary's debut, although she and Mr. Robinson have taken December 26 for a ball to be held in the Pittsburgh Club in honor of their daughter.

I HAVE another bit of news for you, and that is an addition to the list of debutantes She is Sylvia Burnett Robertson, daughter of Harold H. Robertson, of the Park Mansions, formerly of Sewickley, and she is scheduled to make her bow at a ball which her father will give on December 18 in the Pittsburgh Club.

Sylvia went to school in Baltimore—the Greenwood School—and she has spent the past year studying abroad with a small girls' traveling school. Another Pittsburgh girl who was a member of the school was Frances Forsyth, daughter of the James Magees, of Forbes street, who will be a debutante, too, next winter, making her bow on Christmas Day. Mr. Robertson went across to meet his daughter in Europe and bring her home, arriving here about a fortnight ago.

THIS is the day Frances Johnston is going to make her debut, as I told you before. Her father and mother, the Norwood Johnstons, of Shady avenue, are giving a tea dance in the Longue Vue Country Club to present Frances, you know. And at a tea dance given yesterday in the Allegheny Country Club by the junior William Welch Collins, of Sewickley, their daughter, Katherine, made her bow to her parents' friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Collin received with Katherine, and in the line with them was Jassamin Goddard, of New York. The debutante wore a frock of eggshell lace with a picture hat of horsehair braid in the same shade, while Mrs. Collin was gowned in jade green chiffon with a hat to match. The New York visitor appeared in beige chiffon with a matching hat. The club was decorated throughout in yellow Pernet roses and snapdragon, and blue delphinium.

After the tea dance, the James Barlow Cullums and their daughter, Mollie, gave a dinner in the club for Katherine, and afterwards there was a dance at which the William Ayers Galbraiths were hosts. In the evening, Katherine's frock was of white chiffon made with a full skirt cut short in front and long in back, and her flowers were orchids.

LAST night at 7 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harper K. Beegle, "Harbeth Lawn," Gibsonia, the marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Louise Beegle, and James McClain, son of Frederick McClain, of Gibsonia, was solemnized by the Rev. George Rowland, of Coraopolis. The bride wore white taffeta and tulle with a veil held with a cap of seed pearls, and she carried white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids, Miss Mildred Alexander, of Reynoldsville, and Miss Louise King, of this city, wore orchid and flesh-tinted chiffon and carried yellow roses and blue delphinium. Harper K. Beegle, Jr., was the page. Byron Mitchell was best man and the ushers were H. Clarke Stewart and Edwin Ramsey. Mr. and Mrs. McClain will be at home in Bryn Mawr road after July 15.

IN the home of Mrs. Charles A. Fagan in North Highland avenue at 6 o'clock last evening, the marriage of Miss Grace C. Fagan and Page Browne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Browne, of Boston, was solemnized by the Rev. William McMullen, of St. Paul's Cathedral. Only the immediate families were in attendance. The bride wore white satin and duchess lace with a tulle veil held with orange blossoms, and carried Calla lilies. After a trip abroad, Mr. and Mrs. Browne will be at home in Ripley Hill road, Concord, Mass.

THE marriage of Miss Mildred West, daughter of William C. West, of Barnes street, Wilkinsburg, and Lucian Leroy Leape, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Leape, of Covington, Va., was solemnized last night at 7:30 o'clock in the Mifflin Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church by the Rev. Charles J. Whitlach. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore white crepe chiffon and taffeta with a tulle veil held with a coronet of pearls and lace, and she carried a shower of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Ellen Hootman, of Washington, Pa., was maid of honor, wearing pink chiffon and carrying pink roses. Audrey West, sister of the bride, was flower girl, and Miss Clare Brenneman, of Aliquippa, sang. Francis Fairman was best man and the ushers included Robert Brown and Warren Gregory. A reception for the families followed the ceremony in the Penn Lincoln Hotel. After a southern trip, Mr. and Mrs. Leape will be at home in Edgewood. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Charles E. Leape and Claude Leape, and Mrs. Bruce Day, all of Covington; Mr. and Mrs. G. M. West, of Clarksburg, W. Va., and Mrs. Max Hootman, of Washington.

THE wedding of Miss Mary Celestine Desmond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips Desmond, of Oakmont, and Edwin Francis Uhland, of Philadelphia, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Uhland, of Bridgeton, N. J., took place yesterday morning in St. Iraneaus' Church, Oakmont, with the Rev. Thomas J. McCarty officiating. The bride wore white satin with a veil of tulle and Irish lace, and carried a shower of orchids and lilies of the valley. Miss Alice McNulty, of Erie, as her cousin's maid of honor, appeared in green tulle with a hat to match and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Olga Uhland, of Wildwood, Pa., sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Martha Kurtz, of Brentwood, appeared in peach chiffon with hats to match and carried yellow roses. Sarah Louise Desmond, sister of the bride, was flower girl, wearing yellow chiffon and carrying a basket of white roses and lilies of the valley. John P. Desmond, brother of the bride, was best man and the ushers included Willis V. Hug, Edward J. Marx, George Summers and George R. Marx. Miss Alberta Yeaglin played the wedding music and Mrs. Paul Camp, of Bridgeton, sang. Mr. and Mrs. Uhland have left for a western trip and later will be at home in Philadelphia.

THE marriage of Miss Betty L. Bittner, of West street, Wilkinsburg, daughter of George W. Bittner, of Lock Haven, Pa., and Russell C. Towers, of Hartford, Conn., was solemnized yesterday at 4:45 o'clock in Calvary Lutheran Church by the Rev. Luther Krouse. The bride wore pale pink chiffon with a picture hat to match and carried roses and blue delphinium. Her maid of honor, Miss Kathleen D. McMurray, appeared in green georgette with a hat of green horsehair braid, and her flowers were cream roses and baby's breath. A dinner in the Penn Lincoln followed the ceremony. After a trip in the East and New England, Mr. and Mrs. Towers will be at home in Hartford.

Pioneers to Meet At Beulah Church

OLD BEULAH CHURCH on the William Penn Highway will make an appropriate setting for Saturday's meeting of the Keystone Chapter, Daughters of American Pioneers. The members will have luncheon in the church basement and will follow it with a business meeting and a visit to the old graveyard where 13 Revolutionary soldiers are buried. Beulah Church was organized in 1784, and the present building was erected with his own hands by William McCray, great-grandfather of Mrs. Robert M. Ewing, a member of the chapter. The social committee, including Mrs. R.

So crisp you can hear it crackle!

RICE KRISPIES is the new Kellogg cereal that's attracting so much attention. You've never tasted such a different treat.

Nourishing rice. With a flavor like toasted nutmeats. And as for crispness—it actually crackles when you pour on the milk or cream.

Surprise the family with Rice Krispies for breakfast tomorrow. And don't forget lunch. Give the children a bowlful with milk for the evening meal. Healthful and easy to digest.

Rice Krispies make wonderful macaroons and candies. Put them in soups. Serve them buttered, like pop corn.

MAYOR KLINE GIVEN BUST

Mayor Charles H. Kline last night saw his reflection in the mirror of art when three score and more friends gave him a bust sculptured by Frank Vittor at a testimonial dinner in the William Penn Hotel.

The dinner, arranged by Ben L. Steinberg, an assistant city solicitor and many others, was non-political in character, the only reference to the impending mayoralty campaign being a prediction of Peter Glick, state secretary of labor, that "once more, if history repeats, the office will seek the man."

A number of political leaders attended, including Daniel Winters, John Herron, Samuel Gardner, W. Y. English, James J. Coyne, Samuel J. Grenet and Judge Josiah Cohen.

Glick was the principal speaker, with Steinberg the toastmaster. The labor secretary, lauding Mayor Kline, spoke of his loyalty to his friends and home, and referred to him as one who "sought not the office, but was rather sought for the office."

Outlining the mayor's political career, he declared that "when the State Senate needed a capable member, it sought Charles H. Kline; when a vacancy on the judiciary sought a man, it found him; when the mayor's office wanted the man, it not only sought him, but actually drafted him.

"And while I don't venture to be a prophet, I don't hesitate to say that history may repeat itself. It is certain it will again seek him," he concluded.

THE new camp of the Young Women's Christian Association of Pittsburgh will open Saturday. Located near Zelienople, this camp site was chosen for its ideal combination of wooded hills and frontage on the Connoquessing Creek. A farm house on the property has been remodeled for an activities building, and a large dining porch and sleeping cabins have been erected. The first part of the camp period will be devoted to the Girl Reserve groups, with Miss Hazel Bell Withrow, Girl Reserve executive secretary, in charge. The program will include all sorts of outdoors sports, handicraft, nature lore, etc., under experienced counsellors. The first special week-end for older girls will be held July 13 to 15, registrations for which may be made now.

MT. OLIVER MAN HELD TO COURT

Dr. C. C. Peach, whose health institute at 464 Hays avenue, Mt. Oliver, was raided last Friday night, was held for court on a charge of keeping a disorderly house by Justice of the Peace Ira H. Edmundson, in Mt. Lebanon last night. Mrs. Myrtle McKean and Helen Ethel Watt, attendants, arrested in the raid, were held for court on morality charges. Decision was reserved in the case of Edyth Snyder, of Carrick, who testified she was visiting one of the attendants when the raid was made, while the case of Ema May, an alleged attendant, was postponed.

C. C. Peach, Sr., father of Dr. Peach, who was arrested in the raid, was discharged, due to his advanced age.

The son, who is said to be a chiropractor, is under investigation by County detectives.

'Maria' Missing As Dawes Says 'H——' Again

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP).—The personal business of Charles Gates Dawes, United States ambassador to Great Britain, a month ago became the knowledge of the world today after he attended his first formal function at Buckingham Palace.

Just before leaving for London, newspapermen asked the ambassador if he was taking along a supply of silk knee breeches.

"You can go plumb to hell. That's my business," the envoy replied, sucking hard on his underslung pipe.

But when he appeared at court, he was without the English attire adopted by his two predecessors and appeared in formal American evening clothes.

Rows Small Boat Over Lake Michigan

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., June 27.—(INS.)—Claiming the distinction of being the first white man to cross Lake Michigan in a rowboat, Michael Eicher, 40, was resting here today after the arduous journey from Milwaukee, Wis., which kept him continuously at the oars for 27 hours. On his arrival, Eicher showed no marked evidences of strain or fatigue and talked at length of his trip. He said he made his 15-foot boat unsinkable by means of airtight compartments.

ACCORSI FIGHTS EXTRADITION

Attorney Henry Ellenbogen is in New York today, making a hurried trip there to appear as the attorney for Salvatore Accorsi, held in that state as a suspect in the murder of State Trooper James J. Downey, of Greensburg, who was shot to death August 22, 1927, after breaking up a Sacco Vanzetti protest meeting at Acmetonia.

Accorsi has decided to fight extradition to Pennsylvania on the grounds that he will be subjected to coercion and that his personal safety is endangered, it was said there yesterday. State Police Sergt. J. J. Tomek arrested Accorsi after a two-year hunt.

10 Ministers Act As Waiters When Girls Strike

CONNEAUT LAKE PARK, Pa., June 27.—(INS.)—Ten ministerial members of the Christian Laymen's Association, convening here, shouldered trays last night when forty-four waitresses in the Hotel Conneaut went on a sympathy strike after Mrs. Katherine Wolfe, matron for 20 years, was discharged.

Five other ministers operated the dishwasher until an emergency contingent from Park, Meadville and Greenville arrived to serve 600 diners.

When the strikers returned today to serve breakfast they found their places taken by a bevy of school teachers from Edinboro, Indiana and Slippery Rock.

Mrs. Wolfe was discharged by the new management following a verbal battle in the lobby with the head clerk, hotel officials said.

Everything was rosy today, the ministers were happy and the convention continued serenely.

FARMER POSSE SEEKS SLAYER

PARNELL, Ia., June 27.—(INS.)—More than 1,000 farmers in this vicinity were expected to be joined by state agents today in a search for bandits who cut and beat to death George Hardy, 68, wealthy rural storekeeper, in his place of business, five miles west of Parnell. The community was aroused over the crime and it was feared a lynching might follow capture of the murderers.

An iron bar and two knives were found beside the body. Robbery evidently was the motive. Hardy was known to have had little faith in banks and always kept several thousand dollars in his store, his brother said.

BLOOD CELL PROTEIN SERUM

Heritage to the World TRADE MARK

Today a new humanism is being erected upon the foundations which are being placed within the grasp of man. Mr. Ford outlined well the new movement toward achieving greater Health for the nation. This awakening is bending like a new bow of promise across the sky of human hope, relieving misery and suffering. The usefulness and good of this awakening depend on its universality and permanence, upon the socialization of science. We must enter the holy temple and tear aside the mystic veil and through publicity in simple form reveal the mysteries of medicine to the people. For if the scientist gain the whole world and cannot share it with mankind, civilization will again lose its soul. But if a true scientific and humanistic channel can bring all the ministries of medicine to the common man, it will endow him with a new and larger life, unknown powers for efficiency and social service.

No doctor is greater than his remedy. Over a million dollars have been spent on this remedy, and over a million people have benefited. Twenty years of successful use.

PUBLIC OPINION DEPENDABLE

Sick people are coming to this Laboratory because the cost of serums is cheaper than medicine, because 35,000 have found a fair and honest examination with no Doctor charges, because the Laboratory is incorporated and has the exclusive License to administer Protein Serums. You have watched this Laboratory grow for seven years and no one has ever been able to criticize its plan, policy or conduct.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Friday, June 28

THE favorable position of Uranus, the planet of change, abrupt visitations, and radical departures, points to this day as having eventful developments. There may be removals, journeys or change of employment, bold adventures; but be careful in the making of contracts and sign all manner of writing with due care. The purely personal affiliations and activities may also develop interesting situations. Guard against accident.

Those whose birthday it is stand at the threshold of an eventful year, with some unforeseen opportunities, and probably sudden changes or journeys. There will be an incentive to initiative after the removal of old obstacles, but be very careful in making new contracts and in signing all manner of writings. The social, domestic and affectional activities will also be lively and interesting. A child born on this day may be bold, original, independent and capable, and should make a success in pioneering or new, even hazardous, ventures.

Change, like a sky that clouds, that clears, hangs o'er the rectifying years.—St. Clair Adams.

Washing Eiderdown Quilts

Eiderdown quilts should be washed in a mixture of soap jelly and warm water to which has been added a tablespoonful of ammonia.

BEACH COMBERS

Drawn by Dorothy Flack

BEACH COMBERS! The words bring visions of far-off tropic islands and a very different type of beach comber to the one we have in mind. Once they were considered more or less outcasts, but now! Walk along any beach on these lovely Summer days and you'll see beach combers who are veritable Loreleis. Whether it be a 'wind blown" bob or the "new-fashioned" crown of glory falling in long, soft waves, there they are, calmly combing out their tresses, and I'm sure they know what temptresses they are.

Only, unlike the Lorelei, they never lead to destruction. Rather, they lure to Happiness and Love. For who can resist their charm? Not one of the very best Beloveds who cluster round them. In fact, they're totally oblivious of the admiring glances cast in their direction by passers-by. Their thoughts and hearts are too full of the loved one, and the thought uppermost in their minds is that they must look their very best, so that when Mr. Loved One joins them they'll be—well, irresistible.

Bless their hearts! Some may say they're not modest, but that's so silly! They're just happy, healthy, normal girls, with the same yearnings for Love and Happiness that every woman through the ages has felt. So don't criticize too harshly. Remember your own youth and be tolerant and helpful.

Steaming hot in WINTER

TETLEY TEA

is a delightful year-round drink

IN SAVORY, steaming cups of dainty porcelain, when winter winds blow chill . . . in tall, tinkling glasses, amber-clear, when summer suns are scorching down. . . . Tetley Tea lends itself gracefully to any occasion—to any season. It is refreshing, invigorating—always.

Try Tetley hot. You'll find that that fagged feeling begins to fade away with the first cheering, stimulating sip. Try Tetley with crushed ice and the tarty tang of lemon. Cooling comfort and complete contentment will meet you at the rim of the glass. And, hot or cold, you'll know for all time that it is genuinely good tea.

Tetley Tea is economical too. It goes farther because it brews stronger, but it costs no more than ordinary teas. You can get it at your grocer's in pounds, ½-pound and ¼-pound packets or in tea bags for individual service.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

The President's 'Child's Bill of Rights'

PRESIDENT HOOVER has issued what might be called "The Child's Bill of Rights." I quote it here:

"The ideal to which we should strive is that there shall be no child in America:

"That has not been born under proper conditions;

"That does not live in hygienic surroundings;

"That ever suffers from undernourishment;

"That does not have prompt and efficient medical attention and inspection;

"That does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and good health;

"That has not the complete birthright of a sound mind in a sound body;

"That has not the encouragement to express in fullest measure the spirit within which is the final endowment of every human being."

Let is, for a moment, think about this "bill of rights." It asks nothing that should not be the aim of all parents and expectant parents for their children. It insures for the child, fortunately enough to be so endowed, an equal or more than equal chance to meet the problems of life.

What does it mean to be born under proper conditions? What are these conditions? Healthy parents is the first essential. A home founded on right living, right thinking, respect for society—this is important.

To live in hygienic surroundings—this is not an unfair demand, no matter what the wealth of the family may be. A home can be clean, the children clean—this should be the rule anyhow. Sunshine and fresh air are important.

In order not to suffer from undernourishment the food may be plain, but it must be nourishing. Today no child need be without those essentials of food which make for sturdy growth and a strong body. This should be the heritage of every youngster.

To have prompt and efficient medical care and medical inspection is the next requirement. There was a time when complete examinations and treatment were only within the reach of the favored few. Today, fortunately, this is not the case. For those who have no means to employ physicians the endowment of great funds for child welfare, the child health clinics, under the supervision of the health departments of all the big cities and the local hospital clinics, insure proper care for every man, woman and child.

There is no reason why the bill of rights should not be enforced for every child. We are happy it is so.

Answers to Health Queries

C. W. H. Q.—What can be done for itching? I am a man 70 years of age and this occurs in cold weather.

A.—This condition may be due to constipation, auto-intoxication, intestinal disturbance, poor nutrition, overeating or to some food poisoning.

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

Loose Marriage Ties

THOSE mid-Victorian cynics, who scoffed at the idea of love-in-a-cottage, should have tried love in a kitchenette apartment!

Lots of these modern divorces and marital miseries can be traced to the flatness of life in a city flat. And that, in spite of all the modern improvements and conveniences, which should make life one long, sweet dream, and eliminate all the old standardized causes of dissension.

HELEN ROWLAND

No quarrels over who shall get up and light the fire mornings, or who shall go down in the cellar and shake the furnace nights.

No arguments as to who shall go out and lock the garage, or who shall bring in the logs for the fireplace, or who shall put out the cat, or bring the swing in out of the rain, or trot up and see if the attic windows are closed.

No discussions about when to mow the lawn or how soon to plant the nasturtiums, or when to order the coal, or to paint the piazza, or to clip the honeysuckle, or whether to invite Mother for the summer!

Nothing to do but press a button, or ring up the janitor, or postcard the landlord. Nothing to get on your nerves, except stumbling over each other's shoes at night, and trying to dodge each other's knees in the "dinette" at breakfast.

But, that's just what makes flat-life so FLAT! There is something so impersonal and "companionate" about an apartment. You are attached to it, but you are not wedded to it. It doesn't "belong" to you. It isn't a "home"—it's just a temporary parking place.

The best part of a home, a husband, marriage or anything, is the belief that it is going to be a permanent thing in your life. Working together for the possession of a home, building it and beautifying it together, owning it together, is one of the strongest ties that bind a man and a woman to each other.

A rented apartment is like "trial marriage." You don't care much what happens to it. You always feel that you can get OUT of it! What does a man care how he spots up the woodwork or burns holes in the parquet floors. He may not be there another year, anyway. What does a woman care whether the curtains match the walls or not, or how the furniture suits the rooms?

And when two people start out with a pre-nuptial agreement to separate, the first time one of them feels bored, where is the incentive to make a beautiful thing of their marriage, to stick to it, and build a life together? You don't plant a garden around an apartment.

Whether a marriage lasts a minute, a day, a year, or forever, it should start out with the fixed idea of PERMANENCY. Otherwise, there is no meaning to it; no kick, no tang and no incentive in it. To go into marriage with the idea that it may not last, is to take your divorce decree with you to the altar! You are merely RENTING yourselves to each other—and you're sure to break the lease!

Love's Awakening

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Lillian Grants Ronald Permission to Call on Marion at School.

I SAW Lillian's lips tighten as Marion craved permission to "ask her something," and I knew that she surmised the question had something to do with Ronald Brixton. But her response was prompt and kindly.

"Of course, sweetheart," she said. "What is it?"

"Well—you—see—it's like this." Marion was stammering and her cheeks were crimsoning. "Mrs. Barnes is awfully strict about anybody coming to call on the girls—boys, I mean. A boy has to have special written permission signed by a mother or a father, and, more than that, it must be given to Mrs. Barnes personally by one of the parents before he can get past the front door or telephone a girl."

"Yes, I know that, Marion," Lillian said. "Those are the regulations of any good school."

Marion nodded, swallowed hard and began again:

"Almost all the girls have boys on the favored list—brothers, cousins."

"Yes, when I entered you I remember Dr. Barnes saying that the way the cousins multiplied after a girl entered school was one of the marvels of the ages."

Lillian's tone was dry, amused, and her young daughter's flush deepened.

"But I haven't anybody at all," she went on bravely, "and—Ronald—is coming down to see Carolyn once in a while—and he wanted me to ask you if you'd write him permission to see me also when he comes, and to telephone me, and he wants to write to me once in a while, too."

She tumbled the words out in hurried staccato fashion, with her eyes fixed pleadingly upon Lillian's. I found myself holding my breath as I waited for my friend's answer. It was so natural and so ingenous a request that I felt Lillian must grant it. A refusal would be a grave mistake.

For perhaps ten seconds Lillian did not answer, and I saw Marion's beautiful gray eyes change from appeal to wonderment, and then to hostile disappointment. But they softened immediately when Lillian turned to me with a little smile and said:

"We'll leave the decision to Auntie Madge."'

I knew that the victory was Marion's, for Lillian already was aware of my opinion, and I cut short the child's suspense at once.

"I decide for Ronald," I said promptly. "He may write and telephone and call."

Marion started toward me, but checked herself at the first step. I knew that if it had been some other favor than one involving Ronald Brixton she would have flung herself at me and hugged me ecstatically. But she did not wish her mother or me to see how high a valuation she put upon the permission given her.

"Thank you both so much," she said sedately. "May I go and tell Ronald and Carolyn now? They are anxious to hear."

"Of course, run along," Lillian said. But when the door had closed behind her my friend faced me with tragic eyes.

"My baby has gone, Madge," she said. "This is just the beginning."

"Of course it is," I said. "But please don't act as if the wedding march was sounding in your ears. The boy hasn't asked Marion's hand in marriage, you know. I don't think you need to plan her trousseau for another fortnight."

I felt as if I were touching a real grief brutally, but I knew that she must not be permitted to brood foolishly over a perfectly natural request of her young daughter's, and I felt justified in my crassness when the tragic lines of her face relaxed and she smiled, though ruefully.

"I'll try to be reasonable," she said. "Come on down. We've got to take all of Marion's traps over to school with her."

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

Introductions

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

When being introduced to a young man, is it right to say "Pleased to meet you" or "Glad to know you?" If not, what is proper?

D. D.

I SEE that you are a newcomer to my column, D. D., and I welcome you heartily, for we must chat with you about many things that are revealed in your question. First, I take it for granted that you are a girl, and so your question must be changed to read, "When a young man is being introduced to me"—since a gentleman is presented to a lady, not a lady to a gentleman.

Then, too, promise me — most solemnly—that you will cast from your vocabulary "Pleased to meet you" and "Glad to know you," for they are both terrible, and if we say them when we acknowledge an introduction, we reveal at once that we don't know what's what. There is one phrase that can be used, that should be used, when we acknowledge an introduction, a phrase that is always correct, and that is always used by people "in the know"—that is, "How do you do." It may seem meaningless to you, you may not particularly care "how the other person "does," but nevertheless and notwithstanding, this is still the correct and polite and well-bred and accepted thing to say.

I am being particularly vigorous about this, because to me what we say when we acknowledge an introduction is of the utmost importance, since it is the first impression that the person being introduced to us gets of us. And surely that is important, in this hurried world, when first impressions count for so much. Now, if you say, after an introduction, "Pleased to meet you"—well, the person being introduced to you will know, and will know inevitably, that you haven't paid enough attention to good form and good manners. But if you say, "How do you do?" or "How do you do, Mr. Worthington?" and say it with a gracious and accustomed manner, he or she will know that you are well-bred and careful of your manners.

Wearing a Muffler

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Will you please tell me if it is correct to wear a muffler with a light topcoat?

BERNIE.

YES, if you wish, but the fact that a light topcoat is worn usually argues that a muffler is not necessary.

Jack Beamer Calls Nancy And Tells Her He May Divorce His Wife

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Nancy Hollenbeck, young and beautiful, wants to keep her newest beau, Mat Tully all to herself. Returning from a ride she leaves him at her door to avoid her mother's questionings and her sister's stares. Later Mrs. Hollenbeck warns Nancy against her own mistakes of marrying a poor man. Nancy after a sleepless night decides to follow her mother's advice. She breaks a date with Mat. Louise and Nancy leave for the annual house party of the rich Craigs. Nancy meets Jack Beamer, handsome English sportsman, married to wealth. Mrs. Craig comments. Louise, Nancy's sister, and Mat discover Beamer ardently embracing Nancy. Nancy, out with Jack Beamer until 3 o'clock, tearfully defends her actions to Louise. Next morning Mrs. Craig tells the girls their mother has wired for them to return. They are bundled into the car with sad farewells from the assembled young guests. At home Mrs. Hollenback informs them their rich Aunt Ellie has arrived.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VI.

AUNT ELLIE WATSON was sitting in the rocker in Mrs. Hollenbeck's sunny bedroom, sipping a cup of warm milk. "I'm stout," she was accustomed to admit, "but I'm not strong. That's why I take a little nourishment every two hours. Just a bite, and a sip of milk, to keep my strength up."

She was looking as strong as usual, Nancy noticed resentfully, as she came in to kiss her, and tell her how awfully glad they were to see her, and to think that she really wanted them with her for the summer.

"Dear Aunt Ellie!" she cried, putting her arms around her, and making a little grimace at Lou, who stood in the doorway waiting her turn.

"Dear Aunt Ella!" Louise echoed, trying to sound as warm and genuine as Nancy, and failing by several degrees. Kissing Aunt Ellie had always been an ordeal for her, but not for Nancy.

"I just concentrate on what I want her to give me for Christmas and then I can forget her moustache, and the way her fat goes squish—like jelly," Nancy confessed. But though she had been good naturedly instructing the squeamish Louise for years, Louise's efforts were not convincing.

Try as you like, you couldn't love Aunt Ellie. Just when you'd feel a little warm because you were unexpectedly in her good graces, she'd spoil it all by saying something cutting to mama, or being particularly ugly to poor Uncle Joseph. If she gave you $20 on Christmas, she wanted to take it back on New Years to put in the savings bank for you. There was a string tied to everything. Even the beautiful ruby ring she gave Lou on her twenty-first birthday. "Too valuable for you to lose," she said, "so I'll just keep it for you in my safety deposit box. Whenever you want to wear it you just let me know." Lou had worn it twice.

So Nancy wasn't going to get excited about this. Anything might happen to spoil it. Still, the relief of finding that Mrs. Craig really hadn't had anything to do with their being sent for, of finding no fresh calamity at home, and stingy Aunt Ellie actually in a mood for spending money, was not to be taken lightly.

For years they had been dreaming about this . . . "Some day your Aunt Ellie will take you on a trip . . . Europe maybe . . . she can certainly afford it!"

It wasn't Europe of course, but even Yosemite was exciting. Yosemite, and the new Awahnee Hotel, "twelve and a half up!"

"I can't believe it!" Louise whispered, taking a few tango steps in the kitchen. "Something'll happen, sure as fate, she'll never go through with it. Think of it, the Awahnee! If we aren't in luck, I've been praying for it, for seven years!"

Nancy shut the door tight behind them. "Nothing will happen. Didn't you hear her telling mama? She's just doing this to spite Uncle Joseph. She's furious because he's had to go to the hospital, poor old thing. Didn't you hear her saying that she wouldn't mind if it was an appendix but there wasn't any sense to it when it was only rheumatism? She thinks he's trying to get away from her, and more power to him, if he is. And she's punishing him by spending a lot of money—I mean she thinks she's punishing him—and just taking us to run up the bill. Lordy, we're in luck! If she stays in this state of mind even for a few days, we'll make a haul. We deserve it too. I can feel her moustache yet . . . ugh! If I ever get as old and fat and nasty as that I hope some one puts arsenic in my soup—honest!"

Everyone was nervous at dinner. Nervous and excited. "Have some more of the peas," mama begged, "and just a little more gravy, Ellie. Papa, you're neglecting Ellie! She'll have another chop!"

"Yes, just a little chop," papa echoed, moist with hospitality, getting the last one on the serving fork.

"No indeed, I'm a very light eater," Aunt Ellie demurred, waving it away with a fat hand. But she took it, spreading it lightly with butter. "It's a funny thing, I can't eat anything dry. It goes against me. Well, just a little more potato, Kitty. I suppose I have to keep up my strength though I don't know what for with Joseph in the hospital spending money like water, and looking at all the pretty nurses. You can't tell me, men are all alike. I gave him the best years of my life, and now when he could be some comfort to me—"

"Yes, you've had a beautiful life," mama interrupted hastily. "I only hope that the girls will marry as happily. But, dear me, it costs so much these days, with two young ladies . . ."

"Without capital," papa interrupted, feeling that it required a man to steer the conversation into safer channels, as Aunt Ellie was getting ready to go back to the hospital, and pretty nurses. "Without capital a man is handicapped. But with a little cash, to take care of his indebtedness, and make a few intelligent investments . . ."

Papa's voice droned on. Not even Aunt Ellie could stop him now. Investments. Securities. Presidential elections. Large, mouth-filling phrases. Nobody would ever guess that it was all leading up to a loan of $50. Nobody but Louise, who knew there was $25 still due on the electric refrigerator, and $10 on the radio, and $5 on the davenport, and overdrawn at the bank.

"Oh, if she only would lend us something! It would help so much!" But papa never got courage to actually ask outright, and Aunt Ellie always pretended she didn't understand.

"And this trip won't help either," she thought despondently, automatically serving second helpings of bread pudding. "We'll have a few days of fun seeing the Yosemite—that will be something—and that Aunt Ellie will realize she's spending too much money, and back we'll come. Back to the river probably . . . and Jack Beamer will be still there, to drag Nancy into more mischief . . . and Mat . . . Mat Tully . . ."

"Telephone, Louise," Mrs. Hollenbeck said mildly, accenting her words with a little kick under the table. Dinner-time telephone calls were invariably for Nancy, but for some vague family reason it was supposed to be Lou's duty to answer, nobody knew why.

"Oh!" Blushing because she had been too absorbed in bitter-sweet memories of Mat to hear it, Louise rose to answer. Aunt Ellie followed her with pale, curious eyes.

"When I was a girl," mama said, "young men were too considerate of a young lady to interrupt at the dinner hour."

"Nonsense," said Aunt Ellie, "when you were a girl there were no telephones. Who is this beau of Louise's? Maybe I'll give them their flat silver."

"Nancy—for you-oo!"

Louise was calling from the hall. Nancy got up, dimpling. "And if I get married first, do I get the silver?"

"Nancy!" mama cried, "I won't have you talk like that! What will Aunt Ellie think?"

Nancy only giggled. When she had gone Aunt Ellie Watson said, "She won't need it. She'll marry money. She's got a head. Looks a lot like I did when I was 19. Did I ever show you that picture of me, before I married Joseph?"

"No, you never did," mama said with dignity.

Peter Hollenbeck choked.

Nancy hung up the receiver with fingers that shook.

"Well?" Louise was waiting. Sitting on the stairway, hugging her knees.

"It—it was Jack. Jack Beamer, you know."

"I know." Louise's generous mouth was a hard red line.

Nancy lifted dark eyes, soft as pansy petals, to meet her sister's uncompromising gaze. "If you're going to be mean about it there's no use my telling you what he said."

"Oh, I can guess. The usual line of softsoap. His regular line."

"No, it wasn't." Nancy was trembling all over now. She licked her lips, and glanced anxiously toward the closed door into the dining room.

"Well, what did he want?"

"Anita—Mrs. Beamer—is going to meet him at Del Monte tomorrow—she's coming up for the golf tournament. He's going to—" Nancy's voice thinned to a frightened squeak, "to—see how she feels about a divorce!"

Unwanted By Marian Buxton Clark Daily Short Story

DICK BROWN slit open the envelope and unfolded the letter from his chief in the New York office.

"Dear Mr. Brown," he read, "I have been fortunate in securing A. Duncan as your new advertising manager.

"I have never met Mr. Duncan, but his splendid work has been brought to my attention on many occasions.

"His wire, inclosed, states he will report on Monday the eighth.

"Very truly yours,
"M. A. ROLLAND."

Dick frowned — why couldn't old Rolland let him hire his own staff? What was the use of being sales manager if you couldn't engage whom you pleased?

Dick opened the wire inclosed. "Will arrive in Dansville Monday the eighth" signed "A. Duncan."

Well, it was too late to do anything now. Dick walked into the advertising office which was next to his own.

"The new advertising manager will be here Monday," he announced to the staff—"Mr. Rolland hired him so you all know as much about him as I do."

Ray Carpenter, the head copy man, said, "Dam" and went on with his work.

"Don't get grouchy," Brown laughed—"Just be thankful he had sense enough to hire a man for this job."

On Monday morning the eighth, Dick Brown was smoking a cigar and frowning over a very poor layout when his secretary brought in a card—

"A Duncan," he read—then—"Show him in."

"Him!" exclaimed Miss Burke—"er—ah—oh— yes" and, giggling, she hurried from his office.

A moment later, Brown glanced up from his work and looked into a pair of soft blue eyes. He scrambled to his feet—

"Was there something—?" he began.

"You are Mr. Brown, I presume," said the sweetest voice he had ever heard—"I am Miss Duncan, the new advertising manager."

"Miss Duncan!" Dick Brown repeated as if in a daze—"but the letter said—that is, I thought—"

"You thought I were a man," laughed the prettiest girl Dick had ever seen—"I'm sorry, but I just cannot write Anastasia Duncan. Isn't it terrible to have a name like that for life—Mr. Brown?"

Dick Brown held out his hand and when A. Duncan placed her soft one in it, he wasn't at all sure that her name would be Anastasia Duncan—for life.

And A. Duncan thought Dick Brown's embarrassment, as he introduced her to the staff, was because of this error in the sexes. She didn't know that Dick had boasted to the force that he would "make young Duncan work like the devil, and soon settle him if he had any fanciful ideas he wanted to try out."

Two months later every man in the office had asked the new advertising manager to lunch—and gone on out to a cafeteria alone. A. Duncan never mixed business with food—or pleasure.

Dick Brown sulked after her refusal to go with him.

"It's a fine predicament when the advertising manager tells the sales manager what he, I mean she, will or will not do," Dick told himself, and tried not to think how pretty A. Duncan was as she talked over a coming publicity campaign.

Six months later Mr. Rolland made a trip to the midwestern office.

"What ails all you men?" he roared. "Miss Duncan is the only person out of this outfit to send in any valuable ideas."

And Dick Brown didn't tell him that the whole force was so busy thinking about A. Duncan that they forgot all about the new publicity ideas.

Eight months after the new advertising manager's arrival, Dick Brown told himself he wished he had never laid eyes upon A. Duncan.

Then, one day an open letter for the whole office came from Mr. Rolland.

"There is a position as general manager open in our California office. I will give this place to the person in the publicity department who sends in the most valuable ideas for our new campaign."

The next two weeks were a period of secrecy. Members of the staff passed one another entering the public library, and noon hours were spent in deep study. A. Duncan had a queer, self-satisfied smile on her face and Dick Brown often found her looking intently at him.

"Have you written your ideas for the compaign—Mr. Brown?" she asked one day.

And Dick Brown pushed tired fingers through his black hair and answered, "No."

Dick knew A. Duncan's ideas would win, and he didn't want her to get that California position. Not that he was jealous, but because life would be unbearable without her here in the office.

Mr. Rolland came to the office personally to announce the winner.

"Well, Mr. Brown," he declared, "you have redeemed yourself. Your ideas were remarkable and the new position is yours."

Dick Brown looked dazed—and his eyes traveled around the office force until they rested on the face of A. Duncan.

Happy? Why the girl's face fairly shone and she seemed to be trying to conceal a smile.

"Thanks," Dick replied, "and now if I might talk some matters over with Miss Duncan," and he hurried to his own office.

A moment later A. Duncan opened the door—

"You wanted to see me?"

"Yes — and close the door," Dick ordered.

"Now, young lady—why did you do it?" he asked.

"Do what? Close the door?" she parried.

Dick Brown came around the desk and stood before her—

"Why did you send all your ideas in as mine?" he demanded.

For the first time since he had known her, A. Duncan lost her composure. She hung her head like any bashful young girl would do, and a bright red spot showed on each cheek.

"I love you, Anastasia Duncan," Dick said, "but I never dared hope you cared for me. Why did you get me that western position?"

"Be — because—I always wanted to go to California."

This was the first time Dick Brown had ever been in love—and he seemed awfully dull of comprehension.

"I still don't understand—"

"They say it's a wonderful honeymoon trip," whispered a very small voice it was hard to recognize as A. Duncan's.

"You angel," was all Dick Brown said. Then he forgot all about offices and positions and took his advertising manager in his arms.

Much later, he whispered—

"If you'll be the general manager's general manager, I think we can manage all right," ending shyly—"Dear."

A. Duncan smiled. "That's so much nicer than—Anastasia."

CHARTER ACTION AWAITS OFFICIAL COUNT

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

by HAVEY J. BOYLE

THE men who move stealthily through the city because they are wanted by the police of Pittsburgh or some other city try to get to cover quickly when the word is out that another job has been pulled. Wholly innocent of the latest crime they know that it won't be long before the city bulls begin making a round up of "s. p.'s" and while the men with records know they can't be accused of the newest crime they also know that a probing of their records, a comparison of their pictures and measurements, will result in a call from the cities where they are wanted for old misdeeds. There is seldom a murder in town which does not result in a roundup and a subsequent shipping of suspects to cities that have advertised for their whereabouts.

There are other inconveniences, too. The city detectives cannot always be gentle in ferreting out the guilty ones and the suspects rounded up know they are in for a bit of the third degree.

PAWN SHOPS where guns are brought and are offered as collateral for small loans offer fertile fields for clues and of course there is always a stool pigeon or so who is eager to give the tip-off. The stool pigeon is a peculiar fish. Sometimes he is prompted to give a tip to get consideration from the police, but many times he gives a tip just to be able to say he was in on the case in question. Some of the stools are on the borderline of the law and because they prove valuable in helping to solve important crimes their illegal activities are winked at by the police.

Inspector Frank Boyd, boss of the local detectives, can weave you many a tale of the "inside" of things." For "reasons of state" certain investigations are not given publicity, but it is a strange man, indeed, who is not catalogued one way or another in the archives, real and mental, of the local force.

EVERY morning the men report to Inspector Boyd for their orders. There are routine assignments every day and there are investigations. One of the tough assignments is when Inspector Boyd must assign one or two of his men to watch out for pickpockets and such like at the ball games.

One of the hardest jobs in town is acting as master of ceremonies. These boys must be able to sing a little, dance

CHARLEY FERLIN, the local guide, reports he is taking the following Pittsburghers and near-Pittsburghers to Paris with him next Monday: Cy Hungerford, Ben Cooper, Merle Coulter, Ira Hurwick, Louis Hole, Orion Cochenour, N. J. Lippard, Dan Davis, George J. Morrison, Dave Hillman, Dick Newman, John P. Mellon and Harvey Doyle.

AVALON EXPECTS 30,000 AT 4TH FETE

All Attendance Records To Go, According to Promoters; Program Ready

Avalon is preparing to play host to 30,000 persons at its annual Fourth of July celebration.

Attendance records, it is expected, will be broken, inasmuch as Bellevue called off its observance. Heretofore, guests have come from a radius of many miles, including Youngstown, O., and New Castle, according to those in charge.

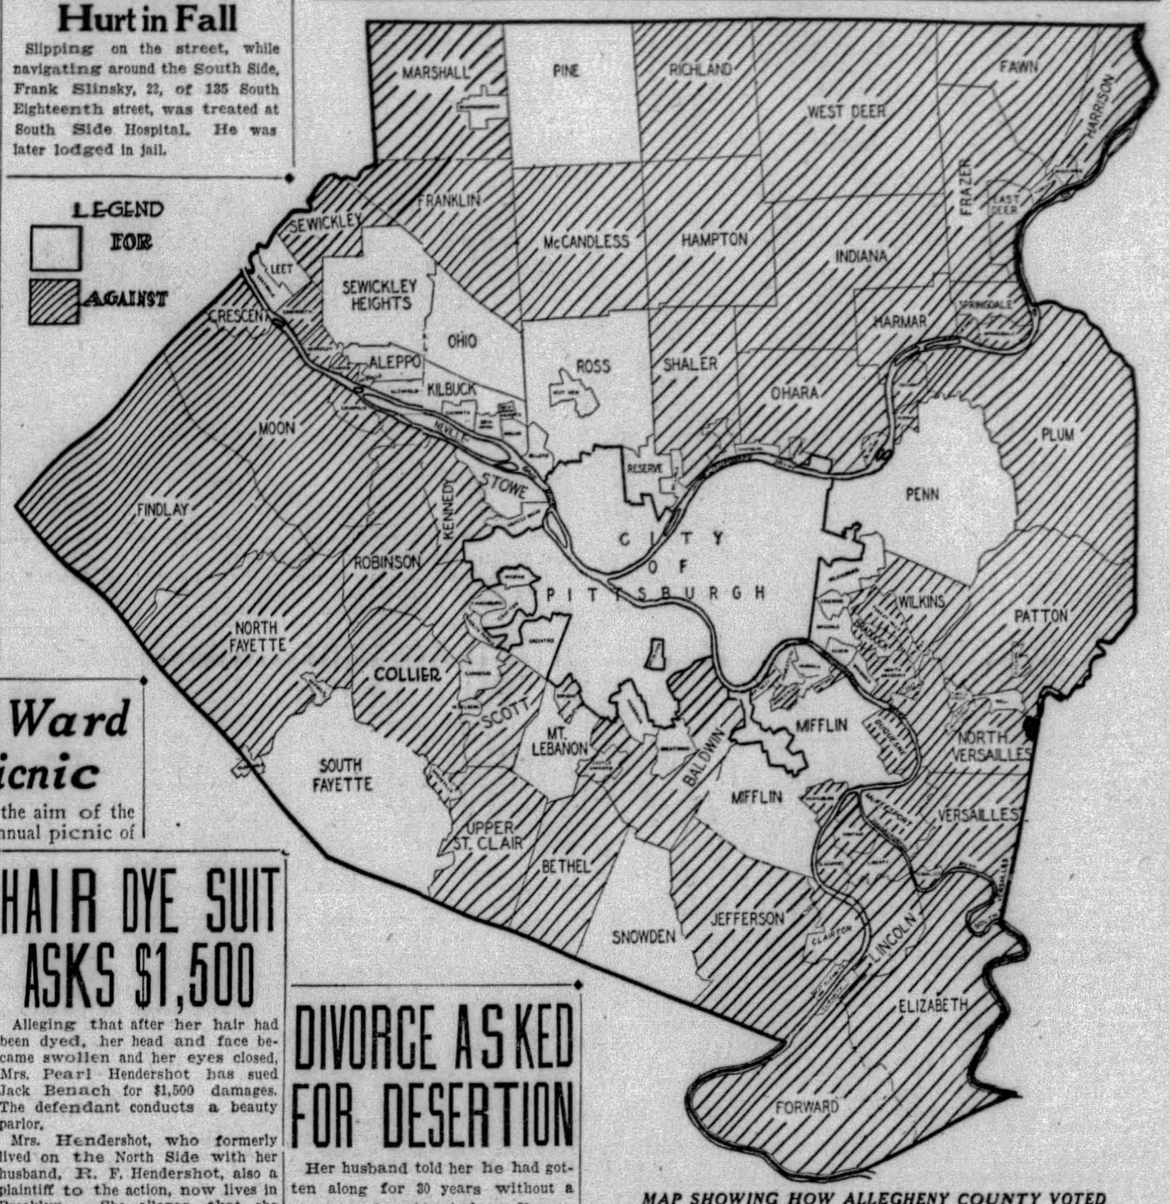
Solicitors reported at a recent meeting of committeemen that residents had contributed almost unanimously.

The program of the celebration calls for athletic events in the natural amphitheater of the high school athletic field, at the foot of School street. Baseball, vaudeville acts and band concerts will be among the afternoon events. A fireworks display will follow at night.

Going Was Rough Legs Fail Him, Hurt in Fall

Slipping on the street, while navigating around the South Side, Frank Slinsky, 22, of 135 South Eighteenth street, was treated at South Side Hospital. He was later lodged in jail.

HOW METRO CHARTER WENT TO DEFEAT



MAP SHOWING HOW ALLEGHENY COUNTY VOTED

A graphic illustration of how the Metropolitan Charter went to defeat at the special election. Note the poor support given it by townships, that the boroughs were practically evenly-divided in accepting or rejecting it and that nearly all the contiguous boroughs to the city proper were favorable. Of the four cities in the county, only Pittsburgh supported the charter.

FUTURE VOTE PLAN VEILED IN SILENCE

Returning Board Starts Work On Ballots; Miller to Talk When Figures Are Given

Official count of the votes cast in the special election for the Metropolitan charter Tuesday was to be started today by a returning board composed of 36 members appointed yesterday. In official circles it was regarded as unlikely that any great change would be found in the results.

Unofficial figures, with only a few districts lacking, summarize 48 corporate units for the charter and 74 against.

PROVIDES FUTURE VOTES

The Metropolitan Commission members were undecided what their next step will be. Chairman Joseph T. Miller, the active director in the campaign, said he would make no statement until the returning board had completed its work. He would not comment on the possibility that the question may be submitted at the November election. The constitutional amendment under which authority the campaign was undertaken, provides that "if rejected, the said charter may be resubmitted to the electors in original, new or modified form, at any subsequent election until adopted."

The legality of resubmitting the charter to electors without further sanction from the Legislature was debated today by the legal fraternity.

The small vote cast Tuesday was a keen disappointment to leaders in the movement for the charter. The approximate vote for the charter was less than 90,000, with about 42,000 against. Pittsburgh, with 183,000 registered voters, polled only 56,000 votes.

ERROR IN BILL BLAMED

An unofficial summary early today showed a majority vote for the charter in the three classifications, cities, boroughs and townships, but under the unitl system the result was as follows:

For the charter—One city, 33 boroughs and 14 townships. Total 48.

Against charter—Three cities, 32 boroughs and 39 townships. Total 74.

A typographical error in revising the House bill carrying the constitutional amendment for the charter was regarded by some as having contributed to its defeat. This amendment was made to read "two-thirds of the ballots cast in each of a majority of the municipalities" as necessary for adoption.

The charter would have been adopted Tuesday had the amendment continued in its original form as two-thirds of the units voted majorities.

Board of 27th Ward Arranges Picnic

An attendance of 10,000 is the aim of the committees arranging for the annual picnic of the Twenty-seventh Ward Board of Trade to be held August 1 in West View Park.

A program of athletic and entertainment events is being made up. Numerous prizes will be awarded to winners in the various events.

Industrial and business houses in the Woods Run district are co-operating, Alderman George A. Young, president of the board of trade, said. He has appointed these committees:

Publicity—J. D. Vico, Jr., J. Vincent Sexton.

HAIR DYE SUIT ASKS $1,500

Alleging that after her hair had been dyed, her head and face became swollen and her eyes closed, Mrs. Pearl Hendershot has sued Jack Benach for $1,500 damages. The defendant conducts a beauty parlor.

Mrs. Hendershot, who formerly lived on the North Side with her husband, R. F. Hendershot, also a plaintiff to the action, now lives in Brooklyn. She alleges that she went to Benach for treatment of her hair. Later, she says he induced her to have it dyed.

The dye was applied December 24 last, she claims. She is represented in the action by J. M. Stoner and Sons.

DIVORCE ASKED FOR DESERTION

Her husband told her he had gotten along for 30 years without a woman and could get along 30 more, Mrs. Rosemary Fitzsimmons, Stanford avenue, East Bellevue, testified before Judge Thomas J. Ford, of Common Pleas Court, in asking for a divorce from Thomas B. Fitzsimmons.

The couple separated in 1924 after a short marriage and at the time of the separation were living in Davis avenue. Mrs. Fitzsimmons had gone home to visit her mother, remained all night and when she returned, found the windows and doors nailed. Fitzsimmons told her, she testified, he would leave her in when he got ready. The couple was married in 1923. Mrs. Fitzsimmons charges desertion.

'PORTIA' ACTS IN CHILD CASE

Miss Esther I. Katten, Pittsburgh attorney, will appear before the Superior Court next Tuesday in Philadelphia, and explain why her client, Mrs. Ida Kaufman, of Gearing street, should not be adjudged in contempt of court in her failure to turn over her 5-year-old daughter, Ruth, to the father, Lewis Kaufman, of Logan street, pending disposition of a writ of supersedeas.

Following an order made by Judge Richard A. Kennedy, of County Court, granting the custody of the child to the mother, the father obtained a writ in taking an appeal to the Superior Court, the County Court having taken the child away from the father, who is separated from his wife.

Miss Katten says she advised the mother not to give up the child because Mrs. Kaufman's physician informed her that owing to the mother's delicate physical condition, the parting might result in her death if she did so. The purpose of the appeal was to again place the custody of the girl in the care of the father, until such time as the higher court passed on the ruling of the County Court.

Mt. Washington Roadway Offered

Ordinances authorizing the extension of Mt. Washington roadway from Liberty Tunnel to Tenth street have been received by Council.

The bills provide for a new thoroughfare from Brownsville avenue to Ninth street, and continuing beyond over existing streets.

The project was estimated to cost $1,007,792, of which $509,000 is available from bond issue funds.

The final meeting of the East Liberty Lions Club until September, was held yesterday at the Carlos restaurant. Representative executives of all the business houses attended the meeting, which was said to have been one of the most enthusiastic yet held.

Vin Barnett, son of Luke Barnett Pittsburgh's funmaker, who has returned from Hollywood for a visit, was the principal entertainer. Selections were given by Mrs. Delphine Heimert, soloist, and Miss Werhle, pianist.

William Davis, William Accetta and William Dietz, who represented the club at the Lions' convention at Louisville, Ky., made their reports at the business session.

Outing Arranged By Church Board

The official board of the Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church of Dormont, will be entertained at a picnic in Dormont Park tomorrow, given by the church pastor, the Rev. Edward Bleakney. The organizations included in this outing will be the deacons, trustees, church school cabinet, advisory council and the general building committee. The members wil be accompanied by their wives and family.

CHURCH ANNEX PLANS MADE

Appropriate services will be held Sunday afternoon at the Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church, when that congregation will break ground for its new $200,000 auditorium in Dormont. The edifice will be erected on ground adjacent to the present building on Alabama avenue. This will be the last official act of the pastor, the Rev. Edward Bleakney, before he leaves July 1 for his vacation to be spent in Canada.

Local ministers who will participate in the ceremony are: Dr. C. W. Petty, the Rev. J. J. Allen, the Rev. O. H. Sisson, the Rev. W. H. Cutler, the Rev. R. O. Hudson, Dr. W. C. Chappell, the Rev. A. J. R. Schumaker, the Rev. B. F. Crawford and Dr. E. C. McCown.

Excavation work will proceed on Monday following the services.

P. R. R. Paints Stations To Aid Aviators

In compliance with the request of William P. MacCracken, Jr., assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is painting on the roofs of freight stations and other suitable buildings the names of the towns in which they are located, as a guide to aviators.

The signs are being put up in the smaller cities and towns off the main line of air travel to assist fliers who may get off the course. The letters are 10 feet square and, weather permitting, can be read from an altitude of 4,000 feet. In addition to the name of the town there is an arrow with letters indicating the points of the campass.

Such a sign already has been put up in Burgettstown. Other points in the Pittsburgh territory that are to be thus marked are Oil City, Latrobe, McGees, Blue Rock, Redbank and Westford, Pa., and East Orwell, Hudson, and Warren, O.

Will Rogers Says

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 27.

See the Lindberghs are flying west. They have their camping outfit with 'em. If somebody lands in your back yard and you smell bacon frying, it won't be a soul but Annie and Charley. He is the first aviator to carry his own cook. Lucky for aviation that he picked that sensible girl. Where would we have been if he had married some girl that thought her husband was too valuable to fly?

See where Fletcher, our Ambassador to Rome, is retiring. He always struck me as being about the best man we had in that svc.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

Picnickers Break Ground for Lake, Hope for Charter

MRS. WILLIAM E. BEST — JOSEPH MARKS — C. V. SHOUP — A. KIESSLING

MRS. T. HITCHINGS — GEORGE P. KOUNTZ

Guests on the William Penn Highway farm of Wr. A. L. Lewin at the annual Allied Boards of Trade of Allegheny County outing.

E. C. NIED — JOHN BASH — JOSEPH WILLI

Chef Kiessling, at work, one of the most popular persons at the outing. The picnickers broke ground for a half-acre lake and named it "Try Again," significant of the organization's hopes and plans for the future in relation to the defeated Metropolitan Charter.

BENNETT SALE APPROVED

The $100,000 bid of Charles E. Baker for the stock and fixtures of the J. G. Bennett Company, bankrupt, made at public auction, stands. Baker appealed to the Federal Court to set aside the bid, but Judge Nelson McVicar upheld Referee in Bankruptcy Watson B. Adair in confirming the sale. Baker sought to have it set aside on the grounds that he had withdrawn his bid before the auctioneer banged his hammer closing the bidding.

After a hearing before the referee in bankruptcy, at which the latter held the bid was regular, Baker consented to a resale, which was held and the assets bought in at $70,100 by Schloss Brothers, Inc., of Baltimore, Md. Under the agreement the referee is holding Baker responsible for the difference between his bid and that made at the second sale.

ALLIED BOARDS STAGE PICNIC

Defeat of the metropolitan charter failed to spoil picnic plans of the Allied Boards of Trade of Allegheny County, which broke ground yesterday for a lake and named it "Try Again."

The annual event was staged at the Lewin farm, Greensburg pike, by Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Lewin. Breaking of grounds for the half-acre lake, to be built in honor of the trade boards, was the feature. Though the outing was to have celebrated a charter victory, defeat of the charter did not spoil the day.

Wives of the picnickers prepared and served a buffet luncheon at 6 o'clock. The evening, which drew a greatly added number of guests, was devoted to motion pictures with the screen arranged at the site of the new Lewin home on the 50-acre farm.

Among civic leaders active on the picnic program were Harry Bastow, secretary; Joseph T. Miller, of the Metropolitan Charter Plan Commission, and C. V. Shoup, international secretary of Mercator Club and trade boards director. On behalf of the trade boards the women presented Mr. Bastow and Mr. Shoup with brief cases for their efforts in support of the charter.

Amaranths Take Sightseeing Trips

Sightseeing trips and a theater party occupied the convention program today for delegates to the Supreme Council, Order of the Amaranth, as they closed their sessions in the William Penn Hotel. The final business session was held last night with the installation of officers after the uncrowning ceremonies. The convention, which opened Monday, brought delegates from several other countries.

Syria Auto Caravan Decides on Conneaut

City Asked to Add Land to Playground

L. E. Neeld, of 640 Wenzel avenue, has forwarded to Council a letter asking the city to acquire land adjoining the public school on Carnahan road, Twentieth Ward, for a playground.

LANG TO SPUR CITY WORKERS

Director Edward G. Lang, of the Department of Public Works, has ordered assistant city engineers and inspectors to appear at his office at 10 a. m., next Monday, for instructions.

Lang did not announce any details in relation to the coming meeting except to say that he intends to improve the service of the employes and impress them with the necessity of expediting public projects.

The director declared he has found a lack of energy on the part of department employes and that he intends to warn them before taking more drastic action.

Police Magistrate Back After Illness

THREE BANDITS SLUG CLERKS; GET $20

Loot Bins, but Fail to Find $100 Concealed in Secret Storage Place

Three armed bandits, who last night held up a P. H. Butler store at 6100 St. Marie street, and escaped with $20 after slugging the manager and a clerk, were being sought by police today.

The bandit trio forced Robert Gracey, of 5703 Rural street, the manager, and his clerk, Frank McAleese, of 6629 Shetland avenue, into a rear room and beat them when they refused to divulge where the money was hidden. They were forced to lie on the floor by one of the robbers, while his confederates searched several bins, one of which yielded $20. The thugs overlooked $100 concealed elsewhere.

They made their getaway in an automobile.

LIONS HEAR HUMORIST

A. K. (Rosy) Rowswell, Pittsburgh's humorist, was the principal speaker and entertainer at the regular weekly dinner of the Lions Club, of Mt. Lebanon, held in the Mt. Lebanon Presbyterian Church, Castle Shannon and Washington roads, last night.

Robert A. Greer was made an honorary member of the club, John J. Retaichak and Robert L. Anderson were inducted new members, and Edwin McAdams was elected a member.

The following Mt. Lebanon residents were dinner guests: Charles Evans, H. M. Milligan, E. J. Ohl, F. J. Cherry, J. E. Mesta and James S. Huey.

W. R. Woods, chairman of the evening, presented each member and guest with favors.

A letter was read from District Governor Dr. A. S. Haines, asking the support of the club for the new district governor, Davis R. Perry, of Altoona.

Rois Brien, a delegate to the Lions national convention held in Louisville, Ky., last week, gave an interesting report of the convention.

Next week's meeting will be the first meeting of the new officers of the club, at which time they will be inducted. A special program has been arranged.

MILLVALE RULE COSTS AUTO DRIVERS $5

Club Officer Warns All Drivers to Keep Close To Curb in Safety Zones

James A. Hemstreet, manager of the touring information bureau of the Automobile Club of Pittsburgh, today characterized as "a question of importance to all Pennsylvania motorists" action of Millvale police, who yesterday began handing out tickets to motorists who followed street car tracks between safety zones and islands in front of the Millvale car barns.

He said a number of members of the club had advised him that a fine of $5 and costs was assessed for the supposed violation of traffic rules under the new motor code which went into effect June 1.

This action of the Millvale police raises a situation which all state motorists must be prepared to meet," he said. The old traffic code contained the following clause:

"'No person shall drive a vehicle through or over a safety zone.'

"This provision still is in the code, with the following clause added:

"No person shall drive a vehicle to the left of a safety zone.

"Under the rules prevailing before June 1, it was not counted an infraction of the code to follow through a safety zone or island on the car tracks, but, as the Millvale officers construe the new law, it is specifically prohibited, and the motorist is obliged to drive to the right of the safety island.

"Until this point is cleared up, either by a ruling from the state highway department or in court, it would be well for all motorists everywhere in the state to turn out to the right and keep close to the curb in driving around a safety zone."

Appeal on Damage Verdict Permitted

The Monongahela Railway Company was granted permission by Federal Judge Nelson McVicar to appeal to the United States Circuit Court in the judgment of the district court in awarding a $15,000 damage verdict November 20, 1928, to William McKay, an employe of the company. The latter brought suit, claiming injuries suffered when he came in contact with uninsulated electric wires while at work at Brownsville, March 1, 1926.

Why? Everybody knew—except Evelyn.

Luckily though, Evelyn's new sister-in-law was very frank. There's no "B.O."—no body odor—marring Evelyn's attractiveness now. She was told the easy way to keep perspiration odorless.

What a giveaway "B.O." is! Treacherous! Always betraying, but never warning the offender.

Don't be deceived. We can't tell when we are guilty because our sense of smell becomes deadened to an ever-present odor. But even when we don't seem to perspire, the pores give off as much as a quart of odor-causing waste daily.

Play safe—bathe with Lifebuoy. Its mild antiseptic lather purifies pores deeply—prevents embarrassing odor. Even removes cigarette smells from the fingers.

HEARING ASKED IN FIGHT ON BOULEVARD TERMINUS

TRAFFIC CIRCLE URGED OVER RAMP PLAN

Council Asks Commission to Give View on Proposals For Halket Street Area

President of Council James F. Malone has asked the City Planning Commission to grant a public hearing today on two proposals for controlling traffic at the eastern terminus of the Boulevard of the Allies.

Malone advised the planners that Council was anxious to discuss the commission's recommendations at today's committee meeting providing the planners had time to formulate a reply.

The original proposal was a traffic circle at the intersection of Halket and Bates streets.

RAMP PROPOSED

The alternate plan, presented yesterday by the Department of Public Works, provides for an overhead thoroughfare ramped from Halket street to a grade intersection at Coltart, Bates and Zalina streets.

The traffic circle was estimated to cost $587,000 and the overhead plan $745,000. A bond fund of $290,000 is all the money available for the project.

The traffic circle was favored by the City Planning Commission before the alternate plan was submitted. It was advocated yesterday in the face of the alternate plan by Attorney Harry J. Applestein and L. P. Monahan, representing owners of abutting property.

OPPOSES WIDENING

The traffic circle was opposed by the Oakland Board of Trade and owners of large realty holdings in the Oakland district.

Applestein said yesterday that Council's action was sought by his clients, who are contemplating the erection of a $750,000 apartment house in the area affected.

He said the ramp proposal would depreciate the adjacent land and cause his clients to abandon their building plans.

The boulevard extension plans include the widening of Wilmot street from 50 to 80 feet at a cost of $348,000.

Applestein objected to the widening on the ground that it was unnecessary and that it would provide a four lane traffic artery, the outlet of which Wilmot Street Bridge, was only a two-lane span.

DAD TEACHES HIM TO RIDE SCOOTER

FRANK DAIM JACK DAIM KENNETH PALMER

Jack has in his father and this funny clown a pair of comedians trying to teach him how to ride a scooter. He'll race today (if he masters the scooter) at West View.

SCOOTER RACE ON TODAY

Today is the day of the West View picnic.

Almost every boy and girl in Pittsburgh is aware of the first Sun-Telegraph "Whoopee" scooter event, which will be staged at this amusement park by some 12 North Side schools.

Preliminaries will be run off during the afternoon within each school, the best boy and the best girl in each school taking part in the final race on the ball field at West View.

Only boys and girls 12 and under will be permitted in this race on "Whoopee" scooters, introduced into Pittsburgh by the Sun-Telegraph only a week ago.

Meanwhile clowns and all the paraphernalia of circus life are becoming interested in the great "Whoopee" scooter epidemic which is sweeping Pittsburgh.

Envious adults watch their children on "Whoopee" scooters secured from the Sun-Telegraph for one 26-week subscription. Great fun is in the making for "Whoopeeites" this summer.

Falling into an ice cream freezer in his father's store, Alex Juhariz, 2, of 1109 Walnut street, Versailles, was drowned last night, according to a coroner's report.

The parents discovered the child in the cooler and summoned a physician, but the child was dead before he arrived.

JULIA BELLE TO BE AUCTIONED

The steamer Julia Belle Swain, on which many a moonlight excursion has been made on the local rivers, is to be sold at public auction. Federal Judge Nelson McVicar yesterday signed an order in admiralty directing that the boat be sold at public sale by a United States marshal on or before July 8.

The sale will be conducted on the landing where the vessel is now moored, in the Monongahela river at Smithfield street. The sale is the result of a foreclosure of a mortgage held by Humphrey Morris from Edward M. Cody and Oscar A. Moore, owners of the steamboat at the time the mortgage was given.

NEGRO SLASHES PASSENGER

Near-panic reigned on a Reedsdale street car at Penn avenue and Fancourt street, late yesterday, when one of two Negroes involved in an argument with the operator of the car drew a knife, and in his haste to escape, slashed a passenger on the head. The victim, John K. Wright, 65, of 200 Grandview avenue, Overbrook, was alighting from the car when the Negro cut him. Eleven stitches were needed to close the wound at the Presbyterian Hospital.

Herman Brust, of 2322 California avenue, operator of the car, told police that the Negroes boarded the car at Chateau and Reedsdale streets. About to alight, they asked Brust for transfers. Informed that no transfers could be issued, they become belligerent. Wright was alighting from the car when one of the Negroes in fleeing, slashed him. Hundreds of pedestrians witnessed their escape up Liberty avenue.

PERILS WOMAN WITH ICE PICK

Alleged to have become crazed from moonshine and to have beaten Mrs. Mylonka Ruthkowski, of 2811 Carey way, South Side, Stanley Lindek, 55, a roomer in the Ruthkowski home, is being held by police pending a hearing today in Morals Court. The woman's clothing was ripped and torn during the struggle with the man, who is alleged to have wielded an ice pick.

Lindek also is said to have threatened several other roomers in the Ruthkowski house before he attacked the woman. Patrolman John Wantje was summoned to the house and he fought with Lindek before subduing him. The woman was attended by a physician who said she was suffering shock.

FOUR IN FAMILY ASK FROLIC TICKETS

Eight Thousand Strips To Be Mailed in Few Days to Applicants

Among the first children to apply to the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph for tickets to the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph frolic at Kennywood Park on July 3 were Edward, Grace, Louis and Mary Stehle, whose letters, all in separate envelopes, came in the first mail yesterday morning.

All of the letters from these children, 15, 11, 13 and 9, respectively, were the same, excepting for the ages. They read:

"Enclosed is a self-addressed envelope in which I desire to have you send me a 10-ticket strip of tickets for the picnic at Kennywood Park July 3.

"I am ( ) years old."

The stationery on which the Stehle tribe wrote its letters is of a peach color. All four of these youngsters used the same ink and their handwriting is nearly the same.

Some confusion existed in the Sun-Telegraph offices until handwriting "experts" divulged the information that the notes were written by four different persons. The Stehle tickets will be sent soon.

Eight thousand trips of 10 tickets to popular amusements in Kennywood Park will be mailed to Pittsburgh boys and girls in the next few days.

It will be impossible to accommodate more than that number of children on July 3, so tickets will be mailed to applicants in the order of arrival of the requests.

Ten big amusements are to be open to guests of the Sun-Telegraph on July 3; the invitation has been extended to everyone—the only limitation being the 8,000 maximum.

Send your requests for tickets to the Kennywood Park Picnic Editor, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa., at once, to be sure of obtaining a ticket.

EXPERT HEADS BLADE FIRM

Frank W. Caldwell, authority on the design and construction of aircraft propellers, has been placed in general charge of technical and research work of the Standard Steel Propeller Corporation, Homestead. During the World War he designed all wooden propellers for army planes and many that were used by the navy. Propellers which he designed have held the three major records of speed, endurance and altitude.

He was engineer, in charge of propeller development for the United States army from 1917 to 1928, and served as technical adviser to the congressional committee on inquiry into the operation of air services.

NORTH SIDE RUM SUSPECT FREE

The conspiracy charge in Federal Court against Roscoe M. LeVey, alias R. M. Lavey, of the 44 defendants in the original North Side rum conspiracy case, who pleaded no defense and testified for the government, was nol prossed by Judge Nelson McVicar, on petition of United States Attorney John D. Meyer.

His testimony implicated several of the defendants, but the case was dropped when Judge R. M. Gibson held that the government failed to establish a general conspiracy as alleged in the indictment. The petition for the nol pros set forth that LeVey had appeared before both the grand jury and as a witness at the trial.

SCHMELING, PAULINO SET FOR BATTLE

MAX SCHMELING, THE "GERMAN DEMPSEY"

Because of his likeness to Jack Dempsey, Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, has won the favor of America's boxing fandom, and he is an overwhelming "sentimental" favorite to defeat Paulino Uzcudun in their 15-round main bout of the New York milk fund benefit boxing show at the Yankee Stadium, New York, tonight. The winner of tonight's elimination bout will be in line to succeed Gene Tunney as the heavyweight champion.

PAULINO UZCUDUN, THE "BASQUE WOODCHOPPER"

Although his boxing style is much less flashy than is Schmeling's, Paulino has won the vote of many boxing critics who disregard the sentimental angle in attempting to forecast the winner of tonight's milk fund bout. The Basque is of a more powerful build than is Maxie, and although he has taken on some of the best of them he never has been stopped.

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

Victor Soft for Sharkey.
Tribute to Swetonic.
Reds Bother Pirates.
Grimes Back Tomorrow.
Berghammer Advances.
Flannagan Now Coach.

SCHMELING IS NOT WITHOUT CHANCE.

JACK SHARKEY may be pardoned for emitting a loud guffaw when he reflects that the winner of tonight's scheduled 15-round fight in New York between Max Schmeling and Paulino Uzcudun will be the only barrier standing between him and the world heavyweight championship. Jack Dempsey may come on the scene later, of course, but Dempsey is no longer to be feared and if he returns to the ring it will be only for the purpose of trying to separate the public from another million dollars.

Jack Sharkey.

So tonight's winner will be the only opponent that Sharkey will have to beat to win recognition as Gene Tunney's successor, and it would be harder to imagine anything softer. Sharkey himself falls far short of measuring up to championship standards of the past. He has been one of the most disappointing fighters and one of the worst in-and-outers in the game. But neither Schmeling nor Paulino, no matter who wins tonight, is likely to give him any serious trouble.

PAULINO'S supporters are basing their predictions of victory upon the ruggedness and brute strength of the Basque, the experience gained in fighting a greater number of good men than Schmeling has met, and the fact that George Godfrey, Jack Delaney, Johnny Risko, Knute Hansen, Tom Heeney, Otto Von Porat and others were unable to hurt him.

But a man must have more than toughness to be a champion, and it would seem that the Spaniard would be required to have more than that to defeat the comparatively inexperienced Schmeling, in view of the German's greater speed and boxing ability and the fact that he has a right-hand punch of his own that is not to be scorned. Schmeling has a chance to win tonight in spite of all the dope that has been written in favor of Paulino. The only thing certain is that victory will not stamp the successful man as a world beater, by any means. Bob Fitzsimmons, when past the age of 35, could have whipped both of them in one night.

STEVE SWETONIC, Pirate pitcher, now in his first year in the big show, will be honored by neighbors and friends at a big testimonial banquet tonight. It will be given in the club house of Allegheny Lodge, No. 339, B. P. O. Elks, in Cedar avenue, North Side, starting at 8 o'clock.

Not only Manager Donie Bush and the members of the Pittsburgh team will be present, but Manager Jack Hendricks and his Cincinnati Reds also will attend in honor of the popular young pitcher.

Steve Swentoic.

PRESIDENT BARNEY DREYFUSS, Treasurer Sam Dreyfuss, Manager Donie Bush and Capt. Pie Traynor, of the Pirates, and Councilmen James F. Malone and Harry A. Little, William J. Graham and Ben Anderson, secretary to County Commissioner E. V. Babcock will speak at the dinner and their remarks will be broadcast by Station KQV, starting at 8:30 o'clock. Since Bill Doak parted company with the Cardinals on May 27, Swetonic, Johnny Miljus, of the Indians, and Binger Bayne, of the Red Sox, are the only natives of the Pittsburgh district now pitching in the big show.

THE defeat suffered by the Pirates in the first game of their home series with the Reds yesterday wiped out their advantage in the

JACOBS GAINS QUARTER-FINALS

HAVERFORD, Pa., June 27.—(A.P.)—The remaining three Oxford and Cambridge players fell by the wayside yesterday as eight tennis stalwarts, six of whom are seeded, hammered their way into the quarter final round in the singles of the intercollegiate championships at the Merion Cricket Club.

Paul De Ricou, of Oxford University, a 19-year-old Frenchman, a former junior champion in his country, fell before the strong game of Harris Coggeshall, of Grinnell college, by the score of 3-6, 6-1, 6-1. E. R. Avory, of Cambridge, former British boy champion, sank before Gregory Mangin of Georgetown, eastern intercollegiate champion, 6-1, 4-6, 7-5.

R. R. T. Young, of Cambridge, was eliminated by Julius Seligson, of Lehigh the defending title holder.

Eddie Jacobs, non-seeded Pitt star who eliminated John Doeg, of Stanford, seeded No. 2, in a third round match Tuesday, swept by Clifford Sutter, of Tulane, 6-4, 6-3, to gain his quarter final bracket.

M'GRAW GETS DRAW

MONTREAL, June 27.—(A.P.)—Phil McGraw, Detroit lightweight and Al Foreman, holder of the Canadian 135 pound championship fought 10 rounds to a draw in the main bout at the forum here last night.

LOCALS LOSE RAGGED FRAY IN OPENER

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

Even championship baseball clubs are made to look like also rans on certain days; so the fans who saw the Pirates in their amateurish actions in the first game with the Reds may go to Forbes Field today with a fair amount of assurance that there will be no repetition of the stunts of yesterday.

In losing to the Rhinelanders, 6 to 4, after their return from a victorious jaunt to Cincinnati and Chicago, our first-place athletes stole some of the stuff of the last-place Reds. Dick Bartell had his worst day of the season in the shortfield, while Remy Kremer and Steve Swetonic were anything but impressive upon Fogarty Knoll.

Yet there is no immunity for headliners in the diamond sport. Consider, if you will, the case of the Yankees, who have copped three pennants and two world series honors in a row. In the years when the Yanks were on top they would perform at times like a twilight league club.

BUCS SEEM TIRED

Perhaps the Pirates were a bit exhausted as a result of the strain that has been upon them in the past two or three weeks. The series in Cincinnati was hard and the four battles in Chicago took a heavier tax on the Pittsburgh athletes, and then they had to play the Toledo Mudhens on an open date. In the initial fracas with the Reds they moved about as if they were still in Toledo.

Bartell, some will say, had a bad day coming. The spectacular play of the coast kid in the battles in Chicago was the talk of Chicago fans; he didn't look like the same player as he miscued in the Oakland shortfield. Well, it may be

GRANDE MEETS CARL CAVELLI TONIGHT

A change in the main bout at the Junction Park, New Brighton, tonight was necessitated when it was announced that Willie Davies, Charleroi flyweight, injured his hand while training and would not be able to go through with his bout with Frisco Grande as scheduled. Promoter Faust, upon receiving word of Davies' injury, signed Carl Cavelli, New Castle flyweight, to take Davies' place against the Philippino. Cavelli has fought Davies and was good enough to hold him to a draw.

Frankie Porto and Zivic Anthony, featherweights, are paired for the six-round semi-final, with Nick Polis and Tarzan Joe Poole, 147-pounders, in the third bout, of six rounds. Johnny Brown tackles Ted Yarocz in the second match and Bob Concrete mixes with Joe Juhasz in the four-round curtain raiser.

Jackie Fields, holder of the mythical welterweight title of the National Boxing Association tackles Farmer Joe Cooper in a 10-round bout at Mills Stadium, Chicago tonight. This bout probably will be Fields' last fight before he enters the ring against Joe Dundee, for the welterweight championship of the world, at Detroit, in July.

In reviewing Sergt. Sammy Baker's record, one finds that the Mitchel Field soldier is rightfully touted as one of the best men in the welterweight class. Baker has met most of the leading men of the class, and very few of them have left the ring without catching many of Baker's punches. Ace Hudkins, when the latter was cutting a swath in the welterweight class, was knocked out by Baker in seven rounds. Baker also stopped Mushy Calahan, the junior welterweight champion, in nine rounds. Only last night Baker defeated Georgie Levine.

Baker will make his initial showing here next Monday night against Jack Zivic, a local fighter, who also has created plenty of disturbances among the best glove tossers in the country, in the 10-round feature bout at the Meyers Bowl, Braddock. Both fighters have been training intensively for the bout and are assuring that they will be in tip-top shape when the bell rings.

The return match the fans have been waiting for between Johnny

BASQUE HOPES TO STOP MAX BY 12TH

By PAULINO UZCUDUN,

Who Boxes Max Schmeling in a 15-Round Elimination in New York Tonight.
(Translated from Basque by Interpreters.)

HOOSICK FALLS, June 27.—My battleax is ready. I earnestly hope to chop down Max Schmeling, the German "Fruit Tree" of some foxy American fight managers, before the twelfth round ends in our big Milk Fund bout at the Yankee Stadium, New York City.

Paulino Uzcudun.

Tonight the German and the Basque are scheduled to box 15 rounds but, unless Schmeling is of most extraordinary durability, he will not last that long.

If this so-called German Dempsey comes out at the opening bell like his great namesake did against Luis Firpo, Spanish sporting pride will be avenged in comparatively short order. I practice no method of battling other than to constantly bore in and blaze away with both fists. I do not expect the German to mix it much with me at first; in fact, I think he will take to what you Americans call "the bicycle" and run away from me as much as possible, the Black Uhlan trying to keep me off with his long right lance.

EXPECTS TOUGH FIGHT

Because Schmeling is probably nimble, and of a stout German heart, I do not expect to chop him down in the early rounds if he keeps on that "bicycle" defensive. But whatever he and his foxy advisers decide to do, Paulino feels so fit he is sure he can stop the Teuton before the twelfth round ends. Never in my career have I so thoroughly trained for a fight. Never before have I felt in such perfect trim. To win decisively means a fortune and the world's championship next.

So, as gamblers say, I will "shoot the works"—that is, put everything I have into the effort to knock out the German as quickly as possible.

I have been told that many boxing experts pick Schmeling to knock me out, figuring that Paulino is too old and has absorbed too much punishment, whereas Max is not yet 24 and is coming. Never could experts be more inexpert. For Paulino is just approaching his full physical fighting prime and is ring-wise, as you call it, through much experience in my own original, boring-in, slugging style.

Of course, they also tell me that what Americans call "the wise money" is being bet on Schmeling, in part, because Senor Pedro Reilly, who beat me with Jack Delaney last year on that most questionable of fouls, is reputed to be the man behind the German's fight tactics now.

Senor Reilly is famed among fight fans in this country as a real fox. His assistant, or associate, Senor Joe Jacobs, is said to be almost as foxy a fox. And so that "wise money" is being bet against this "dumb Basque," as some of the gambling "sharpshooters" call me in their smart slang.

PLANS SUPREME EFFORT

All I can now promise is that I will make my supreme effort to even my score with those foxes of the fight world, who tricked me into a loss with their Delaney when I was forging ahead, but who will not repeat with their Schmeling unless he prove a miracle man indeed. This will be another time when that "wise money" will prove foolish.

Please don't think Paulino is sore; he is merely watching Senor Reilly and the German pari-mutuel managers. How could I be sore at the man who made the "hot-foot" prank so popular? Putting slyly a lighted match between the sole and

SMITH PICKS HAGEN TO WIN IN OPEN

By HORTON SMITH,

French Open Champion and Sensational Young U. S. Pro.

MAMARONECK, N. Y., June 27.—As one might expect, I have picked the comparatively old caster, Walter Hagen, my pal and advisor, to win the American open championship which starts with a big and brilliant field at the hospitable Winged Foot Club today. That choice is not based on warm friendship alone. It is determined by my firm belief that he is the greatest all around golfer who ever lived and that now he is apparently at the peak of form.

Horton Smith.

Incidentally, I will try my best to discredit myself as a prophet by winning that championship myself, but my chances of doing so are far more slim than my figure. Frankly, for the first time in my career, my game seems to be away off; though I am hopeful that I will regain some real form beginning today.

FORM UNRELIABLE

Strange how form freakishly deserts a golfer at times even when one feels superb and pleasantly keyed up to play. Some critics say your correspondent has been playing too much and that, subconsciously, such activity takes its toll on the nerves. There my be some truth to that but I can swear I experience no inward tremors of nervousness. My health seems perfect and the desire to play is as keen as could be.

Yet those foozly shots occur all too frequently of late. However, experienced players know full well such erratic runs vanish often as suddenly as they come, and that is what I am hoping will happen to this Joplin entry in the national open.

Since returning from Europe with the Ryder Cup team on June 10, Walter Hagen and I have toured several states. Playing 11 exhibition matches in all, winning 10 and being tied once, Walter holed every putt in each round, averaging 71½ strokes per round. He did a 64 at Boston, a 67 at Cleveland, a 69 in Rochester and Philadelphia. He is hitting the ball where he wants to from the tee to the hole. "The Haig" certainly looks good to me.

HAS PLAYED BETTER

Personally, I have played much better in competition than I have in exhibitions and trust that such will be the case this week. I am keen for the championship and will be in there trying all the time. My game came to me in Paris, and it may do the same at Winged Foot.

Monday I played Winged Foot with Hagen, Ed Dudley and Craig Wood, and it was quite a different course from the week before, when BULLETIN.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Paulino Uzcudun had a 5½-pound advantage over Max Schmeling when the two boxers officially weighed in here todayf or their 15-round fight tonight at the Yankee Stadium. Schmeling tipped the scales at 187, while the Basque woodchopper carried 192½ pounds of well-conditioned flesh.

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 27. — Their hard training programs behind them, Max Schmeling, the "German Dempsey," and Paulino Uzcudun, one of those Bounding Basques, headed for New York this morning primed for their 15-round heavyweight elimination battle for the benefit of New York's milk fund, in the Yankee Stadium tonight.

Schmeling motored in from Lakewood, N. J., where he did his conditioning, and Paulino left his Hoosick Falls, N. Y., quarters for Albany and made the trip the remainder of the way by airplane, just as Gene Tunney came down here last fall the same way from Speculator to make his last stand against Tom Heeney in the same ring.

Despite the fact that the national open golf tournament is on at the Winged Foot Club, hard by, New York was steaming up today for the battle of the behemoths, the winner of which will stand out as one of the leading contenders for Tunney's shorn toga, and, with fair weather in sight, there promises to be a huge last-minute rush for pasteboards that will put over the charity show in great style.

EXPECT $500,000 GATE

A gate of at least a half million dollars is expected, which is hot stuff considering the fact that no title is directly at stake and both principals are foreigners. If one of them were an American hope, there is little question that the interest would be double what it is at this moment.

As was to be expected, there has been an eleventh-hour switch in the betting sentiment among those who like to wager a bit on any big sporting enterprise. The bookies have been quoting Schmeling a 6-5 favorite since the match was made, and the fans have been fed up on a lot of bally-hoo about what a great fighter the Black Uhlan is, compared with his opponent, but now better judgment is prevailing, with the inevitable result that Paulino will go into the ring at least at even money. His record is so much better than Maxie's, as pointed out by this writer yesterday, that he must be rated a fine chance of winning, even allowing for the greater potentialities of his younger foe.

Paulino has been through the mill with little damage, while Schmeling has been stopped three times along the route. The wise men who follow boxing are switching over to Paulino's side in droves.

MAXIE MORE POPULAR

There is no question that a victory for Schmeling will be most popular, for he has captured the public imagination through his remarkable resemblance to the magnetic Dempsey and the fact that he is a whale of a puncher with his right hand when he lands it. All the world loves a heavyweight who can make 'em faw down and go boom when he hits, and Maxie is one of those fellows. If he should manage to scramble over Paulino he will be in line for a wad of coin

WEST PA. NETTERS REACH QUARTER-FINALS

WOMEN STARS OPEN SINGLES DUELING

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

"Old Sol" smiled beneficently on the Steel City throughout yesterday with the result that the forty-first annual Western Pennsylvania net tournament, interrupted by heavy showers Tuesday, resumed action on the Stanton Heights courts with vigor and ere twilight, had disposed of no less than 39 tussles in men's singles and doubles and women's singles.

As a matter of fact, four flying performers actually crashed into the man-to-man quarter-finals. Dr. John O'Loughlin, 1928 champion, flashed his most impressive form to date by overwhelming the rangy and hard-hitting South Hillsman, Carlton Hughes, 6-1, 6-1.

Byron Baur, star of Pitt and Erie, eliminated the Stantonian, Bart Hardy, with the loss of but two games and pushed on to nose out Paul Hicks, Edgewood ace and former Princeton varsity luminary, 6-2, 7-5.

KNOCHE, McCASKEY WIN

The other steppers to the bracket of eight are E. A. Knoche, giant South Hills driver, and Stan McCaskey, once of Bucknell and now of Edgewood. Jack Moore, veteran Winged Head chopper, ran Knoche to the limit before going under, 6-2, 3-6, 7-5. McCaskey scored a brace of his wins, his first victim being Sullivan of Erie, 6-2, 6-4, and his second Len Ritterbush, elongated Stanton satellite, 6-0, 4-6, 8-6.

Bill Servick, Duquesne, Pa., and University of Alabama comer, was within two points of staging tremendous upset in the third set of his tilt with McCook Reed, 1928 Yale recquet captain, in a brilliant round three tussle. The duo had fought to a set apiece at darkness Monday and upon continuance of jousting yesterday, Servick led at 6-5 and 30-all. At this juncture he spilled two double faults and thereupon promptly soared skyward and blew the match on arrant errors.

Little of moment occurred to signalize the inauguration of festivities in men's doubles, favored teams easing through without exception. The dual event is behind schedule and fast work will be required to bring it to the final for Saturday.

In women's singles, Helen Carson, slim southpaw of Greensburg, made her local debut most auspiciously by outsteadying Elizabeth Kunkel, home lass, 6-2, 6-1, and later reversing every whit of the dope by clinching off Betty Scott, driving Edgewood girl, who has been rated highly here for several years, 6-4, 6-3. Otherwise the ladies' milling was without remarkable feature, outstanding entrants, including Mrs. W. S. Muckle of the North Side, Mrs. Winifred Eschner of Erie, Miriam Sullivan of the P. A. A., Rose Straub of Johnstown, and Mrs. Martha Guthrie Snowden, many times West Penn titleholder, breezing through in straight sets.

A special sidelight of the Wednesday program was the formal presentation of the three-year men's singles trophy, the McCahill Cup, to the Pittsburgh Tennis Association by David I. McCahill, the donor.

Yesterday's summary:

Anjeanette Hunter Winner at Buffalo

BUFFALO, June 27.—Miss Anjeanette Hunter carries Pittsburgh's golfing banner into the third round of match play in the ninth annual Buffalo Country Club invitation tournament championship flight today. She plays Miss Dora Virtue, young Canadian golfer from Montreal, in the bottom bracket match. Winning, she will oppose either Miss Peggy Wattles, three-time Buffalo district champion, or Mrs. Leo Federman, of New York, in the semi-finals tomorrow.

In both her matches in this event, Miss Hunter has been carried to the home green, but in each has made a courageous stand and succeeded in staving off the rush of the opposition. Miss Virtue has not had the difficult path to hoe, having won her contest with apparent ease, 8 and 6, from Mrs. F. Campbell, of Pittsburgh.

Italian Giant Wins European Title

PARIS, June 27.—(AP.)—Primo Carnera, Italian boxer, who is 6 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 265 pounds, won the ultra-heavyweight championship of Europe last night by knocking out Jack Humbeck, of Belgium, who stands a mere 6 feet 3 and weighs 225. The knockout came in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round bout.

Carnera followed his victory by bellowing from the ring a challenge to the winner of the Uzcudun-Schmeling battle.

SWIM MEET PLANNED

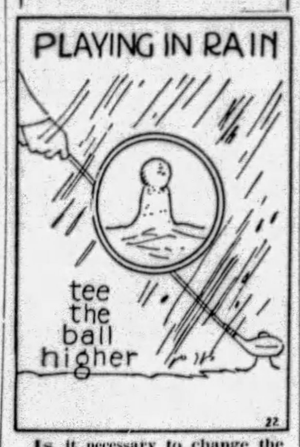
NEW YORK, June 27.—Sergt. Sammy Baker defeated Georgie Levine in a 10-round bout here last night at 148 pounds.

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

PLAYING IN RAIN



Is it necessary to change the style of play when golfing in the rain? If so, what changes should be made?

Answered By
CYRIL WALKER
Former National Open Champion.

Yes. Try to carry the ball farther in the air from the tee which means tee a little higher, and on all shots to the green hit the ball up to the pin.

SMITH FAVORS HAGEN TO WIN

I had one round there. Unless it rains hard, the distance, about which so much has been written, will be discounted and the problem will be one of getting the ball in the hole and not in covering the yardage.

The short holes are quite difficult in this particular. Many of the shots are long enough so that the ball has to be hit hard and cannot be nursed. The greens are high, with so much trouble around that if a player misses the green he will have to do some fancy recovering to get his three.

The writers seem to have awarded the championship to Bobby Jones. I have not seen Jones play, and only met him once, and that in the lobby of a hotel, where it was impossible for us to hit any shots. From what I hear and read, he is right on his game. He has put in more than a week learning the course and has already done scores which will win for him if he can repeat the figures this week.

He never does play badly and is as "tough" as ever. Hagen and Jones look to be the two best golfers in the open, and I do not think anyone will pass both of these, unless he turns in four extraordinary rounds.

Long's Sport Comment

"Lost" column of the pennant standing and reduced their lead to a full game confined to the "Won" column. This means that they have simply played and won two games more than the second-place Cubs.

No matter how poorly they may be going against other teams, the Cincinnati pitchers nearly always make trouble for the Pirates. Even when the Bucs win it is generally by a low score. Luque had won only two games all season and had lost six straight prior to tripping up the Rovers yesterday; Lucas holds a record of nine consecutive victories over them, and before he beat them in Cincinnati last week Donohue had lost seven out of nine games and had just broken a streak of eight straight defeats.

THERE is hardly any doubt that the Bucs will rally quickly. Up to today the Bushmen, who have lost their lost two games, had not been defeated three times in succession since the season opened.

Happily, the signs are that Burleigh Grimes, who is out with an injury to his left hip, will not be lost to the team for long. It is believed that he will be able to pitch tomorrow.

Al Simmons.

THE batting ability of Al Simmons, which is a huge factor in keeping the Athletics in first place in the American League, is due largely to the fact that he can shift his swing. Simmons was looked upon as a poor prospect when he first came up six years ago because he batted with "one foot in the water bucket," but in spite of his unorthodox stance, the Mackian outfielder is able to change his swing in a fraction of a second.

IF SIMMONS is set to hit a slow ball or a curve, he is able to move quickly to meet a change in the pitcher's delivery. He drives to all fields, too, and guessing where he will hit next drives opposing players to despair.

Al is a smart outfielder, in addition. He plays batters well, covers ground with the best of the speed boys, and his throwing is strong and accurate. Sam Murphy is one veteran who predicts that Simmons will be the "most valuable player" of the year, even though he must go uncrowned under the revision of the regulations.

MARTY BERGHAMMER, former resident of the West End, is back in the American Association, this time as a manager. He has been appointed pilot of the Milwaukee club, to succeed Jack Lelivelt, and will attempt to pull the Wisconsin team out of the rut.

Berghammer has been very successful as manager of the Tulsa club in the Western League, and his pennant success there prompted the Milwaukee owners to single him out as the right man to put their team back on its feet.

DESPITE the claims made after a number of defeats at the hands of southpaw pitchers that Ruth, Gehrig and other left-hand swatters of the Yankee club could hit fork-hand hurlers as well as right-handers, the lefties continue to make trouble for the Hugmen. In the second game yesterday, Lloyd Brown, Washington southpaw, downed them for the second time this season, the thirteenth time the Yanks have been defeated by a left-hander in a total of 25 defeats suffered up to today. Others besdes Brown who have beaten the New Yorkers twice are Bob Grove, Rube Walberg, Binger Bayne and Garland Braxton, while Walter Miller, Joe Shaute and Earl Whitehill have defeated them once each.

Christy Flannagan.

ANOTHER Notre Dame football star of the past has entered the coaching ranks in which Elmer Layden, Harry Stuhldreher, Gus Dorais, Don Miller and dozens of other former South Bend luminaries have been active for some time.

The latest is Christy Flannagan, one of the numerous great halfbacks turned out by Knute Rockne. He has signed as backfield coach of the St. Louis University team, and is to report on September 1. Flannagan was the outstanding performer in Notre Dame's victory over the Army in 1925, and also was a hero against Southern California in 1926. During last season Christy was in business with his father in Port Arthur, Tex.

PAULINO, MAX PRIMED FOR BATTLE

of the realm in his next start, against either Jack Sharkey or Dempsey himself, in the fall.

Paulino won't be so hot, even if he wins. He figures to beat an opponent of Maxie's limited experience against good men, and, if he does, what of it? All of the good ones knock him off, but not out, anyway, and he's been around and the fans have seen him do his stuff before without going into hysterics over him. He does not pack a killing punch, and, for this reason, is just another heavyweight. Tough and rough and hard to beat—that's all that can be said for him. Maxie possesses all of the "IT" in the combination that will enter the ring tonight.

Yes, sir, if Maxie wins tonight there'll be a lot of whoopee and new life in the heavyweight division. And, if Senor Paulino comes through, it will be a yawn. And at this writing the yawns appear to have it, and the smart bettors know it.

There is a chance that the main bout may not look so hot after the semi-final boys get through with their 10-round act. This tussle brings out two of the also-rans, both of whom have been beaten by Paulino. They are Otto von Porat, of Chicago, and Meyer (K. O.) Christner, venerable socker, of Akron. This figures to be a dynamiting bee from the start, and one of 'em should go out fairly early. Both hit for keeps, and if they perform up to snuff their show may be so sensational that anything the main-bouters may have to offer will be short of matching it for thrills and murder.

SEMI-FINAL CLASSY

Von Porat has had a couple of shots over here, but has acted as if suffering from ring fright, and the fans haven't taken very kindly to him; but out around Chicago he is the Big Sandman of the heavies. He knocks 'em all kicking in his own ballwick and probably could win the heavyweight championship were all of his bouts to be staged there. If he is able to show at his best tonight, he yet may have something to do with this eliminating business before it's all over. Christner is a crushing right-hand winger and the darling of the local fans, who like his rugged, but honest, way of battling.

The best minds of pugilism, business, society, the stage and the arts and sciences will occupy the $50 ringside seats for the all-heavyweight program tonight, just as they do at the big championship matches. The list of ringside ticket holders announced by the committee, of which Mrs. William Randolph Hearst is chairman, reads like a section out of the Blue Book. There'll be a lot of personages not so polite or esthetic mingling with them, but two of the bigwigs of the sport will not be on hand. They are, of course, the late Tex Rickard, the man who made heavyweight fights what they are today, and his old side-kick, William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey, who is visiting in California.

There will be no radio broadcasting of the show, this feature giving the promoters a chance to check up on how much good or harm is done a big fight, from the box office standpoint, by giving it the air.

MAIN BOUT AT 10 O'CLOCK

The main bout is scheduled to be in the ring at 10 o'clock, daylight saving time. This means that one of the 10-round preliminaries, between Johnny Grosso and Angus Snyder, will go on after the main event. The program is a lengthy one, as follows: Max Schmeling, Germany, vs. Paulino Uzcudun, Spain, 15 rounds; Otto von Porat, Chicago, vs. K. O. Christner, Akron, 10 rounds; Johnny Grosso, New York, vs. Angus Snyder, Dodge City, Kan., 10 rounds (to go on after main bout); Roy Wallace, Indianapolis, vs. Primo Ubaldo, Italy, six rounds; Jackie Saunders, New York, vs. Jerry Pavale, New York, four rounds; Joe Barlow, New York, vs. Charley (Red) Boyette, Jersey City, four rounds. (Emergency bout.)

Fight Results

At New York—Sergt. Sammy Baker defeated Georgie Levine, 10 rounds. Patsy Ruffalo defeated Georgie Day, 10 rounds; Al Singer defeated Dominick Petrone, 10 rounds.

At Montreal—Phil McGraw and Al Foreman drew, 10 rounds.

At Cleveland—George Godfrey won by a technical knockout over Chuck Wiggins, 7 rounds; Tom Williams won by a technical knockout over Gene Stanton, 2 rounds.

At Paris—Primo Carnera knocked out Jack Humbeck, 6 rounds, for heavyweight championship of Europe.

At West New York, N. J.—Andy DiVodi defeated Paulie Walker, 10 rounds.

At Mitchel Field, N. Y.—Marty Collins defeated Joe Kelly, 10 rounds.

At Champaign, Ill.—Eddie Anderson knocked out Paul Allen, 9 rounds; Ray McPeck knocked out Charley Shine, 2 rounds.

At Oakland, Cal.—Billy Harold knocked out Stewart McLean, 3 rounds.

RANGER GIRLS TO BATTLE STOWE

By TOM BIRKS

The season's feature sandlot attraction will be on show this evening at Stowe Field, McKees Rocks, when the Chicago Ranger Girls hook up with the City Leaguers for their first game in the Pittsburgh district.

Advance notices from the Windy City claim that the Rangers are the best girls' baseball club ever gotten together, and that the fans will see a real ball game. Many girls' clubs have come to town, claiming to be the best in the land, but the Windy City lassies will show Pittsburghers something new in girls' teams.

Manager Pop Geer has arranged to handle a banner crowd. This will be probably one of the last games played on Stowe Field until August, as the high school officials are going to make a real ball ground on the lot.

The best game listed for Pittsburgh fans on Sunday will be flashed at Harlan Field, when the N. S. Civics, potential first half winners of the City League, meet the W. O. W. nine, first half champions of the Wagner Central League.

In the West Penn League, Wilmerding has gone into the lead by defeating Cheswick and, now it is up to Verona Community to force a playoff by beating the Export-Murrysville club. This postponed game being scheduled for Tuesday at Verona. Should Verona win, Wilmerding and Verona will meet in a post season playoff, that is, unless other arrangements are made.

The first half of the West Penn has been one of the greatest sandlot races in the district. North Bessemer and Universal are only half a game behind.

PROTECT YOUR SHAVING COMFORT
INSIST ON GENUINE GILLETTE BLADES

Gillette

Gillette wins by six lengths in Pittsburgh!

THERE'S open water between the comfort you'll find in a Gillette Blade and any other blade on the market.

That's why eight out of every ten men in Pittsburgh use this famous blade in their Gillette holders.

And it's a wise precaution to lay in a summer's supply now. For you can't tell when a hurried week-end invitation may sever you from your base of supply.

It's difficult to find a city block in Pittsburgh where Gillette Blades are not on sale. Slip a few packets in your pocket on your way home tonight. Then you're set for summer.

Look for the store with the Gillette Barrel Window Display — it's your headquarters for shaving comfort.

Special Notice: There is a valuable prize for you if you can count the number of packages in the large barrel. See your dealer's window.

STARS DEFEATED IN WIMBLEDON UPSETS

MISSES RYAN, NUTHALL LOSE

By F. A. WRAY.
International News Service.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 27.—America suffered another setback in the Wimbledon tennis championships here today when Elizabeth Ryan was eliminated by Senorita Lili de Alvarez, the flashing Spanish star, 6-4, 8-6, in the women's singles.

Miss Ryan and the Senorita fought a stubborn battle, the latter's play being featured by dazzling half-volleys, against which the American's chop strokes were unavailing.

Mrs. L. R. C. Michell, of England, staged a surprise by eliminating Betty Nuttall, 6-3, 6-3, in the third round of the women's singles. Miss Nuttall or Eileen Bennett had been looked upon as the most logical of the English players to reach the finals and meet Helen Wills, whose retention of her championship seems a virtual certainty.

OTHER STARS LOSE

Mrs. Michael Watson, a member of the Wightman Cup team, was defeated by the youthful Joan Fry, 6-1, 6-4. Mrs. Watson found Miss Fry's merciless forehand unbeatable.

Mrs. B. C. Covell, captain of the 1929 Wightman Cup team, who was defeated by Miss E. L. Heine, of South Africa, 6-2, 7-5.

These three surprising results meant Britain's three principal Wightman Cup players had been eliminated by less promising stars in this important tournament, while lesser lights of the Wightman team lost yesterday.

William T. Tilden and Mrs. Molla Mallory, paired in the mixed doubles, advanced into the second round of this event by defeating Von Kehrling, of Hungary, and Miss Jean Sandison, of India, 6-2, 6-2.

HUNTER, WILLS WIN

Another interesting match in the mixed doubles today was between Francis T. Hunter and Helen Wills and A. Brown and Miss C. Tyrell, of England. The Americans had no difficulty in following Tilden and Mrs. Mallory into the second round, disposing of their opponents in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0.

Legion Series Opens In Fayette County

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., June 27.—The American Legion junior baseball eliminations in Fayette County will start tomorrow afternoon, according to drawings and the schedule drawn up by the county American Legion Junior Baseball Committee.

The first game will be played here between Newtown and the Dunbar Pirates. Other games are: Republic vs. Vesta, Smithfield vs. Brier Hill and Uniontown vs. Dunbar.

NEW ROLE

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 27.—Tut Jackson, former Negro boxer, yesterday entered the July 4, 100-mile auto race carded here.

Favorites Victors At Toledo Races

TOLEDO, June 27.—(AP.)—Favorites had their inning last night at Fort Miami Park during the running of the second program of night racing at the Grand Circuit meeting here. Hollyrood Hunter, which won the 13-class pace, was the only outsider to come through. In this event Counter Part failed to repeat his performance at Lexington.

High Noon, driven by Charley Valentine, made a brilliant showing in the 10-class trot, winning in straight heats. The second was trotted in 2:06.

Sep Palin chalked up another victory with Contender when he won the featured 3-year-old trot in straight heats, with Sir Guy Mac furnishing the major contention.

American League Stars Active In Big Six

Associated Press.

The five members of the Big Six who played yesterday had plenty of action, but the American League members got the best results. Babe Ruth got four out of five in the first game, and one more hit in the second to lift his average to .333. Lou Gehrig hit three times in four attempts in the opener, but failed entirely in the second and lost his tie with Ruth for fifth place. Jimmy Foxx hit twice in three trips to the plate. Chemicals Boon To Fishing in Sharon SHARON, Pa., June 27.—Fishing was good in the city limits yesterday for the first time in years. Chemicals released from a local plant caused distress among the fish in the Shenango River with the result they were easily caught by the boys who stood on the banks and pulled them out. State Game Warden Frank Fair says that the condition has prevailed for several hours on only one day during the past five years.

McTiernan, Davies Draw Suspensions

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—(AP.)—The Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission has announced the suspension of a number of boxers and managers for violating rules of the squared circle.

Included in the list are Buck McTiernan, Swissvale, Pa., suspended for 30 days for fouling his opponent at the Braddock club; George J. Pavlick, Johnstown, Pa., suspended until he honors his contract with the Braddock club, Braddock, Pa.; Willie Davies, Charleroi, suspended until he honors his contract with the Junction Park Amusement Company; Joe Corelli, Erie, suspended indefinitely for unsatisfactory services; Vidal Gregorio, New York, suspended until he honors his contract with Frankie Driscoll, of Easton and Allentown, Pa.

STARS IN SWIM

One of the biggest and classiest teams in the water meet to be held in the Schenley Park Pool one week from today, as part of the City of Pittsburgh's Independence Day celebration, will represent the Pittsburgh Athletic Association. Coach Gordon L. Mullen has entered almost all of his stars in the different events.

MACKS, GIANTS SCORE CLOSE WINS

NEW YORK, June 27.—Things are happening fast and furious in the major league pennant races. While the Athletics are ambling along out in front in the American circuit, the St. Louis Browns are making things hot for the Yankees, and in the National, the New York Giants are pressing eagerly on the heels of the Cards, runners-up for the first three honors.

Yesterday, the A's took another from the Red Sox, winning 6 to 5. Bing Miller hit safely in his twenty-seventh consecutive game.

The Yankees split even with Washington, Herb Pennock hurling his best game of the season to blank the Nats, 7 to 0, in the first encounter. The Ruthians lost the second, 4 to 3.

St. Louis clambered to within half a game of the Yankees by beating Cleveland, 6 to 2, and Chicago turned on the Detroit Tigers, taking a 5 to 3 triumph.

In the National League, New York finally won from Brooklyn, but had to travel 11 innings to do so. The Giants won, 3 to 2. Philadelphia slipped back into sixth place by beating the Braves twice, 6 to 0 and 5 to 2.

The Pirates were stopped by the Reds, 6-4.

Chicago and St. Louis remained idle, but will begin an all-important series at St. Louis today.

Ebensburg Ready For Race Meeting

EBENSBURG, Pa., June 27.—Everything is in readiness for the six-day fair and race meeting of the Cambria County Fair, which opens at 2:30 p. m. next Monday.

Governor Fisher, of Pennsylvania, who will be guest of honor opening day, will be introduced to race enthusiasts by Charles M. Schwab, America's steel baron, who is backing the entire program being offered next week.

While horse racing will be the major attraction next week, boxing fans, horse show lovers, and dog show devotees will also have their innings. In addition, there will be nightly fireworks displays, and numerous other features that should attract record turnouts, providing the weather man deals a "fair" brand.

P. A. C. Enters Team In Schenley Meet

The Pittsburgh Aquatic Club has entered its full team in the water gala to be held at the Schenley Park pool on Thursday, July 4, in connection with Greater Pittsburgh's Independence Day celebration.

Oscar A. Felker will represent the club in the 60-yard novice swim and the canoe tilt. W. C. Wallace is entered in the canoe tilt, also H. Adelsberger. O. C. Reif, Fred J. Sims, Harley J. Richards and Philip Engelmeier, the latter also being entered in the 60-yard swim.

Allen to Compete In Highland Meet

One of the classiest pole vaulters in the tri-state district has sent in his entry for the track and field meet to be held at Highland Park one week from tomorrow, in connection with the City of Pittsburgh's Independence Day celebration.

This luminary is L. E. Allen, of Salem, O., who has done 13 feet in the vault, and is well known in Greater Pittsburgh track and field circles.

Five Points Club Faces Hard Games

SHARON, Pa., June 27.—Two more hard games are scheduled for this week-end for the Five Points Baseball Club, the team going to Warren, O., on Saturday to meet the Eagles and playing Beaver Falls Studebakers at Five Points on Sunday.

(Red) Ames, a Warren boy, probably will face his home towners while (Red) Johnson is to get the call against Beaver Falls.

Grove City Course Bans Sunday Golf

GROVE CITY, Pa., June 27.—Grove City will not have Sunday golf this year. By a margin of some 14 votes, members of the local country club turned down the proposition to open the links on Sunday.

Voting was done by secret ballot after there was much argument, pro and con, over the matter. The Grove City Club is one of the few in the state which prohibits Sunday golfing.

Franklin Boy Star For Binghamton

FRANKLIN, Pa., June 29.—Eugene F. Layden, former Franklin ball player and more recently with Canton and Massillon, (O.) clubs, is having a big season with the Binghamton (N. Y.) team. His home run in the eleventh inning won an important game for the club last week. He is batting over .325.

Rosenberg Signed As Sharon Coach

SHARON, Pa., June 27.—Ted Rosenberg, former Massillon (O.) High and Grove City College football star, has been named assistant football coach at Sharon High School for next fall. He will succeed Puri Anderson, former Carnegie Tech captain, who resigned recently.

Rosenberg starred at Grove City in the 1925 and 1926 seasons, when the team won district honors. In 1927 he was assistant to Coach Charles Berry at Grove City.

Dave Stewart, local mentor, was Rosenberg's coach at Massillon several years ago.

Alex Plays Second In Exhibition Game

GALESBURG, Ill., June 27.—(AP.)—Grover Cleveland Alexander pitched here yesterday for the first time in nearly 20 years as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Galesburg Independents, 5 to 3, in an exhibition game.

Alexander, who started his professional career here, was the guest of honor and received several gifts from local fans. He pitched the first two innings and finished the game at second base. Score by innings:

Cumberland Jockey Club to Elect

CUMBERLAND, Md., June 27.—Only the election of officers remains to make the proposed Cumberland Jockey Club a reality, Harry A. Manley, general manager of the Cumberland Fair Association, and Judge Robert E. King, of the Juvenile Court, the latter chairman of the building committee, announced yesterday.

Robert Holt Hitchins, of this city, retained as architect, visited the site of the clubhouse in the paddock of the Fairgo racing plant yesterday, preliminary to drawing plans for the clubhouse, which will be erected in time for the fall meeting of the association.

THREE YALE GOLFERS GAIN SEMI-FINALS

TOMMY AYCOCK DETHRONES M'CARTHY

DEAL, N. J., June 27.—(AP.)—Maurice McCartney, Jr., of Georgetown, the defending champion, was eliminated today in the third round of the National Intercollegiate Tournament by Tommy Aycock, of Yale, 1 up.

Aycock, present holder of the Florida state championship, flashed one of the most brilliant rounds yet seen in the tournament to dethrone the sturdy Georgetown youth, covering the 18 holes in 73, just one stroke over par. McCarthy had the same medal score, but unaccustomed weakness on several of the putting greens cost him precious holes that he was not quite able to make up.

Two other Yale men came through their quarter-final matches, Fred Bannerot defeating another of Georgetown's hopes, J. H. Berger, 2 up; and Marshall Forrest eliminating the last far western hope, Don Moe, of Oregon, 1 up. Yale thus held three of the four semi-final berths, the only other survivor being Lester Bolstad, of Minnesota, the Big Ten champion, who advanced by default at the expense of John G. Jones, of Princeton.

Clyde Manion's Wife Dies in Auto Wreck

HAMILTON, Ont., June 27.—(AP.)—After the car in which she was riding crashed head-on into a truck, Mrs. Clyde Manion, of Tillsonburg, wife of the catcher for the St. Louis Browns, was killed instantly at Bronte early today. Other passengers, A. Lansing Rogers and Mrs. Rogers, were seriously hurt.

According to the story told by the driver of the truck, Frank Deer, of Windsor, he was driving through Bronte toward Toronto, when he saw a car approaching at a high rate of speed. He pulled over to the side of the road to avoid a collision, he said, but the oncoming automobile swerved and met the heavy truck with full force.

Mrs. Manion suffered head injuries and her death was believed to have been instantaneous.

MIENE TO FACE REDS TODAY

that Dick will be right back there with his customary skill when the two clubs tee off this afternoon.

Manager Bush has nominated Heinie Meine for the slab task. Burleigh Grimes' bad hip gummed up the pilot's slab plans, the idea being to use Grimes yesterday and Kremer today. Burleigh hurt his side while warming up hastily in the Sunday game in Chicago.

KOLP, MEINE NAMED

Manager Hendricks, of the Reds, said he probably will send Ray Kolp to the mound. Kolp also is a right-hander.

Senor Luque and Monsieur Kremer swapped punches like a couple of stars for five rounds in yesterday's engagement, the French ace having a two-run lead as the teams entered the sixth frame. At this point Chuck Dressen unleashed a single that was a signal for a five-run offensive, Steve Swetonic relieving the veteran in the midst of the hitting.

George Grantham and Paul Waner tried to take the game away from Luque on the power of their bats. Grantham connected for two three-baggers and a double, while Brother Paul socked the ball into the right field stands for a homer. Grantham scored two of the home tallies and he drove in another run.

Luque was in trouble in the ninth inning when the Pirates worked the tying run to first base with two out. Earl Sheely singled with two erased to put the important marker on the runways and Adams ran for the first-sacker, Comorosky having been hit with a pitched ball a moment before. At this point of action Rolly Hemsley slammed a hot drive at Dressen, who tagged out Comorosky to end the game.

GRANDE MEETS CAVELLI

Haggerty and Young Nanci, featherweights, was closed last night for the eight-round semi-final, which completes the card.

ONE BOUT OPEN

The benefit boxing show which is carded for next Monday night at the Charlerol ball park still has one more bout open. The latest match made will bring together Harry Spencer and Johnny Russell in a six-round second bout. Cuddy DeMarco will test the mettle of Eddie Frisco, of New York, in the main go.

Mickey Walker, the middleweight champion, and Leo Lomski have been signed to fight a 10-round bout at the Municipal Stadium, Philadelphia, July 29. They will fight at catch weights.

Nick Mehler Plans To Quit Athletics

SHARON, Pa., June 27.—Nick Mehler, former Colgate University football star, has resigned as athletic director at Massena, N. Y., High School and plans to retire from Athletics to work for a local concern.

Mehler captained the Colgate team in 1926 and was rated as one of the best defensive quarterbacks in the East. He has been at Massena for two years.

SINGER VICTOR

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP.)—Al Singer, brilliant young Bronx lightweight, gained an easy decision over Dominic Petrone of New York in the 10 round main bout at the Queensboro arena last night. Singer led all the way and made himself the complete master of the situation when he opened a cut on Petrone's nose near the end of the fight that slowed up the Harlemite. Each weighed 129½ pounds.

ROBERTS KEEPS JOB

WESTON, W. Va., June 27.—Stephen (Hick) Roberts will enter his third year as coach of athletics at Bridgeport Union High next September. The former Broaddus athlete coaches three sports at the institution.

BASQUE SURE OF TRIUMPH

uppers of another's shoe is one of my own favorite camp sports. Some say Pedro the Fox invented that laughing stunt. For that one reason I rather like Schmeling's chief adviser, who put his "hot foot" on the Basque last year with his foxy "foul" cries for the wavering Mons. Delaney.

Yesterday was one long siesta, with just enough exercise to assure myself and my associates that I am perfectly fit. Manager Paul Arthus and his associate, genial Bertys Perry, are as pleased as I am with our prospects. This morning we go to Albany, where we will again make that exhilarating aquaplane trip to New York in time for weighing in at 2 p. m. I expect then to weigh about 193 or 194 pounds.

BASQUE CONFIDENT

Before leaving this delightful farm and village, where the people have been so kind to the strange Basque and my associates, I can gladly promise that we will return this summer to train here for Jack Sharkey, unless something entirely unexpected forces us to change our plans. The country here reminds me much of my native Basque Province, and Herr Hans Ehlmer, who is as German as Schmeling himself, has been as kind as a Spanish padre towards us all.

With American fair play presiding, I hope to do what I have told the Spanish newspapermen—prove that the Teuton cannot conquer the Basque even in the boxing arena.

WELLS FAVORED

WESTON, W. Va., June 27.—Odds in the boxing betting circles of this section are favoring Jack Wells, Wellsburg heavyweight, to take the decision from Curley Rose in the fight at the County Fair Grounds here July 4.

FORD, CRITZ DOUBLE PLAY EXPERTS

Hughey Critz and Horace Ford are recognized as the best second-base pair in the sport, but it is an extraordinary thing for anybody to double up Lloyd Waner on a ground ball as the little fielding marvels did yesterday in the first inning. Lloyd, however, was not running at his best speed, he being stopped at first by a rather wide margin.

Frank Brown, American Association umpire, who had a short holiday in Pittsburgh, thinks Pie Traynor is the greatest third baseman the game has ever known. Pie threw out one of the Reds yesterday by something like 40 feet while Brownie looked on from the press box.

"A great player—and what a friend of the umpires," said Frank, the inference being that no decisions were necessary on most of Pie's plays. Brown left for Columbus after the game, he being slated to officiate there this afternoon.

Some men can run a hundred yards in ten seconds "flat." Some can jump six feet in a soul-stirring bound. Others can get under a 16-pound weight and make it travel like a baseball.

But it takes a champion, all-around athlete to do all three.

Some imitation, would-be motor fuels claim to be "as good as AMOCO-GAS" in one or two particulars. But none of them dare to claim all points of superiority of this champion, all-around motor fuel.

Here are some facts! AMOCO-GAS will do all the things would-be champions claim to do—and do each one better. What is more AMOCO-GAS, and AMOCO-GAS alone, "checks" on every point. The proof is at the nearest AMOCO-GAS pump. Head in there, fill up and then run your own test in your own car over any "testing ground" you may choose.

MARKET GOES UPON BRISK TRADING

Prospect of Large Gain In Brokers' Loans Fails To Check Advances

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP.)—Disregarding the prospect of a large increase in Federal Reserve brokers' loans, the stock market today continued its recovery, with trading again in brisk volume. Buying orders were distributed over a fairly broad list, but the public utilities, chemicals, electrical equipment, merchandising and rail shares presented the most outstanding points of strength. Revival of activity and strength in the oil shares was one of the interesting features of the session.

Call money renewed unchanged at 10 per cent and although the supply at that figure was relatively small, the rate was expected by money brokers to hold through the day. Offerings of time money were more liberal, but there was no change in rates.

GOLD IMPORT

Importation of an additional $5,000,000 in gold from England was announced during the day by the Irving Trust Company.

Except for the declaration of extra dividends on the Barnsdall issues, the announcement of the Wright-Curtiss airplane merger and another series of favorable May railroad statements, there was little in the day's news to influence the price movement. Persistent buying of the high grade rails and industrials was attributed, in part, to buying by investment trusts and large insurance companies.

Commercial Solvents was again a spectacular feature, soaring 21½ points to a new high record at 438¼. Otis Elevator jumped 14¾ points to a new top at 359¾. Allied Chemical, R. H. Macy, Underwood Elliott Fisher, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, Atchison and New York Central also reached new high levels for the year. Wall street heard reports that the United Corporation would offer two shares of its own stock for each share of Public Service of New Jersey.

CASH REGISTER UP

National Cash Register, Conde Nast, Brooklyn Union Gas, International Business Machines, American Bank Note, Peoria and Eastern, Motor Products and Houston Oil all sold 4 to 6 points higher.

There were a few soft spots. Auburn Auto broke 15 points, but quickly recovered most of its loss. United Aircraft issues continued under selling pressure. Wright Aeronautical dropped 6 points.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, June 27.—With rains reported both in Canada and in domestic spring wheat territory wheat prices here underwent an early setback today. Liverpool wheat quotations that were higher than due and were associated with talk of possible curtailment of shipments from Argentina, attracted but little notice. Opening at ⅞c decline to ⅜c advance, Chicago wheat later underwent a material decline all around. Corn, oats and provisions were easy, with corn starting unchanged to ½c higher and subsequently showing a general sag.

Although additional moisture likely to be helpful to spring wheat led to downturns at times today in wheat values here, the market effect was minimized by advices that the rainfall was not heavy. Many points in Saskatchewan reported only a light drizzle. Messages also were received saying that a large part of the Canadian wheat crop was very late, that farmers feared rust and frost, and that there was need of general soaking downpours to relieve the situation.

Dispatches from domestic spring wheat states were far from optimistic about the result of moisture relief given to crops at present. A report from York, N. D., based on a 500-mile drive making a circle through the state from Fargo to Bismarck and back said it was difficult to see how North Dakota could possibly get better than half a crop, and that numerous fields were being plowed up.

"Combine's" World Popularity.

Hardly any newly perfected American mechanical device has made more rapid progress toward world popularity than has been made by the "combine" harvester. This mechanism, developed in the Western prairie wheat country, attaches the reaper direct to the threshing machine, and gets the crop harvest with one machine operation. The Commerce Department reports that the efficiency of the device first took it into the export field in 1925, when the United States shipped abroad 1,720 machines. By 1927, the figures rose to 4,705, while in 1928 they numbered 7,317, and in the first six months of 1929 they are showing a tendency to double that annual total. The Argentine and Canada, great wheat countries, are naturally the largest purchasers.

CARNEGIE RISE EXTENDED HERE

Metals Company Shares Move Up Sharply in Response to Demand on Local Exchange

Carnegie Metals ran away with the trading in the early market on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today, adding more than a point to the 2¼-point advance recorded yesterday.

Activity developed suddenly in Carnegie during yesterday's late trading and there was a sharp rise when buying orders in rather large volume made their appearance in the market. Professional traders jumped in on the buying side and accelerated the advance, which was said to have been due to operations conducted through a house which has been active in the stock from time to time over the past two years.

The company's properties are in Northern Mexico and it is thought the settlement of the political disturbances in that area are partly responsible for the current changed attitude toward the stock. Operations had been hindered over the past two years by machinery troubles, but it was reported some time ago that new equipment was in process of installation and the mines expected to be in full operation this summer, contingent upon the political situation.

The company has issued a statement to stockholders showing balance sheet as of March 31, 1929, also a report on the physical condition of the properties made by Poillon & Poirer of New York. The circular states in part:

"Your directors wish to inform you that the item of $350,000, which was loaned by certain officials of your company for machinery and material and reflected in balance sheet as of March 31, 1928, has been recently paid. Said officials canceled this obligation by taking treasury stock at $18 a share. This act in itself is regarded as most convincing evidence of the unbounded faith and confidence held by your officers and directors in the future of the company."

Continental Oil Trading Deferred

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP.)—Confusion over the similarity in names of Continental Oil, of Delaware, traded on the New York Stock Exchange, and Continental Oil, of Maine, listed on the New York curb market, led to the temporary suspension of trading in the former today.

The Delaware company was recently formed by merger of the Marland Oil Company and Continental Oil, of Maine. The latter's old stock, which is being exchanged for shares in the new company, is still traded on the curb and will remain listed until a majority of the stock has been turned in for shares of the new company.

Marland stock is exchangeable share for share in the Delaware company, while the old Continental Oil stock is exchangeable on a basis of sixth-tenths of a share for one.

Trading will be resumed on the "big board" tomorrow.

P. R. R. MAY NET INCREASES

The Pennsylvania Railroad reports May net operating income of $13,380,560 against $10,413,730 in May, 1928.

Total loaded cars handled by the Pennsylvania system for the week ended June 22, were 176,263 against 176,983 in preceding week and 161,141 in same week of 1928, 166,662 in 1927 and 160,426 in 1926. Total for year to date 3,986,809 against 3,723,062 in same period 1928, 2,999,821 in 1927 and 4,084,193 in 1926.

It is reported that the Pennsylvania railroad is planning to extend the use of roller bearings from its passenger service to freight. The railroad, it is said, will equip a complete freight train with bearings within the next few weeks and give the device a thorough trial under practical operating conditions.

California Law to Curb Gas Wastage

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 27.—Warning notice to oil operators issued by Fred G. Stevenson, director of the State Department of Natural Resources, fixes August 31, 1929, as the "dead line" for blowing natural gas into the air.

This is the first step toward enforcement of California's new natural gas conservation law.

Approximately 600,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas is being blown into the air daily in California, Mr. Stevenson says, and such wastage of valuable resources must not be allowed to go on.

PUBLIC OPINION CALM ON BANK COMBINES

Old Fears of "Money Trust" Fail to Appear as Big Institutions Consolidate

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Public opinnon has been calm in the face of the recent remaking of the banking system of the country.

Two decades ago, when banking was less concentrated, there were widespread fears of a "money trust," resulting in the so-called Pujo investigation in Congress, at which the great financial barons of Wall Street—including those who were traditionally known as silent men—were compelled to state their case.

The epidemic of recent bank mergers is in fact only one phase of the larger trend of economic power toward larger business units. The economies of large scale operations have appealed widely to financiers, to investors, and to the public. In order to perpetuate the favorable public attitude, there is a large responsibility on the part of the managers of big business and high finance to use the new corporate engines in the interest of general social welfare.

OPINION CHANGES

Rudolph S. Hecht, president of the Hibernia Bank and Trust Company, New Orleans, and one of the outstanding men of finance in the South, who in his role of chairman of the economic policy commission of the American Bankers' Association, has made a close study of new banking tendencies, sees evidence of a changed popular opinion toward consolidations. In a recent address before the Illinois Bankers' Association, he also pointed out that he believed that small bankers were less opposed than in the past to chain and branch banking. He recognized that the traditional American system of a multiplicity of small unit banks is now on trial.

The way to adequate functioning of the nation's financial system, Mr. Hecht said, is not through branch banking as such but through better banking.

"It is not so much a question of the system," he insisted, "as it is one of management that makes for the safety of the banks. No new laws, no matter how carefully devised, can ever be regarded as a substitute for sound policies of administration. The unit system is on trial and must vindicate itself. It depends on the unit bankers themselves whether the system shall continue to live or be ultimately swept away by the rising tide of branch and chain banking."

FEWER BANKS

As evidence of the increasing concentration of banking power, the official figures show that the total number of banks decreased from 30,812 in 1921 to 26,213 in 1928, while the resources of banks increased 45 billions to 71 billions. At the very first the decline was ascribable mainly to the failure and absorption of weak banks, but the process has now reached another phase in which mergers result from the joining of strong outstanding banks.

Mr. Hecht has compiled some original data showing the way the wind is blowing. The figures cover 26 American cities with a population of 300,000 or more. In half of these cities more than 73 per cent of the total deposits of their respective communities are held by three to five banks. Furthermore, the 256 largest banks in these 26 cities control $20,318,000,000 out of total deposits in these same localities of $26,827,000,000. Moreover, these same 256 largest banks control more than one-third of the total bank deposits throughout the nation. In other words, fewer than 1 per cent of the total number of banks now hold more than one-third of the aggregate deposits in all banks throughout the United States, and the current trend is toward further concentration.

BETTER BANKING SEEN

Bankers feel that the recent mergers constitute a recognition of a mandate from the public for better banking. However, Mr. Hecht contends that good banking is not a matter of size. "A properly conducted small country bank can be as safe as a large city institution with many branches. Success in the banking field depends on good management, whether the unit be large or small. It cannot be denied, of course, that larger institutions can and usually employ more capable men with greater experience and sounder judgment than can the average small unit bank. They also have on the whole better facilities for standardizing their business, keeping themselves properly informed, and thus escaping many losses resulting from actual operations as well as from poor credits.

"However, we have reached a point in our profession where most of the deficiencies of the small town bankers can be supplied, not necessarily by making any fundamental changes in our banking system or by giving up any of our unit bankers' independence, but merely by bringing about a better spirit of co-operation and mutual helpfulness."

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP.)—Aviation stocks were turned over rapidly at rising prices in today's curb market on announcement of the consolidation of the Wright Aeronautical and Curtiss Airplane interests. The whole market developed strength after an irregular opening and several of the public utilities again commanded record prices. Profit-taking pared the gains down in the afternoon.

Curtiss Aero Export, Curtiss Airport, Curtiss Flying, Curtiss Reed Aircraft and Keystone Aircraft, all being brought together under the new holding company — Curtiss-Wright Corporation—were strong, advancing 1 to 4 points. Aviation Corporation of the Americas, controlled by interests identified with Wright, and Aviation Securities were strong. Selling was encountered by Niles Bement Pond, a large stockholder in United Aircraft and Transport, and Irving Air Chute, maker of parachutes. New Curtiss-Wright stock was admitted to trading.

Electric Bond and Share and Electric Investors held the lead in the utitlities, both mounting to record prices for all time. Bond and Share crossed 117 and Electric Investors reached 197. A year ago last March Electric Investors, which holds public utility stocks, sold as low as 40⅛. American Superpower new crossed 53 to a new high. American Gas and Electric, Consolidated Gas of Baltimore, Commonwealth and Southern and Middle West Utilities were all strong. Associated Gas issues paid little heed to record earnings. New United Gas Improvement shares moved up to the "big board," while the old stock came within striking distance of its high figure.

Investment trusts again were pushed forward. Goldman Sachs advanced on announcement the company had bought into the Foreman Bank of Chicago. This marks the first entry of the Goldman Sachs interests into Chicago banking field. Capital Administration "A" touched a new high.

Checker Cab recovered sharply from its recent decline. Tubize Artificial Silk advanced sharply after several days of inactivity.

Mining shares advanced, with Newmont and Noranda out in front.

Oils were quiet. Profit-taking cut into Cosden Oil's recent gain into new high ground.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 27.—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 2 points in July but generally 5 to 7 points higher on covering and commission house buying based upon the reports of further showers in the eastern belt and the relatively steady showing of Liverpool. According to early estimates about 61 July notices were issued which probably accounted for the relatively easy showing of July. That position worked up to 18.21c after the opening, or back to yesterday's closing quotation, while the active new crop months showed net advances of 9 to 13 points with December selling at 18.90c. This bulge met realizing, although on a comparatively small scale, seemed to have rather an unsettling effect on later months. By the end of the first half hour, July was selling at 18.05c, or 16 points net lower and new crop months were back within 3 to 6 points of yesterday's closing quotations. Private cables reported continental buying in the Liverpool market.

The market showed continued irregularity later in the morning. Offerings of July were absorbed at the increase in the discount and after selling off to 18.03c for that position, or 18 points net lower, prices became steadier. New crop months lost all but a few points of their early advance with December reacting to 18.84c or within 6 points of yesterday's closing quotation. The market was quiet at midday, and showed rallies of 4 or 5 points from the lowest.

N. Y. Merchants Hear Lamont on Census Topic

NEW YORK, June 27.—New census of distribution which was included in census bill recently passed by Congress, Secretary of Commerce Lamont told members of Merchants' Association of New York will enable business men throughout the country to trace commodities after they have been manufactured, a hitherto impossible process.

Mr. Lamont stated: "Merchandising produces 15 per cent of our national income, manufacturing being only other larger source, which contributes 21 per cent," the secretary said. "Notwithstanding the important position in our economic structure of this great industry of buying and selling and distributing, it is remarkable how little exact knowledge we have of some important phases of the business."

REBUILT D. T. I. SOLD BY FORD

DETROIT, June 27.—(AP.)—Announcement of the sale of Henry Ford's Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad to an undisclosed group of investors marked the successful termination of a motor magnate's venture in the railroad field. The sale was made through the First National Bank of Detroit.

Mr. Ford obtained the railroad in 1920 for a total investment of $5,000,000 after the line had struggled along for 30 years over a path strewn with receiverships. In 1924, it was disclosed the railroad had earned $4,201,883 for its purchaser.

Mr. Ford's administration of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton was a series of successful innovations. At the outset, instead of inaugurating a policy of rigid economy, he increased expenditures for maintenance of way, equipment and wages and made the dying railroad pay handsome profits. Employes were not only paid wages above the usual union scales, but were made actual partners in the undertaking. They were offered certificates in the railroad which by 1924 were paying an annual interest of 12 per cent.

The railroad formed an important link in the huge Ford production system. It moved manufactured products across nearly all the larger east and west trunk lines between Detroit and the Ohio River and in addition tapped the coal fields of Southern Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky, thus assuring the Detroit plants an uninterrupted fuel supply. Electric engines were introduced and freight service speeded up. Today the total mileage is approximately 529 miles.

LAKEY FOUNDRY NET DROPS

DETROIT, June 27.—Semi-annual statement of Lakey Foundry for period ended April 30, will show net profits for six months slightly in excess of $110,000, or approximately 37 cents a share on the 300,000 shares of capital stock outstanding, according to interests close to the company. This is a sharp decline compared to net earnings of $513,545, or $2.14 a share reported for the same period last year.

Delays in completion of Lakey's expansion program prevented taking advantage of record volume of business on its books, and materially increased operating expense. Company officials, however, intend maintaining present cash dividend of 50 cents quarterly, deeming the recession in the profits, temporary.

Sugar Rate Increase Opposed by Parker

WASHINGTON, June 27.—All Latin American countries would resent the placing of a burden on Cuba by the increase in the sugar traffic, proposed by the House bill, G. R. Parker, of New York City, representing the American Import and Export Association, told the Senate Finance Committee today.

BIG AIRPLANE MERGER ON

NEW YORK, June 27.—Directors of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Company, Wright Aeronautical Corporation and Keystone Aircraft have approved a merger plan involving the formation of a new holding company with tangible assets of $70,000,000. The new company will engage almost exclusively in the manufacture and sale of planes and motors. The respective transportation companies are not included.

The new company will be called the Curtiss-Wright Corporation and will have an authorized capitalization of 2,000,000 shares of class "A" stock, convertible share for share into common stock and callable at $40 a share, and 10,000,000 shares of class "B" stock.

Wright stockholders will be offered one share of the "A" stock, 3¼ shares of the "B" stock for each share held and an option to purchase anytime within three years one share of "B" stock for each two shares of Wright held at $30 a share.

Curtiss shareholders will be offered one share of "A" stock and 4½ shares of "B" stock.

The New York Produce exchange has admitted to trading Curtiss-Wright Corporation class A stock, common and warrants on a "when issued" basis. The common opened at 31⅜.

The stock was admitted to the New York Curb at 1:30 p. m., the common opening with a block of 900 shares at 30¼.

Dow-Jones Averages Reach New Record

NEW YORK, June 27.—Industrials used in the Dow-Jones averages reached new high ground yesterday at 328.60, up 2.44 points from Tuesday's compilation.

Incandescent and Neon Pierce Fog Similarly

WASHINGTON, June 27.—After exhaustive tests at the Commerce Department's Bureau of Standards, it was announced that the "Neon" type light has no superior fog-penetrating properties as compared with light of the same color produced by means of an incandescent lamp and red glass.

These tests were made in connection with the testing of various equipment for the safety of night flying.

GERMANS GET LONDON GOLD

LONDON, June 27.—With yesterday's sale of £1,541,000 of gold to Germany, the loss of the British Central Bank on foreign account within nine days exceeds £4,500,000, while the net efflux of £3,406,000 for the week is the largest amount withdrawn in any one week since October 3, last. The net gain for the year has been reduced to £4,233,000, which means that the bank is once more "on the wrong side" to the extent of £1,528,000 on foreign and colonial account since the return to the gold standard in April, 1925.

Payments in connection with the loss on "Europa," the new North German Lloyd liner which burned in drydock and the placing of Potash Company bonds, series "C," are among the explanations for the gold shipments to Germany. While some satisfaction is expressed that the gold standard is being allowed to function as it was meant to do, strong views are expressed over the large amounts of gold that Germany took last year and is now doing, although none of the metal she lost recently found its way back to London.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The Irving Trust Company has purchased $5,000,000 gold in London for shipment to New York.

Aggregate Rail Earnings Higher

NEW YORK, June 27.—The first 25 railroads to report May earnings to the Interstate Commerce Commisison show net operating incomes of $35,550,000, compared with $29,826,000 in May, 1928, an increase of between 19 and 20 per cent.

The Man Who Saves has an Advantage

Alfred M. Oppenheimer

President
Apollo Steel Co.

At the age of seventeen Mr Alfred M. Oppenheimer started to work as a billing clerk for M. Oppenheimer & Co., with the determination to lay aside a part of his small earnings every week. As a result of his ability to handle money well, various responsibilities of the business were placed on his shoulders; and later when the opportunity came, he was able to become part owner of the company. When he entered the steel business in 1913, Mr Oppenheimer was prepared to organize and launch a company which has been successful from the start.

"The principles of thrift and saving apply equally in all lines of endeavor," says Mr Oppenheimer. "I attribute what success I have had to my early training in them." It is the value of these important principles that the Union Savings Bank hopes to show you by modern example, in presenting this series of editorials by leading business and professional men of this city.

The man who saves while young has the advantage, as Mr. Oppenheimer says. Besides having capital to invest when opportunity comes, he has the invaluable asset of financial standing.

Private boxes for your important papers, jewelry, etc., may be rented for $5 and up per year in our Safe Deposit Department.

THE man who begins to save while young, invariably has the advantage over those who spend their entire earnings.

Let us consider the advantages of Thrift from a practical stand-point. The executive or employer usually asks:—

Did you make good in your last job?

Have you laid aside or invested any part of your salary?

Comparisons of men in many walks of life have proven beyond question of doubt that Thrift:

Builds character; broadens the outlook; brings peace of mind to the entire family, prosperity and comfort to the nation; makes for a larger and more responsible citizenship; and indelibly marks the man who is to become a leader of men.

What Would Happen to Us If Advertising Stopped?

By B. C. FORBES

WHAT kind of life would we lead if all advertising stopped? We would grope around as if in darkness and would be deprived of much that we now enjoy.

Why has advertising grown so tremendously? Only 10 years ago $50,000 was a large advertising appropriation, half-million-dollar expenditures were uncommon, and the million-dollar-a-year advertisers could be counted on the fingers of one hand. Today many accounts exceed five million dollars a year. Several exceed ten million dollars.

Will this growth go on?

WHEN in Detroit the other day I discussed the subject with Henry T. Ewald, president of the Campbell, Ewald Co., one of the biggest agencies in the world, supervising the spending of many millions for General Motors, United States Rubber, Burroughs, and other industrial leaders.

"Because advertising is a big economic factor in modern life," said Ewald, "we can look forward to a constant extension of its use. Advertising is as much a part of modern business as power. Just as executives have discovered that manufacturing costs are reduced by the use of power, they find that selling costs are reduced by the use of advertising.

"In the final analysis, business men are investing millions in advertising because it is an economical investment.

"FOR example, several hundred thousand dollars were recently spent in advertising to introduce the new General Motors car, the Marquette Six. The day before the campaign started, the word Marquette meant a river or a city or an explorer or nothing in particular to the average American. When the campaign was completed, Marquette meant a motor car, built by Buick, to literally millions of potential buyers. The same result could not have been obtained in an equal length time by any method except advertising—regardless of how much money was spent. And the new product could not have been successfully launched without that knowledge on the part of the general public.

"The average man is interested in people. He gets no thrill out of inanimate things. Yet, last December millions of people went in a single day to see an inanimate object—the new Chevrolet Six. Advertising did it. Without advertising, not 50,000 people would have gone; and it would have been months before the country-at-large knew anything about it.

"IF YOU don't think that advertising is a fundamental of modern life, imagine what would happen if all advertising were to be eliminated overnight. You would put on a collar which didn't carry its maker's name, and it probably would scratch your neck. You would shave with soap from an unmarked tube and your face doubtless would be irritated. You would drink unpedigreed coffee and it wouldn't be good to the last drop.

"Your newspaper would be a badly printed sheet containing only the barest news—because advertising revenue is responsible for the completeness of the modern newspaper. You would go to work in a nameless automobile—and you wouldn't drive with confidence. If you wanted to buy a pocket knife you would have no way of locating a hardware store except by seeing hardware displayed in a window.

"THROUGHOUT the day and every succeeding day every purchase you made would be a blind purchase. And with almost no exceptions, everything you bought would be of poor quality, for manufacturers would have no incentive to make a high quality article because you would have no way of knowing the maker, and hence no way of going back and becoming a repeat buyer. There would not be a single object to which you could point and say, 'I want that because I know the company which makes it and I believe that it will give me my money's worth.' There would be no such thing as the business faith which is stronger than a written guarantee. There would be no public goodwill which causes a man to lay down his money, confident that he will get full value in return.

"We would all be going around in a buyer's haze. We would have nothing to which we could pin our faith. We would have no confidence in anything except that which we made ourselves or which was made and sold by our intimate friends.

"Naturally, business would stagnate."

OF THE future, Ewald declared: "In the next decade America's production is going to reach undreamed-of heights. And we are going to see the use of advertising in direct proportion. Because advertising is the most economical way of getting that increase production consumed."

ADVERTISING has entered into our daily life more than we have ever stopped to analyze, has it not?

FORD'S ROAD FINALLY SOLD

Henry's Money and Heavy Traffic Change D. T. & I. Into Prosperous Line

WASHINGTON, June 27.—With the New York announcement that the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad has been sold to an investment house, there comes to termination one of the most engaging economic experiments ever embarked upon by Henry Ford.

The automobile man some six years ago purchased the Mosquito and Short Line in question, and by adequate finance and extensions, by furnishing it large traffic from the Ford plants, and by a possible application of new management methods—though this claim has met dispute—very quickly made it a prosperous line. That much was clear credit to the whole enterprise.

FORD'S MANAGEMENT

There was another side to the affair, though, less happy for some people interested. The Interstate Commerce Commission has always watched suspicoiusly the attempts to link small railroads with great industries by common ownerships, having quite large experience. As to the special transportation favors and advantages that the railroad owning manufacture plant may receive, Mr. Ford's road has been in trouble repeatedly with the government, the most recent case heading up in a Federal indictment charging that certain freight routing methods on the Ford line constituted law violation. Previously, the automobile man refused to keep his railroad books to suit the commission, and faced fines, while his attempt to rid himself of the annoyance of a small minority ownership in the road by a reorganization was also blocked by the commission.

With Ford road operating as a plant utility, trunk lines delivering to it or receiving from it freight could be induced to give an extra amount of valuable service, above the usual rail custom in transfers. A failure to meet the Ford railroad demands was generally held to cost the offending trunk line a lot of valuable Ford freight.

BERNET BALKS

J. Bernet, when he began the rise in the railroad field, which has taken him from president of the Nickel Plate through the Erie system to the top of the Chesapeake and Ohio, was one of the first to buck. He refused to give the Ford line any special favors, whether the Nickel Plate lost Ford freight or not.

At least one set of the special services required arose from Mr. Ford's determination that his railroad should not be run on Sunday.

For a while connecting lines were kept busy taking freight cars from the D. T. & I. up to midnight Saturday, and incidentally running them extra on their own lines in the early hours Sunday, so that the Ford road could observe the holiday completely.

The main and continuous source of the railroad argument on the D. T. & I., however, came out of the situation by which one carrier pays a daily rent of $1.50 for each foreign box car kept on its line during a full 24 hours. The Ford road for a long while was able to keep out of paying any but trivial sums on this account to other roads, while receiving full rentals on its own traveling cars, because connecting lines were induced to accept transfers at any and all hours, regardless of the expense of standing in readiness to do so.

ROLLED STEEL LACKS PROFIT

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 27.—In opening the annual convention this week at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., of the National Association of Flat Rolled Steel Manufacturers, Severn P. Ker, president of the Sharon Steel Hoop Co., referred to the lack of profits in the last five years. He pointed out that meager earnings accompanied record production, and were due to an inadequate price policy.

Steel makers in this district are encouraged by price developments of the past quarter. Flat rolled steel prices are on a firmer basis at present than at any time in the past 12 months, while second quarter, most of the low-priced business taken by the industry has been worked off the books.

So far as adherence to the market is concerned, much remains to be desired from the producing standpoint. It is the belief that profits will show substantial betterment when there is greater price uniformity.

Mergers of the past few years, bringing smaller producers into larger groups, have exerted a beneficial influence upon market conditions.

Goldman Sachs In Chicago Bank

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP.)—Goldman Sachs Trading Corporation, investment trust sponsored by Goldman, Sachs & Co., tonight announced purchase of a substantial block of capital shares of Foreman National Bank of Chicago. Waddill Catchings, president of the trading poration and a partner in Goldman, Sachs & Co., will become a member of the Foreman board.

The purchase marks the entry of Goldman, Sachs & Co. interests into the Chicago banking field.

Koppers Company Books Six Orders

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

DURING the past two months the Koppers Company has been awarded contracts for by-product coke equipment valued between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000. The installations will include 326 Becker type coke ovens and the necessary facilities for coal handling and the extraction of by-products.

A total of six installations will be made, of which four will be in steel mills.

The surprising feature of the volume of the company's recent bookings is the fact that a year or two ago officials privately expressed the opinion that the future volume would not be large, since by-product oven installations were approaching the saturation point. Since that time, however, new fields have been developed in coke and gas plants for public utilities and the prosperity of the steel companies has released new capital for improvements.

Jones & Laughlin to Build

THE largest of the new coke plants will be located close to the City of Pittsburgh. The Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation has ordered 81 Becker type ovens to be built at Aliquippa. Facilities for the extraction of benzol and for the handling of coal will also be constructed at the plant.

At South Chicago 45 ovens will be built for the Wisconsin Steel Company in addition to other accessories to the by-product plant. These ovens will be heated by blast furnace gas. The Koppers Company was the first organization to introduce this system to the United States.

By using the low quality blast furnace gas for heating, the entire output of coke oven gas is made available for other purposes. It can be used either for heating open hearth furnaces or it can be sold to public utility companies for industrial or domestic use.

Two Bethlehem Plants

THE Bethlehem Steel Company, largest independent producer, will build two Koppers coke plants. One order calls for 77 ovens at Johnstown, Pa., and the other for 61 at Sparrows Point, Md. Both of these orders include by-product extraction facilities.

The two utility installations will be for the Providence Gas Company which will build 25 Becker type ovens and the Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation which will construct 37 ovens.

The extent to which by-product coke plants have supplanted the wasteful bee hive ovens can be seen from the last coke production figures compiled by the Bureau of Mines.

In May 4,664,242 tons of by-product coke were made compared with only 597,400 tons of bee hive coke. Practically all of this development can be attributed to the Koppers Company, which has always been the dominant organization in the development of its field.

Utility Interests

IN RECENT years the Koppers Company has expanded its holdings in public utility companies so rapidly that it now seems likely to become more widely known as an operator of gas plants than as an engineering organization.

In addition to acquiring large investments in the stocks of utility systems, the Koppers Company is operating its own by-product plants throughout the country. Most of these work under contracts with utility systems which distribute the gas.

The perfection of the by-product coke industry with its highly technical engineering and manufacturing operations and the necessity for a well-developed sales system to satisfactorily market the many products is tending to make the production and the distribution of gas entirely distinct types of business.

The Koppers Company also has greatly expanded its holdings of coal lands so that a large share of its plants can be supplied with fuel from the company's own mines.

CANADA BONDS OFFERED

Dillon, Read & Co., as Managers of the group, including National City Company, Guaranty Company of New York, Bankers Company of New York, Bank of Montreal, Canadian Bank of Commerce, The Royal Bank of Canada, Dominion Securities Corporation, Wood, Gundy and Company, Inc., and A. E. Ames and Co., Ltd., announce the sale of $40,000,000 Canadian National Railway Company forty year 5 per cent Guaranteed Gold Bonds which were offered by them on June 18th.

The group are offering all or any part of an additional $20,000,000 at the same price of 99¾ and interest as the first loan. These bonds, it will be recalled, are unconditionally guaranteed by the Canadian Government with principal and interest, payable in New York in United States gold coin, in Canada in Canadian currency and in London in pounds sterling.

The successful distribution of the $40,000,000 of bonds included orders from all over the United States and Canada and abroad.

Connellsville Coke Production Lower

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., June 27, (INS)—Production of coke in this district declined 8,260 tons during the week ending June 22, according to the statistical summary made public today.

The total production last week was 102,190, compared with 110,450 the previous week. Blowing out of 408 ovens at four plants, together with one and two lay-off days at several others accounted for the slump, officials explained. It was the greatest drop since April 6.

Production for the corresponding week in 1928 was 38,940 tons.

Prices for the spot product were reported unchanged.

Bank of England.

LONDON, June 27.—(AP.)—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes in pounds: Total reserve decreased 5,723,000; circulation increased 2,429,000; bullion decreased 3,294,000; other securities increased 17,872,000; public deposits increased 3,451,000; other deposits increased 11,788,000; notes reserve decreased 5,822,000; government securities increased 3,150,000.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability is 44.79 per cent, compared with 55.88 last week.

Rate of discount, 5½ per cent.

Bank of France.

PARIS, June 27.—(AP.)—The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes in francs: Gold increased 7,000,000; sight balances abroad decreased 185,000,000; bills discounted at home increased 8,000,000; bills bought abroad increased 1,000,000; advances decreased 60,000,000; circulation decreased 170,000,000; current accounts increased 184,000,000.

Rate of discount, 3½ per cent.

BUSINESS IS FIRM

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The Federal Reserve Board May summary of business and financial conditions states industrial production and distribution of commodities continued at a high rate and that wholesale commodity prices declined further during the month, but more recently showed some advance.

Bank credit volume outstanding in the country as of June 8 is just about the same that it was when the board began its enterprise of stricting collateral loans.

"The total loans and investments of member banks in leading cities which were at a low point for the year in May, increased considerably during the subsequent three weeks and on June 19 were about $250,000,000 larger than a year ago," the board review said.

"The recent increase reflected a large growth in the volume of loans on securities, which had declined during the preceding two months, and a further growth in loans chiefly for commercial and agricultural purposes."

There is no language in the review which throws light on what the board's opinion of the current increase may be. This is the regular monthly document which served as a vehicle early this year for warnings of the impending purpose to cut the collateral loans down.

Radio Not Dealing For Fox, Paramount

NEW YORK, June 27. — Reports that negotiations were under way for an affiliation of Fox and Paramount interests with Radio Corporation of America have been denied by James G. Harbord, president, and David Sarnoff, executive vice president, of Radio. Both said that the Radio Corporation was not in negotiations with any motion picture company.

Big Premium Paid On Franklin Crude

OIL CITY, Pa., June 27.—(AP.)—Franklin heavy crude oil now is being sold by the producers at $4.75 a barrel, a premium of 75 cents over Pennsylvania grade crude oil in the National Transit Company lines.

Carnegie Steel Gets Rail Order

The Carnegie Steel Company has received an order for 1,500 tons of 110-pound rails from the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad for August delivery.

Only One Month's Gas Supply On Hand

NEW YORK, June 27.—Gasoline stocks in the United States totaled 3,125,257 barrels for the week ended June 22, or only about a month's supply at the present rate of consumption, according to the American Petroleum Institute's first weekly refinery report on crude oil runs to stills, gasoline stocks and gas and fuel stocks.

Aircraft Under Pressure on Failure to Enter Wright Merger.

DISAPPOINTED selling was back of the sharp initial break in United Aircraft. Evidently a substantial part of the recent buying in that popular favorite had been based on the expectation that it would be included in the Curtiss-Wright consolidation. The new company as announced, however, included the Wright and Curtiss units and several other smaller organizations in the field, but made no mention of United. The stock broke 9 points in the initial sale of 8,000 shares which evidently marked the closing out of a speculative line. It rallied sharply thereafter, but subsequently settled back close to the early low.

Friday and Saturday will provide holders with the last opportunity to sell their American Telephone and Telegraph "rights" in the regular way. Of course those whose intention it is to exercise their "right" to subscribe for the convertible 4½ per cent debentures, will have until the close of business on Monday, July 1, to forward their subscriptions to the company's offices. To aid stockholders, it has been arranged through the Bell Telephone Securities Company, to make practically all the Bell system business offices throughout the country available for the filing of such subscriptions. The bonds, offered at $100, are now selling around $133. It has been figured that if the same proportion of 'rights" are allowed to expire unexercised as happened in 1928, when four-tenths of one-per cent were allowed to lapse, it would mean in this instance a loss of about $250,000 to the holders.

THE stock of the new Continental Oil Company, formed as a merger of old Continental Oil, of Maine, and the Marland Oil Company, struck a snag on its first day out on the stock exchange. Traders apparently confused this stock with old Continental Oil on the curb, anr as a result the stock exchange decided to suspend trading in the new issue until the situation could be straightened out. The stock listed on the "big board" is that of the Delaware Company organized as a consolidation of the two companies mentioned above. Between the opening and midday when trading was suspended the stock had bounded up from the initial price of 20½ to 29.

Though the weekly loan report may carry greater weight as a market factor tomorrow as time for the publication of the figures draws near, little attention was being given that matter today. The Street is pretty well prepared for another substantial increase, basing its calculations on the sharp rise in stock values during the period and the realization that a good deal more stock was taken up on subscription "rights" during the week. It is not generally assumed, however, that the increase will approach the $136,000,000 increase reported a week ago, unless of course, that statement did not reflect fully the exercise of rights expiring in that period.

IN quarters bullish on New Haven that road's report for last month was being awaited with a good deal of confidence. For the first four months New Haven reported an increase of about $1,000,000 in gross over the same period last year, with net operating income, reflecting economies put into force, showing a gain of $2,200,000. The forthcoming statement is expected to show this trend of improvement maintained. Report today had it that the Pennsylvania, which owns a small block of New Haven, has recently been adding to its holdings, something which it might be moved to do now through the Pennroad Company. Presently the two roads are joint owners of the New York connecting railroads.

HUGE SURPLUS, SAYS MELLON

WASHINGTON, June 27. — Secretary Mellon said he believed Treasury surplus would be somewhere between $160,000,000 and $170,000,000 with elimination of $45,000,000 for railway mail back pay.

He said the French ambassador had not called on him in regard to postponement of date of payment of $40,000,000 war supply debt, due from France August 1.

He said President Hoover is justified in considering it to be the wish of Congress that maturity date for payment be postponed as provided in a resoluton passed by both houses, although the resolution was not signed by Speaker Longworth, it is believed the President will use his own discretion. Secretary Mellon said if France ratifies the Mellon-Berenger agreement for payment of the French $4,000,000,000 debt before August 1, payment of war supply debt would not be pressed. If France does not ratify agreement it would naturally follow that payment of war supply debt would be expected on that date.

Goldsborough division passenger agent, both located in Pittsburgh.

Lower Net Seen for Continental Motors

DETROIT, June 27.—While forthcoming report of Continental Motors Corp. for six months ended April 30, 1929, will show that company enjoyed a large volume of business during the period, earnings are expected to reflect serious unavoidable difficulties encountered during the second fiscal quarter, normally company's busiest period.

Interruptions in company's foundry supply sources, just when demand was greatest, entailed frequent costly overtime operations which cut heavily into earnings. As a result Continental's earnings for first half of its fiscal year are expected to be somewhat under a year ago, and are estimated at slightly under $600,000 after all charges and taxes, equal to about 27 cents a share earned on 2,113,000 shares of capital stock.

A. G. W. I. Reports Four Months Gain

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP.)—Net income of the Atlantic Gulf and West Indies Steamship Lines for the four months ended April 30, amounted to $1,665,190, equal to $7.20 a share on the 199,512 shares of common stock, compared with $781,951, or $2.77 a share during the same period last year.

EMPLOYMENT AT PEAK LEVEL

Wages Are Satisfactory, While Output Is at High Rate Per Man

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP.)—Over the United States as a whole, industrial employment at present is probably close to the peak levels, though wage rates have been somewhat higher at brief periods in the past.

This is the conclusion of Ethelbert Stewart, federal commissioner of labor statistics, based on continuous survey work his organization maintains on the industrial situation.

"Industrial enterprises apparently have about as many workers on the payroll on the average as they have ever had," the commissioner said. "The output per man employed, of course, is greater than ever before in industrial history. There are some less satisfactory wage situations, and some lines of industry with smaller working forces than have been reported in previous years."

NO EXACT FACTS

Until the 1930 census is taken, the United States will continue to be one of the few important nations in the world which has little if any exact information on the general state of employment. Commissioner Stewart's estimates now depend on estimates made as to general conditions from a selected list of industrial establishments which are so scattered over the country as to represent a cross section, but he has hopes that when the census completes the investigation of employment, ordered by Congress to be taken next year for the first time, a national record will be built up in the field far more perfect than any developed abroad.

"These European unemployment counts represent only the minimum number of persons out of work," he explained. "The census will probably enable us to say pretty exactly how many Americans are unemployed, assuming that an unemployed person is one ordinarily accustomed to employment who desires work and is unable to get it. This will be a very different showing than that made by Germany and Great Britain, for in those countries the unemployment totals made public account only for the number of individuals receiving unemployment insurance payments. A worker can only come under the insurance scheme by holding a job in an industry for a stated period of time, and by paying unemployment insurance premiums. These requirements very strictly limit the character and number of persons who can be officially recognized as unemployed. Our anticipated census count will be a much more accurate and usable record of the situation."

COIN MACHINE EXPORTS UP

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Switzerland is one of the important markets in Europe for commodity vending machines of American manufacture, it is stated by the Department of Commerce in a review just issued of the export trade in this device. Canada is stated to be the second largest market.

The full text of the statement proceeds:

Commodity vending machines are most popular in Switzerland, machines being installed mainly on railroad platforms, selling confectionery, matches, cigarets, and postal cards to commuting workers and tourists. Shipments to other countries in Europe were valued at only $5,355, which included small exports to the Netherlands, Norway, Irish Free State, Denmark, Greece, Spain, Austria and Italy.

Canada was the second largest market in the world for coin-operated machines of all types, exports to that country being valued at $25,652 during the first quarter. Commodity vending machines had the largest sale, 491 machines, valued at $14,884, being absorbed by the Canadian market, as compared with 395 machines, valued at $9,618, of the service and amusement machine group.

Latin America is the third largest market area, with shipments valued at $20,716 destined for 13 of the countries south of the Rio Grande. Cuba ranked first among the Latin American countries and third in the world as a market for coin-operated machines.

Stewart Warner Profit Higher

CHICAGO, June 27.—Stewart-Warner Corporation's second quarter net profit will show a nice increase over the like 1928 period, according to C. B. Smith, president.

NO. 439.
AN ORDINANCE—Granting unto the H. J. Heinz Company, its successors and assigns, the right to construct, maintain and use 23 concrete piers extending into Carpenter way, a maximum of 4' from building line at a minimum depth of 8' 9" below grade of way, for the purpose of erecting a proposed building on the property of the H. J. Heinz Company, Twenty-third Ward, Pittsburgh, Pa.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That the H. J. Heinz Company, its successors and assigns are hereby given the right and authority at its own cost and expense to construct, maintain and use 23 concrete piers extending into Carpenter way, a maximum of 4' from building line at a minimum depth of 8' 9" below grade of way, for the purpose of erecting a proposed building, property of the H. J. Heinz Company, Twenty-third Ward, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The said grant shall be constructed in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance and in accordance with plan hereto attached and identified as Accession No. B-347, Folder "B," in the files of the Division of Public Utilities, Bureau of Highways and Sewers, Department of Public Works, entitled, "Proposed extension of concrete piers into Carpenter way for a proposed building on the property of the H. J. Heinz Company, Twenty-third Ward, Pittsburgh, Pa."

SECTION 2. The said company, prior to the construction of said piers, shall submit to the Director of the Department of Public Works a complete set of plans showing location and all details for the construction of said piers, and the said plans shall be subject to the approval and supervision of the Director of the Department of Public Works.

SECTION 3. The rights and privileges herein granted shall be subject and subordinate to the rights of the City of Pittsburgh and its powers over City streets, and to the ordinances of the City of Pittsburgh relating thereto and to the provisions of any general ordinance which may hereafter be passed relating to the construction, maintenance and use of City streets and compensation for same.

SECTION 4. The said grantee shall bear the full cost and expense of the repaving and repair of sidewalks and street pavement damaged, repair of sewers, water lines and other surface and sub-surface structures which may be in any way damaged or disturbed by reason of the maintenance and use of the said sidewalks and streets. All of the said work shall be done in the manner and at such times as the Director may order, and shall be subject to his approval and supervision.

SECTION 5. The rights and privileges granted by this ordinance are granted upon the express condition that the City of Pittsburgh, without liability, reserves the right to cause the removal of the said piers, upon giving six (6) months' notice through the proper offices pursuant to resolution or ordinance of Council to the said H. J. Heinz Company, its successors and assigns, to that effect; and that the said grantee shall, when so notified, at the expiration of the said six months, forthwith, remove the said piers and replace the sidewalks and streets to their original condition, at its own cost and expense.

SECTION 6. The said grantee shall assume any liability of the City of Pittsburgh for damages to persons or property, including the streets and sub-surface structures therein, by reason of the construction, maintenance and use of concrete piers in said sidewalks and streets and it is a condition of his grant that the City of Pittsburgh assumes no liability to either persons or property on account of his grant.

SECTION 7. The foregoing rights and privileges are granted subject to the following condition, to-wit: This ordinance shall become null and void unless within thirty (30) days after its passage and approval, the H. J. Heinz Company shall file with the City Controller its certificate of acceptance of the provisions thereof, said certificate to be executed by the President and Secretary of the Company, with its corporate seal attached.

SECTION 8. That any Ordinance or part of Ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

BUGS BAER Says

Picking Berries in the Knuckle Orchard.

Bugs Baer

PAOLINO and Schmeling present the amazing spectacle of two husky Europeans smacking each other around for what may prove to be the championship of America.

America has educated Europe in the manly art of selfish-defense.

Personally, we don't like our leather business in the rough.

But, the lessons you learn in boxing will stand you in good stead in later years.

We once boxed as an amateur in the Skuylkill Navy over in Philadelphia. But we had a nose that had learned the art of picking off punches in mid-air.

The first prize for these amateur tournaments was a watch. After the first punch we decided we didn't need a watch, as we could tell time by the stars.

Fifteen years after that, we were congratulated for rushing into a burning building and saving an old man who was much hampered by his rescuer.

The fire chief remarked, "That was great. How did you do it?"

"Easy," we replied, "the air is always cooler and fresher near the floor.

"Where did you learn that?" asked the chief.

"In the ring," we said.

That's a lesson we never forgot. Whether it is a fire or a fight, the air is always better near the floor.

There may be a chance of either Paolino or Schmeling discovering the same thing tonight. If that happens, we advise them to follow the famous example set by Mr. Tunney in Chicago.

Take advantage of every minute you are on the canvas.

Both Schmeling and Paolino are likeable young thumpers, and there will be no interference in their transplanted war.

Outside of what they do to each other they will be just as safe as a bottle of liquor in an embassy.

We would not like to fight either one. A much healthier occupation would be going to sea on a bass fiddle.

We trust that this fight will be the means of bringing either Tunney or Dempsey back into the scared circle. America taught Europe how to use his fists.

True that England taught America the manly art of claiming fouls, but England is now rocking on its heels with Bombardier Wells and other lullaby heavyweights.

Championships are an industry which must be controlled by America. Rather than see the pennant go to Spain or Germany, we will get down the old boxing shoes, put them on and run until they are worn out.

Enlarged Welfare Fund Plans for 1930 Drive

The Community Chest idea grows. Preparations already are being made for the second annual solicitation for the Welfare Fund. With the last campaign, in which the budget of $965,000 for the operation of 25 charitable organizations this year was oversubscibed, Pittsburgh began its first experience with the "community chest" plan. Not all philanthropies were members of the Welfare Fund, but the operation of the Fund has been so successful in its first year that additional humanitarian agencies have signified their intention of becoming members and participate in the budget to be raised for 1930.

A larger total amount, therefore, will be necessary. Hence extensive plans are being made for the Welfare Fund's second drive, which is to be held November 12 to 22.

It is the hope that eventually all philanthropies will become members of the Fund, which appears to be the ideal way of financing voluntary charities. It provides economy of effort and does away with duplication of solicitation. The public, of course, does not tire of well-doing, but it is grateful for opportunity to do its giving once and be done with it for a year. The Welfare Fund will be able to present that opportunity when its membership embraces all organized charities.

Injustices of Tariff Bill Pointed Out by Experts

More than 90 per cent of the newspaper comment on the Hawley tariff bill, as the Republican party jammed it through the House, is opposed to the general revision of the tariff upward for which that measure provides.

And the more the schedules of the Hawley bill are subject to impartial and scientific examination, the greater appears to be the justification of this overwhelming protest from the press of the country.

Take, for example, the statistical study of the rates of the Hawley bill and their effect on commodities which a force of experts in agricultural economics at the University of Wisconsin is making. It was undertaken at the request of a prominent manufacturer of the Middle West. It is directed by Profs. John R. Commons, B. H. Hibbard and Selig Perlman, of the economics department of the university.

These distinguished and thoroughly disinterested experts declare that the farmers of this country are "giving something for nothing" in the tariff trading by which the Hawley bill was logrolled through the Republican House.

These experts base their charge upon their belief that "the greatest and most urgent need of industry, as well as of the consumer, is a re-establishment of general healthy prosperity."

In their judgment this can only be brought about by relieving industry of unjust and unreasonable taxation under the name of protection.

Their study of the Hawley bill forces them to the conclusion that only a few of its increases on agricultural products would confer any benefit upon the farmers and that many of its increases on other products "will materially aggravate the distress from which farmers now suffer."

These Wisconsin experts corroborate the testimony of the press and leaders of farm organizations all over the country. This testimony is to the effect that in the Republican party's tariff bill as it now stands, for every ounce of protection for anybody there is a pound of extortion for nearly everybody.

It was a patriotic service which that Middle West manufacturer rendered when he called upon the University of Wisconsin to make this inquiry. And it is a no less patriotic task which the economists of that great institution of learning are reforming by turning the searchlight of the truth upon the economic monstrosity which the Republican party has produced in the proposed tariff bill now before the Senate.

What the economists of the University of Wisconsin are doing to expose the inconsistencies and injustices of the Hawley tariff bill THEIR FELLOW ECONOMISTS IN OTHER UNIVERSITIES NORTH, EAST, SOUTH, AND WEST OUGHT TO BE ENCOURAGED TO DO.

Justice to the consumer demands that the whole truth about the Hawley tariff bill be given to the public, BECAUSE IT IS THE CONSUMER WHO IS ULTIMATELY COMPELLED TO PAY, OUT OF HIS OWN POCKET, THE INCREASE IN TAXATION WHICH THAT UNJUST MEASURE WOULD IMPOSE.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

I AM going to put this thing up to you.

It is a very old problem, but it has become acute with woman's advent in business life—with women coming into competition and inevitable conflict with men.

HOW SHALL WOMEN MEET THAT CONFLICT AND COMPETITION? HOW SHALL THEY PLAY THE GAME?

Shall they play it as men play it, fighting straight from the shoulder, taking their hard knocks gamely, bearing the blame when it's theirs?

Or shall they use women's wiles, dodging responsibility and blame, scheming, wheedling, fibbing, flattering, weeping, whining their way through situations?

Theoretically, you'd say it would pay them better to play the game square. But I wonder—

I am going to tell you about two friends of mine—both successful business women. They are equally intelligent—equally good-looking and attractive.

Bertha works as hard as any two men. She's a big woman—big in spirit as well as body. She is very fair and frank. She has a contempt for all pussyfooting. She puts her cards on the table and expects the other fellow to do the same. She never uses her femininity as a shield—never tries any maneuver a man might not try.

Stella, my other friend, is also clever, but in an entirely different way. Stella has a perfectly good brain, but she believes it's fatal "for a woman to show she's smart." So she deliberately exploits her femininity. She flatters, flirts and fibs her way to success. She takes endless unfair advantage because she is a woman. She is constantly setting one executive against another by her connivings.

Both of these women are bright—both of them get the goods—which one do you think is the more popular and successful?

"Why, the square one, of course," you say. "That's the way a woman should act when she goes into the business world—not take advantage because of her sex—be a straight shooter—"

Yes, indeedy, that's a noble theory, but here's the joker—

ALL THE MEN LIKE AND RESPECT BERTHA, BUT WHEN IT COMES TO CO-OPERATION, STELLA GETS IT ALL!

They know she's tricky and a conscienceless little flirt, yet, without an exception, they jump when she cracks the whip. Stella gets 10 times as much action by using "woman's wiles" as Bertha does with her fairness and frankness.

Do you approve of that? Of course, you don't. Neither do I. But there you are. With all our big talk about equality, that's the Inside Dope on business relationship between men and women in the year 1929. Do you think we'll ever have any other relationship? I wonder.

Bible Passages

Apostles Commissioned

(St. Matthew 10; 1-15)

AND when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease.

Now the names of the twelve apostles are these; The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother.

Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the publican; James the son of Alphaeus, and Lebbaeus, whose surname was Thaddaeus;

Simon the Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not.

But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand.

Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give.

Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses,

Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves: for the workman is worthy of his meat.

And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, enquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence.

And when ye come into an house, salute it.

And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.

And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet.

Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city.

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS.

AN old fellow lives in a hut down on the Mexican border, on the New Mexican side. He is a kind of a hermit, and he paints a little. Once in a while he sells a picture to some traveler, and that way he keeps the wolf from the door. But he don't live any too high.

There was two American officers riding along the border, looking for the crown jewels, and they were awfully hungry by the time they got to the little old man's hut. He invited them in and gave them fresh water and a hunk of meat apiece.

The Captain took a bit of the meat.

"I'm awfully hungry," he says. "What kind of meat is this?"

"That's pheasant meat," says the old hermit.

"Uh-huh," says the lieutenant. "You call it pheasant, do you?"

"Sure, that pheasant, all right."

The officers didn't say any more until they were ready to go, but they gulped down the meat.

Then the Captain says, "Well, thanks a lot, neighbor, for the—what kind of meat did you say?"

"Pheasant,"

"Oh, yeah! And Joe, it's time for us to be mounting our pheasants and riding on. Goodby."

PEANUT BUTTER WILL DO

CULTIVATE your grocer's friendship; he may invent a new SALAD DRESSING or discover a different dessert and become ANOTHER super-millionaire.

An ex-delicatessen dealer, the fame of whose mayonnaise gradually spread the continent, recently sold his formula and good will, for so much money that Washington will erect at least one additional federal building with taxes from the transaction.

And the price paid for control of a company handling jelly powders exclusively would furnish the U. S. Navy with SEVERAL MORE battle cruisers.

Substitute coffee and a popular breakfast specialty so enriched the Post family that the income therefrom is gobbling banks, private estates, yachts and assorted factories at a rate that indicates its peerage with the great railroad and oil fortunes of the country.

The yeast cake of your boyhood has gathered so many pennies since the first Fleishmann conceived the idea of compressing breadrising into a square tablet—and its rival, the baking powder, has so prospered, that J. P. Morgan & Co. have turned food-minded and launched a $430,000,000 corporation to consolidate just three concerns in this ONE field.

THEN, in 24 hours, expands its capital to $830,000,000 merely to capture a SINGLE coffee and spice unit.

Old Meyer Guggenheim struck his first pay streak when "Victoria," a chicory product, provided means to establish his sons successively in wholesale embroideries, and possession of the copper mines that Anaconda and Hecla haven't grabbed.

Don't lose grandmother's dill pickle recipe; it may YET land you at Palm Beach and on a private car.

Again paraphrasing Foot, the Dublin snuffist, look at the Heinz pier and "see what INDIA RELISH done."

THE mixture of malt and milk forever settled the Horlick heirs on Easy street, and the novelty that Asa Candler introduced at his obscure soda fountain contained more gold than Sutter's Creek.

Incidental dividends of Bromo-Seltzer include hotels, emperor's ransoms and a Vanderbilt alliance.

The Campbell soup can is worth its weight in radium, and the touch of Midas descended on J. B. Reynolds, the day he took a little of THIS and THAT tobacco and blended the first Camel cigaret.

Opportunity's second name is NICKELS and DIMES.

THE nimble sixpence may not earn impressive profits PER JUMP, but it skips from pocket to till SO OFTEN that its collective yield makes a piker of dollars which snobbishly specialize in sluggish and EXPENSIVE merchandise.

Chicago's proudest architectural boast rises from a foundation of chewing gum, and small change has done as illustrious a job for Palmolive Headquarters as for the Woolworth Tower.

Give the public what it WANTS and found a COMMERCIAL dynasty. Emerson suggested RAT TRAPS, but PEANUT BUTTER will do just as well.

Don't worry about the silver spoon you DIDN'T get, but figure how to fill the OTHER fellow's—evolve a selling plan, hire an advertising agent and join the NOBOB CLUB TOO.

COSMIC YARDSTICKS

By Archibald Henderson

NOT long ago, in his "Outline of History," H. G. Wells made this remarkable statement: "When the intellectual history of this time comes to be written, nothing, I think, will stand out more strikingly than the empty gulf in quality between the superb and richly fruitful scientific investigations that are going on, and the general thought of other educated sections of the community. I do not mean that scientific men are as a whole, a class of supermen, dealing with and thinking about everything in a way altogether better than the common run of humanity, but in their field they think and work with an intensity, an integrity, a breadth, boldness, patience, thoroughness and faithfulness—excepting only a few artists—which put their work out of all comparison with any other human activity. In these particular directions the human mind has achieved a new and higher quality and gesture, a veracity, a self-detachment and self-abregating vigor of criticism that tend to spread out—and must ultimately spread out to every other human affair."

It is true that today, as often in the past, science through its rotaries, has displayed great exhibitions of the workings of the creative imagination. Einstein's theory of relativity, Behr's theory of the atom, Planck's quantum theory, Chamberlin and Moulton's planetesimal theory of the cosmos all afford convincing evidence of magnificent flight of human imagination into uncharted areas of nature. But at bottom, all these imaginative theories ultimately must rest upon solid ground. That solid ground is the principle of measurement. Einstein's theories were put to three crucial tests, all of which depended upon measurements so delicate to perform and minute in value as almost to baffle human credulity. The measurement of the deviation of a light ray near the limb of the sun is still being made by astronomers, who at the cost of tens of thousands of dollars transport a costly and intricate apparatus to remote places of the earth, to study eclipses of the sun. The shift of the spectral ray toward the red end of the spectrum, distinguishing between light from a celestial and light from a terrestrial source, had to be measured in the smallest unit, known as the Augstroem unit. The new study of the atom rested upon the almost incredibly delicate measurement of the size of the electron, a task magnificently accomplished by Millikan. The utility and significance of the kuantum theory rests upon the employment of a measured constant h, known as the quantum constant. Behr's theory rests upon the computation of innumerable orbits which the electrons describe inside the atoms of the various known elements of which matter is composed. Everything depends upon the way in which this yardstick is used.

When we consider the great contributions of astronomy in recent years, we are confronted with magnitudes which run out to the other end of the scale. We pass from the minute to the immense, from the infinitesimal to the infinite. We are quite at home so long as we remain on the earth, and are able to get along nicely with inches, feet and yards. But the moment we attempt to establish the scale of the sidereal universe, our difficulties begin to accumulate. If we photograph the moon with a 100-inch reflector, we find that it is possible to measure the lunar scene by means of a scale of 100 miles. When we attempt to measure the distance from the sun to its attendant planets, we find ourselves obliged to use a unit which is 12,000 times the diameter of the earth itself. This is the unit known as the astronomical unit. While this unit of 93,000,000 miles suffices to measure the distances of comets and planets, it proves inadequate and cumbersome when we come to measure the distances from star to star. For these may be of the order of a thousand million astronomical units.

So finally we accustom ourselves to the use of the greatest of cosmic yardsticks, the light-year. The distance light travels in a year is something less than 6,000,000 miles. In these units, the distance from the earth to the sun is eight light minutes. The range of astronomical measurement runs from one-ten-thousandth of an inch to 100,000 light-years. All science rests upon such measurements, upon the use of yardsticks, incredibly minute, incredibly large.

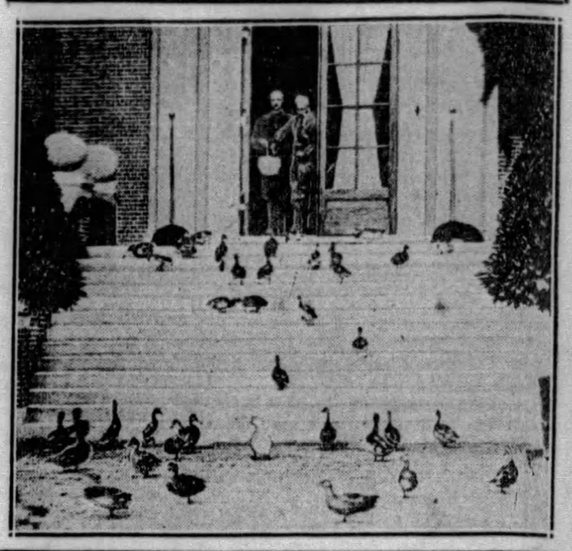
Safer, Less Harmful

Throwing Grain to Ducks as Against Throwing Youth to Cannon.



THE EX-KAISER AT DOORN FEEDS HIS DUCKS

This picture of peace and improvement will cause many to meditate. Here William Hohenzollern, once Kaiser, calling himself "All Highest," plays the milder, less harmful role of citizen, standing at the door of his residence in Holland, a servant standing respectfully back of him, holds a basketful of grain or bread crumbs.

Slowly in small handfuls, the man that once sought to rule the world and put his six sons on six different thrones, is now content to feed 25 or 30 ducks.

They look up to him as the "All Highest," just as his army officers used to do. And the difference in intelligence between the ducks and the army officers perhaps isn't so very great. A man that would call the inheritor of a title "All Highest" doesn't know much more than ducks that would call a man "All Highest" because he distributed grain.

You, who are thoughtful and philosophical, will say to yourself, "How much better that the Kaiser should throw bread crumbs to the ducks, instead of throwing human beings to the cannon and the trenches!"

However, let us remember also that it was not all HIS fault.

Other nations had great armies, and were waiting to use them. Merchants in other countries wanted the world's markets and were jealous of the extraordinary efficiency of German manufacturers.

Unfortunately those Germans, men of highest intelligence, and scientific attainments, allowed themselves to be led and sent, wherever the whim of a Kaiser might send them.

That cost the lives of many. It also established the German Republic, which is well worth all the sacrifice.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, June 27.—The New Yorker does not need such a gaudy pretense as a passport to explore restaurants of the world. They are right at his doorstep. The gastronomic explorer has a hundred or more out of the way by paths which offer him as many gustatory diversions.

He may eat in all languages including the Scandinavian. They offer their native dishes as well as native smells and brigandage. Perhaps the best known French cafes are the Brevoort and Lafayette, with practically the same menus to be found at Foyot's or the Voisin.

In all there are probably 300 real French restaurants. Next in number are the Italian, where everything from minestrone soup at Mineta's in Mulberry street to zabbiogne at Pietro's in the Bronx is procurable. And at many there is likely a dusty little bottle of chianti properly tilted in the basket.

German cooking has had a big revival in the past two years. The famous Luchow's on Fourteenth street, where sauerbraten mit kartoffelkiossen is always billed, is prospering with old-time flourish. And Eighty-sixth street has its block of braustubels with pig's knuckles and apple strudel. Hoboken, too, is nearby.

The Russian cafes are almost all in dim lit cellars, and those that do not offer vodka—and most do—offer Russian kretchma and shashlick caucaskey and naturally heavy bortsch soup. They are popular with the refugees but also welcome the average diner out.

The Far East is represented by Skiaki. The Bamboo Forest, The Ceylon India Inn and a dozen other fiery dishes—including the red hot Singhalese pepper steak. All are prepared on glowing charcoals before your eyes. Darkest Africa in Harlem has its culinary yam and fried catfish thrills, too.

Brazilian cafes with eggs malaguena, Roumanian with goulash concoctions, Mexican with chili, Hungarian with pot roasts and stuffed red cabbage and Ye Olde English inns with roast beef and Yorkshire pudding are scattered about. So also are Chinese and Japanese eateries. Draw up a chair!

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

WHAT sort of a reputation are you establishing?

Do you want to be known for just what you are?

Probably not.

You want to be considered bigger than you know yourself to be.

So you make an effort to create an impression up to your ideal.

You are not willing to sacrifice certain pleasures to be your ideal.

You work so hard to create the place for yourself that you covet that you become insincere, since you practice self restraint only when you think it will be noticed.

You are bound to make some slip somewhere or some time that will show you for what you are.

Shorn of your veneer what will your position be then?

Work harder to be, not to seem.

Then you are building something worthwhile.

Then there is real improvement and advancement.

The deception you practice often disgusts you with life.

But it is because your conception of life is wrong. Be what you seem to be.

This effort will raise your own estimation of yourself.
